Defy Police In Weekend Of Disorder

Madison Students Support Hippies

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Hundreds of University of Wisconsin students erected flaming street barricades early today in sympathy with hippies whose attempts to hold a block dance were smashed by police using clubs and irritant gas.

The students poured out of dormitories and fraternity houses following two nights of battle between the hippies and the police and surged into the business area, where for several hours they defied efforts to disperse them.

More than 1,000 young persons were involved before scattered disorders subsided. The throngs also included hippies and scores of their fellow student residents of an off-campus neighborhood known as the Mifflin Street hippie haven.

The weekend of disorder resulted in about 80 arrests. Two of those detained were city aldermen, Paul Soglin and Eugene Parks. Soglin, 24, accused the police of snatching off his long hair before he was freed on bond.

Considers Curfew

Soglin, a university student known as "the hippie alderman," said he was arrested when he tried to intervene between the police and hippies.

Nearly two hours after midnight, Mayor William Dyke, who toured the troubled areas in a police car, described the city of 175,000 as relatively quiet. But he said he would have to consider ordering a curfew to try to head off any further outbreaks.

28 Killed On State Highways

By The Associated Press

The weekend was the bloodiest so far this year in Michigan traffic.

Twenty-eight persons were killed, scores more hurt. The year's highest previous weekend death toll was 21 in early March.

Five persons died in one smashup, three in another and three pedestrians were run down and killed by a car which police said apparently was drag racing on a highway.

Three young Detroiters died Sunday night when their car plowed into a guard rail on I 75 and then broke apart on the East Side of Detroit.

Five died in a head-on collision Sunday outside Cass City and three persons were fatally injured when struck by a car which authorities said apparently was drag racing Saturday night outside Benton Harbor.

A Watervliet man, Alvin Leverson, 24, was charged with negligent homicide in the deaths of the three pedestrians.

The Associated Press count of weekend fatalities began at 6 p.m. Friday and ended Sunday midnight.

Dying in the Fisher Expressway tragedy in Detroit were Daniel Graham, 17; Gary Green, 16, and Angelo Gonzalez, 16, all of Detroit. Police said their car broke into two pieces after hitting the guard rail.

Fortas Denies Helping Wolfson

WASHINGTON (AP) — Justice Abe Fortas received a $20,000 fee from the family of industrialist Louis E. Wolfson three months after he was seated on the Supreme Court and did not return the money until 11 months later, according to Life magazine.

Fortas confirmed Sunday that he was offered and considered a fee but flatly denied that he accepted or that he stepped in to help Wolfson, a former client who went to jail last month on a federal securities law conviction.

The justice said he returned the fee, "tendered" in 1966, "with my thanks." His statement, issued at the court after he had read an advance copy of the Life article, did not say how large the fee was or when he returned it.

Life's account was that the Wolfson Family Foundation, a tax-free charitable organization set up by Fortas and his brothers, paid Wolfson $20,000 in January 1966, three months after he was seated on the court.

Calumet Miners Reject Contract Offer By UOP

'Keep Faith,' Rouman Asks:

Milliken's Plan For Recreation Bond Split Assailed By MUCC

By CLINT DUNATHAN

Governor William Milliken's advocacy of more Michigan recreation bond money to help cure the ills of the inner city is meeting head-on opposition throughout the state.

Last November the people of Michigan approved a $100 million recreation bond issue on the basis of a 70-30 split, with 70 per cent going for state-wide recreation funding and 30 to urban communities.

Now Gov. Milliken (who was lieutenant governor at the time of the bond issue) is backing a bill which would cut the state-wide recreation funding to $40 million and would send most of the $100 million into metropolitan areas.

Voices protesting the Governor's plan have been heard at four hearings conducted by the House and Senate conservation committees. The third hearing was in Escanaba Saturday and the final one is in Grand Rapids today.

Support Pledged

One of the loudest and most powerful protests is coming from James L. Rouman and the Michigan United Conservation Clubs of which he is executive director.

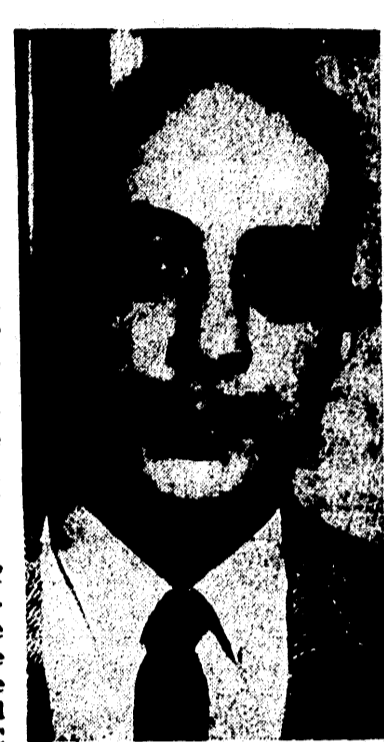

He called upon the legislature to "keep faith with the electorate so the people will be able to vote future bonding proposals without fear that their wishes as expressed by their ballots may not be honored."

He said the issue is not whether there should be more swimming pools and parks and tennis courts in the urban communities, but rather assurance of "future means to provide clean water and quality recreation which this state so desperately needs."

Keep Promises

Rouman, who is a native of Gladstone and coached in Escanaba Public Schools before becoming the MUCC executive director, pledged that if the legislature holds to the original allocation of 70-30, the MUCC will support a bond issue for additional funds for urban recreation.

Last November at the time the recreation fund bond issue was approved there was general acceptance that the 70-30 formula would be followed.

James L. Rouman

Since then Detroit Mayor Cavanagh has asked that this be changed to 80-20—80 for big cities and 20 for state-wide recreation; and Gov. Milliken is supporting a distribution weighted toward urban areas.

In Grand Rapids today, Rouman told the House and Senate recreation committees:

"The situation can be summarized as follows: The Governor (Gov. George Romney) proposed the 70-30 program, the legislature put it on the ballot, the Governor's Citizens' Committee helped sell it, and the people bought it."

"Now the people expect their government to honor their vote. If Michigan voters cannot trust their government to keep its pre-election promises, then neither can the government expect voters to fall twice into the same trap."

Less For Lands

At two previous sessions — in Traverse City Friday and Escanaba Saturday — a majority of witnesses opposing giving the lawmakers opposing giving the major share of the bond issue to urban areas.

The two weekend hearings drew about 140 persons who had an opportunity to question Richard McClellan, the governor's administrative assistant.

McClellan outlined Milliken's proposal for spending $40 million on state projects and the rest in urban areas and said the governor's 40-30-30 formula "does not jeopardize the recreation program."

He testified at the Escanaba hearing Saturday that the program's main effect would be to limit the Department of Natural Resources' land acquisition.

Hold To Plan

"The governor wants assurances that all lands purchased will be to the best advantage and that it not be just hunting lands used for a short time each year," said McClellan.

Rouman took issue with McClellan's statement that the Department of Natural Resources has abandoned its original recommendation of a 70-30 formula, with 70 per cent of the recreation bond issue going to state projects.

Rouman said not only is the department continuing its 70-30 stand, but "the department men are hollering bloody murder."

However, he conceded that "if they can only get $40 million,

Union Officials Say Previous Package Larger

CALUMET (AP) — Striking miners have rejected another contract offer from Calumet Division of Universal Oil Products, and the copper producer today continued heading toward complete shutdown of its operations.

The miners, members of United Steelworkers Union Local 4312, rejected the offer Sunday by a standing vote.

Union officials said more than 95 per cent of the 750 members attending the meeting stood up to register their vote against the proposed contract.

Gov. William Milliken had urged all 1,200 strikers to attend the meeting.

The offer, which union officials said was lower than one rejected earlier, called for a two-year contract with wage hikes of 35 cents an hour in the first year and boosts of 10 cents each in the first and second six months of the final year.

Union officers previously turned down the offer but agreed to submit it to the membership after a meeting in Washington with state and federal mediators.

Many of those voting Sunday drove to the session from Wisconsin and Lower Michigan, indicating they have found other jobs.

The workers had been making an average of $2.58 an hour when their old contract expired and they struck last Aug. 21.

Cecil Suter, general manager of Calumet Division, said after the offer was rejected that "we're continuing to shut down. We've been salvaging equipment from the mine. We are in contact with salvage firms."

He said that 149 salaried employees currently are working on the shutdown and "we'll do what we can to help them relocate."

Asked when the shutdown will be completed, Suter said, "That has not been determined."

Calumet Division has been one of the economic mainstays of the Upper Peninsula, operating mines, mills and smelters.

State Court To Rule On I-696

LANSING (AP) — The State Supreme Court is scheduled again today to rule on a legal challenge of the proposed I 696 east-west freeway route through Detroit's northern suburbs.

Once before, Chief Justice Thomas E. Brennan announced a ruling could be expected on the fiercely disputed issue.

The decision was promised for April 19. Brennan and Justices Paul L. Adams and Harry F. Kelley were absent, however.

The court announced then that the decision would be postponed until today's meeting when "it is expected the whole court will be present."

The fight over the exact route of the 6.5-mile stretch of highway through south Oakland and Macomb counties has been a hot local issue for more than 10 years.

One Brief

The cities of Pleasant Ridge and Lathrup Village and a citizens' group from Lathrup Village all have argued before the high court that the State Constitution gives the final right of veto of such routes to the cities, townships and villages affected.

The 1967 Legislature then passed the Highway Arbitration Act giving the final power of decision to a three-member arbitration panel.

The protesters claim this power is illegal. They point to a provision of the 1963 State Constitution which says, in effect, that the Legislature may not vacate, alter or close any street, alley or public place under the jurisdiction of any city, village or township.

The protest was carried to the Supreme Court after Oakland F. Moore upheld the powers of the arbitration panel.

Hermansville Soldier Killed

HERMANSVILLE — Spec. 4 Thomas St. Onge, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roland St. Onge of Hermansville, has been killed in Vietnam, his parents were notified by the Dept. of Defense Sunday.

He had been reported missing in action last Monday.

The young soldier entered the Army in April, 1968, and has been stationed in Vietnam since last November.

He attended Marinette Catholic Central High School before moving to Hermansville four years ago with his family. He graduated from Hermansville High School in 1967.

Survivors include his parents; two sisters, Mrs. William Krackenberger of Muskego, Wis., and Mrs. Clint Messenger of Porterfield, Wis., and a brother, James, of Hermansville.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Fountain Sprouts Nails

ROME (AP) — Rome's famous Trevi Fountain has sprouted a bed of nails. Local papers said the municipal cleaning men put them there to make things difficult for anyone else trying to get the coins tourists throw in.

The two-inch nails appeared on the bottom of the Bernini fountain over the weekend. The city government said it was investigating.

The local papers said the purpose was to foil the street archers who with string and magnet fish most of the coins out of the fountain.

Nixon's Aides Tell Public Withdrawal Is Inadvisable

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon, under increasing congressional pressure for a quick start in some U.S. troop withdrawals from Vietnam, evidently has begun a campaign to convince the public such a move is inadvisable at this time.

Following demands for some sort of troop pullback from two leading Republican senators late last week, top administration officials spent the weekend explaining Nixon's position.

In talks with reporters over the weekend, White House officials said the President has a carefully worked out strategy that he feels still shows signs of getting somewhere and would be disrupted by starting troop withdrawals now.

Nixon's argument against any immediate withdrawal rests primarily on these points, as defined by the White House officials:

Some Progress

1. There has been some progress in bargaining with the Communists at the Paris Peace talks, although not in terms of moving toward agreement on ending the war.

2. Nixon is planning some new moves with respect to Vietnam which he will take when he considers the time is right.

3. South Vietnam has been gaining steadily in both military and political strength for months now and its capacity to assume more of the war later will allow Nixon to withdraw some U.S. troops in the months ahead if he chooses to do so. He has no deadline, however, for withdrawal.

Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird also outlined the administration's position for a cutback in the American fighting force in a Saturday news conference at Warrenton, Va.

Three Criteria

He said if any of these three positions are met then a withdrawal could begin:

1. Agreement on mutual withdrawal of U.S. and North Vietnamese troops.

2. Sufficient improvement of South Vietnamese forces so they can take over a major part of the fighting.

3. The level of Viet Cong and North Vietnamese activity is "substantially reduced" in South Vietnam.

Until Saturday, Laird had always declined to discuss the conditions for troop withdrawals. But his outlining of the points plus the weekend sessions the White House officials had with newsmen indicated Nixon was concerned with the public effect of the recent demands for a quick beginning of the troop withdrawals.

Inducement

Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, the No. 2 Republican in the Senate, Friday called for the return home of a substantial block of U.S. troops as a means of inducing North Vietnam to begin serious bargaining in Paris.

A day earlier Sen. George Aiken of Vermont, top Republican on the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, had called on the Nixon administration to begin pulling forces out.

There have been other calls over the last several months for a troop cutback.

Independent South

White House officials said, however, President Nixon is determined to stick to his own plan.

Although administration officials have seemed hard pressed to strike an optimistic note about the Paris talks, the administration idea seems to be not to appear discouraged about the situation.

This apparently is why the evidence cited by White House sources dealt with the question of progress in the bargaining at Paris rather than progress in terms of moving toward an agreement.

But White House sources conceded over the weekend that North Vietnam still seems not to have made the basic decision to accept for some years an independent South Vietnam. Without such a decision, officials here believe, a negotiated settlement of the war is impossible.

Nixon's major hopes for the future, therefore, evidently rest more on his confidence in the buildup of South Vietnamese military and political stability on what he judges to be the declining striking power of the North Vietnamese-Viet Cong forces in South Vietnam.

New Terrorist Campaign Is Aimed At Saigon Govt

SAIGON (AP) — The South Vietnamese government announced today a 24-hour cease-fire in observance of the 2,513th birthday of Buddha May 30.

The announcement came as police sources reported the Viet Cong appear to have launched a new terror campaign in Saigon aimed at undermining the government.

A spokesman for President Nguyen Van Thieu said the cease-fire would run from 6 a.m. Saigon time, May 30, until 6 a.m. May 31.

Saigon time is 12 hours ahead of Eastern Daylight time.

The announcement was made over nationwide television.

A spokesman for the U.S. mission said: "We were consulted and we are in agreement."

Five Attacks

Five terror attacks were reported between 6 p.m. Wednesday and noon today. Five Vietnamese were killed and 43 Vietnamese and six Americans were wounded in the capital's worst rash of terrorism this year.

In the most sensational attack, two plastic bombs exploded simultaneously in the crowded main room of Saigon's central post office just after 8 a.m. The blasts killed a South Vietnamese army captain and three

Value Of Mark Sets Record

LONDON (AP) — The West German mark reached new heights at the opening of European exchange markets today, increasing pressure on the Bonn government to raise the official value of its money.

The deutschemark in bank-to-bank dealings in Paris reached a record level of 125.30 French francs for 100 marks, against Wednesday's close of 125.295. The ceiling level is 125.290.

The pound opened in London at its floor of $2.3825, its lowest level since last November's monetary crisis.

The ceiling and floor levels are the rates at which International Monetary Fund rules require a nation's central bank to buy its currency to stabilize the price.

Governors Against ABM Sites In Their States

Ask Vietnamese To Settle Their Own Problems

WASHINGTON (AP) — Governors of both states chosen by the Nixon administration as initial sites for antiballistic missiles have declared themselves opposed to the controversial Safeguard program.

The two Democrats, first-term Gov. Forrest H. Anderson of Montana and fourth-term Gov. William L. Guy of North Dakota, contend the short-term economic benefits of Safeguard sites in their states wouldn't be worth the long-term problems they could cause.

And they say they don't want their states to become nuclear junkyards.

Oppose ABM

That site is Malmstrom Air Force Base in Great Falls, Mont. The other proposed site is Grand Forks, N.D., Air Force Base. Both have Minuteman missiles which ABM supporters say would be protected by the Safeguard system.

Democratic nominee John Melcher, a veterinarian from Forsyth, has opposed the ABM in his contest against Republican William S. Mather, a Billings lawyer and state legislator.

They seek the seat surrendered by Republican James F. Battin, now a federal judge.

Ammo Dump

"I do not wish to see Montana become the nuclear ammunition dump—and later junkyard—of the United States," Anderson said. "I have yet to find any scientific authority outside the industrial-military complex who can offer assurance the system will operate at all."

Anderson also said "the economic gains from short-term military construction programs frequently bring long-term financial headaches."

"Communities are required to provide additional services and facilities for the families employed on the projects. When the projects are completed, the families often move away and the recently constructed real property is not taxable. The community facilities remain and must be paid for."

Higher Needs

Guy, in a letter last week to Chairman John Stennis, D-Miss., of the Senate Armed Services Committee, said he had heard the arguments that he should not oppose the ABM system because it would be good for this state's economy.

"I wish to state emphatically that there are priority needs such as education, health services and reclamation projects that would have a higher social priority and would be far better for this state's economy than the ABM system," he said.

Guy said the Safeguard promises to "be like other North Dakota military facilities—obsolete before it can be built."

Abe Explanation Or Impeachment

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Robert Taft, R-Ohio, has forecast an impeachment move in the House against Supreme Court Justice Abe Fortas unless Fortas explains a $20,000 fee offered him by the Louis E. Wolfson family foundation.

"It all depends on what happens in the next few days," Taft said, adding that he doesn't now plan to file such proceedings himself but might later depending on developments.

Taft said he and other House members think Fortas should be given an opportunity to make further explanation of the fee.

Fortas Cancels Speech Fee

BOSTON (AP) — Supreme Court Justice Abe Fortas has canceled his share of a fee for a speech today at Northeastern University.

Tom Conrad, student chairman of the committee sponsoring Fortas' appearance, said the fee was canceled Monday by the Harry Walker Agency in New York, which booked the speech.

Conrad said, "The agency called Monday and said the fee would be only $675, instead of the original $2,000." He said no reason was given.

The student chairman said the agency told him the $675 was to cover the agency's commission and Fortas' travel expenses from Washington to Boston.

Life Magazine in its current issue says that in 1966 Fortas was given a $20,000 fee by the family foundation of Louis Wolfson, and that Fortas returned the money 11 months later.

Wolfson on April 25 began serving a one-year sentence for stock fraud.

Fortas could not be reached for comment on the Northeastern cancellation. However, a spokesman for the justice said in Washington that "he hasn't been accepting fees for speeches for quite some time."

Shepard Back As Astronaut

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Alan B. Shepard Jr., the first American rocketed into space, has returned to the ranks of the active astronauts six years after an ear ailment clipped his wings and landed him behind a desk.

Shepard, 45, was declared healthy and ready to fly Wednesday by flight surgeons at the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Manned Spacecraft Center.

His return to flight status came eight years and two days after the lean Navy captain led America into the manned space flight era with a 15-minute trip aloft on May 5, 1961.

In the Mercury capsule "Freedom 7" he soared to more than 100 miles in a suborbital flight. Shepard later referred to it as America's "first baby step" in manned space flight.

Shepard got the call to command the first Gemini flight, but he suddenly found he was unable even to fly solo in a small airplane. He had contracted an inner ear disorder called labyrinthitis. The disorder, attributed to an infection, caused dizziness and nausea and Shepard was grounded by flight surgeons.

Shepard took annual checkups and kept in shape.

Square Foot Qualifies Her

PONTIAC (AP) — Because she is running for a seat on the Pontiac Board of Education, Mrs. Eldred Sweeney has bought her first piece of property — one square foot. It cost $1.

"I'm kinda proud of that property. I'm going to make a white picket fence out of Popsicle sticks and then plant some flowers, probably three red tulips," said the 30-year-old mother of three.

Mrs. Sweeney says the property, humble as it might be, qualifies her as a Pontiac property owner and thus as a candidate for the city's school board.

A Negro, Mrs. Sweeney purchased the square foot of dirt in an all-white neighborhood from a friend.

"I just integrated the neighborhood," she said. "Someone already offered to make a cross out of toothpicks and burn it on my land."

Lebanese Border Dangerous: Meir

By The Associated Press

Premier Golda Meir says Israeli villages along the "danger border" with Lebanon will be strengthened in case Arab guerrillas win their struggle to use Lebanon as a staging area for attacks on Israel.

"I do not know what will happen in Lebanon, whose hand will be on top—the terrorists or the army," she told labor leaders in Tel Aviv Wednesday. "But the Lebanese border is the new danger border for us."

"We have villages there and we must look after them and see they are properly defended."

The political and military crisis in Lebanon deteriorated further Wednesday when about 2,000 Arab guerrillas besieged the Lebanese village of Hasbaya near the Israeli frontier. The Beirut government charged that the assault was directed by Al Saika—Thunderbolt—an Arab commando organization affiliated with Syria's ruling Baath party. Al Saika denied the charge and called the Lebanese army to join it in an investigation.

The largest of the Palestinian guerrilla organizations, Al Fatah, added to the tension in Lebanon with a charge that Lebanese troops shot five Al Fatah commandos who were en route to Israel on a sabotage mission. Lebanese military officials denied the charge.

Thousands of Palestinians living in refugee camps in Lebanon pay allegiance to Al Fatah, and there was speculation that the guerrilla organization would order them into the streets. Demonstrations by refugees in support of the guerrillas two weeks ago touched off clashes with Lebanese troops which resulted in the death of 18 persons and the resignation of Premier Rashid Karami.

The guerrillas want to use Lebanon as a staging area because it is nearer the Israeli industrial complex at the port of Haifa, but the government has resisted them because it fears Israeli reprisals.

Police sources said they had seized Communist documents three days ago in Saigon calling for a terrorist campaign between May 7, the 15th anniversary of the French defeat at Dien Bien Phu, and May 19, the 79th birthday of North Vietnamese President Ho Chi Minh.

Meanwhile, Viet Cong gunners shelled Hue, the old imperial capital 400 miles north of Saigon, for the first time in two months. Military spokesmen said two Vietnamese children and an adult were killed. One Vietnamese civilian and one American civilian were wounded.

Red Rocket

Six 100-pound Russian rockets landed on the city shortly after midnight Wednesday, and two hospitals were hit.

"Damage to the second floor at the provincial hospital was reported heavy," a spokesman said. "A tuberculosis hospital sustained light damage."

The U.S. Command announced that a force of 4,000 American, South Vietnamese and South Korean troops are making an intensive sweep of 40-square-mile Barrier Island, on the coast 20 miles southeast of Da Nang, seeking to root out the Viet Cong who have controlled the island for years.

The U.S. Command also increased the number of casualties in the crash Tuesday of a U.S. Army Chinook helicopter loaded with South Vietnamese infantrymen. A spokesman said 40 men were killed and 43 injured, instead of 34 killed and 35 injured as announced previously.

School Aid Bill Reported Out

Stage Set For Hot Parochial Debate

LANSING (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee Wednesday reported out an $844.08 million state school aid bill and set the stage for one of the hottest debates of the legislative session—parochial.

Discussion of the bill could begin Friday, according to House Speaker William Ryan, D-Detroit.

The appropriations committee voted 10-3 for the bill after paring the schools allocation to $844.08 million — $120,000 less than the figure adopted earlier by the Senate.

Ryan, leader of the successful bid to add $100,000 for church and other privately run schools, said refinements must be made in the parochial rider, although no more money is involved.

Additions

"There will be efforts" to add to the bill, Ryan predicted.

Appropriations Chairman William Copeland, D-Wyandotte, declined to speculate what effect the bill—some $505,000 below Gov. William Milliken's recommended budget—would have on the state's hardpressed schools.

"I'm a finance man, I'm not an educator," Copeland said. "It'll be up to the educators to say how they'll make out."

Copeland resisted efforts by committee members to add to the bill's total cost, but allowed numerous changes in distribution formulas to direct more money to desperate districts, particularly those in Detroit.

The committee at one point voted an additional $1 million for two disbanded Detroit-area school districts, Nankin Mills and the old Sumpter district. Copeland recessed the meeting, lectured key members, and the sum was deleted by a prompt revote.

Bus U.P. Students

Rep. Russell Hellman, D-Dollar Bay, sought to remove a 1½ mile minimum distance restriction on state transportation funds to help bus Upper Peninsula pupils to schools.

"We still had ice eight feet high in my area last Sunday," Hellman said. "I want you to realize we have to legislate both peninsulas."

The committee gave sympathy to Hellman's plea but no vote for the $17 million he said was needed.

Districts which disband or suffer financial collapse would be taken over by intermediate districts under one amendment, and could borrow funds which would be charged to taxpayers of the old, defunct school district.

Change Formula

The committee also changed total funds available to districts under a so-called "high tax waiver" but raised participation requirements. Under that section of the bill, districts which levy 133 per cent or more of the average state millage may share proportionately in some $13 million.

The Senate voted $12.5 million for that section, but at the old 125 per cent rate. Wealthy districts with high equalized valuation would be eliminated by the House action.

A third basic change simplified the basic membership formula and reduced the top category from a minimum valuation of $14,333 per child to $13,777.

PARIS (AP) — The Viet Cong today advanced a 10-point peace plan calling for establishment of a coalition government and leaving to the Vietnamese people the question of dealing with Vietnam armed forces.

The plan, presented to the 16th session of the Vietnam peace talks by Than Bui Kiem, representative of the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front, combined elements of previous North Vietnamese and front proposals, but added some new provisions.

The idea of a coalition government as well as some other terms of the plan previously had been rejected by the United States and the South Vietnamese government.

Kiem called the proposals a plan to allow the Vietnamese people "to settle their own affairs without foreign interference."

North's Support

It was quickly supported by North Vietnam's Xuan Thuy.

The proposals did not refer specifically to the presence of North Vietnamese forces, but the reference to leaving the question of Vietnam armed forces to the Vietnamese themselves appeared to be intended to cover the North Vietnamese troops.

Kiem made his proposal after the United States told the North Vietnamese and the front that "we must be ready for the unwelcome contingency that your side does not want to negotiate a peaceful settlement."

Kiem's plan called for a provisional coalition government to take over between the establishment of peace and general elections. This government would be made up from representatives of all political trends, including personalities who for political reasons are now living outside Vietnam.

Total Withdrawal

The election would be to choose a constituent assembly. There would then be a coalition government based on the outcome of the election.

Kiem called for the total withdrawal of U.S. forces, arms and war material without posing any conditions whatsoever. He also demanded the withdrawal of all non-Vietnamese allied forces and the liquidation of all allied bases.

The proposal seemed in many respects to resemble the "political program of the National Front for Liberation" adopted in August 1967 by a so-called extraordinary congress of the front. That program had four major points, and many subordinate ones. The four major points called for uniting the country while fighting the Americans, building an "independent, peaceful, neutral and prosperous South Vietnam," restoring "normal relations between North and South Vietnam" and proceeding "toward peaceful reunification of the fatherland," and applying "a foreign policy of peace and neutrality."

It was clear from Kiem's speech that North Vietnamese troops would not be considered foreign troops.

Xuan Thuy backed the demand for compensation by the United States for damages done to North Vietnam.

Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge told the session that the forces of North Vietnam and not the United States are intensifying the war.

Intensifying War

Replying to North Vietnamese and Viet Cong allegations that the Nixon administration is stepping up military operations while talking peace, Lodge said: "The responsibility for any intensification of the fighting which has occurred or which may occur in the future must rest with the North Vietnamese and the Viet Cong. If they persist in attacking the South Vietnamese people, their armed forces and the armed forces of

Soo Hill PTA To Mark 30 Years

Soo Hill Elementary School PTA's 30th year celebration will be held Thursday, May 8 at 7:30 p.m.

Mrs. Agnes Gleich was the school's first teacher in 1938, to formulate Soo Hill PTA. She taught 64 students, from first through the eighth grades, in one room. Militants Stop Church Service

NEW YORK (AP) — A black militant interrupted Communion service at Riverside Church Sunday to demand massive reparations for what he said were past injustices to black people.

When James Forman stepped to the altar area of the church, the Rev. Ernest T. Campbell left the altar. The organist drowned out Forman, but he waited out the hymn and started to read out his demands.

Many of the 1,300 members of the congregation followed the Rev. Mr. Campbell from the church, but about 500 remained to hear Forman.

Forman, an officer of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, said he was director of the International Black Development Conference.

"Six million Jews were killed in Germany and Israel is still getting reparations," he said. "Fifty million blacks died in slavery and the black people have been paid nothing."

Forman demanded 60 per cent of the church's income from stocks and real estate, 12 hours daily use of the church radio station and use of other church facilities. Leaning on a cane and flanked by six bodyguards, he said Riverside, an interdenominational church, had been singled out because it was near Harlem and was heavily endowed by John D. Rockefeller Jr.

Wife Held For Shooting Husband

FLINT (AP) — William Rodgers, 39, of Flint, was found shot to death today in the bedroom of his home in northwest Flint and authorities arrested his wife, Vivian, 40, on a charge of murder.

Police said Rodgers was shot to death with a .22 caliber pistol and that the shooting apparently climaxed a family argument.

Boy, 6, Suffers Fractured Leg

A six-year-old Wells boy suffered a broken leg Sunday when he was struck by a car near Hunters Brook in Marquette County.

State Police said Jerry Jyrkila was reported in fair condition at St. Luke's Hospital, Marquette.

Officers said the boy, his mother, Nancy, and some other people were fishing at Hunters Brook on County Rd. S-1, Wells Township, Marquette County, when a car driven by Waino Heikkinen, 56, of Rte. 1, Cornell, crossed the centerline of the road, struck the bridge railing and hit the boy.

The accident remains under investigation, officers said. Heikkinen was lodged in the Marquette County jail.

Three other minor accidents were reported over the weekend, officers said, none involving personal injury.

Melvin Klug, 18, of 309 N. 20th St., Escanaba, was ticketed for careless driving after his car ran off County Rd. 569 and struck several guard rails at Ten Mile Creek, and April Starnes, 21, of 509 S. 18th St., received a citation for violation of the basic speed law after her car left County Rd. 446 a half mile west of U.S. 2 and rolled over. Officers also reported that cars driven by Louis Butryn, 58, of Rte. 2, Bark River, and Robert Kallman, 48, of Rte. 1, Cornell, collided at the intersection of County Rd. 414 and County Road 535 in Wells Township. The accident remains under investigation.

Missouri Wife Says 'Truly A Blessing To Relieve Piles'

Treatment Shrinks Piles, Relieves Pain In Most Cases

Springfield, Mo. Mrs. H. Meyers of this city says: "Preparation H has helped me so much. I used to use another product. Then friends told me about Preparation H and it's truly been a blessing!"

(Note: Doctors have proved in most cases — Preparation H® actually shrinks inflamed hemorrhoids. In case after case, the sufferer first notices prompt relief from pain, burning and itching. Then swelling is gently reduced. There's no other formula for the treatment of hemorrhoids like doctor-tested Preparation H. It also lubricates to make bowel movements more comfortable, soothes irritated tissues and helps prevent further infection. In ointment or suppository form.) Adv.

'Brain Fever' Yields To New Treatment

DETROIT (AP) — A disease that kills up to 90 per cent of its victims reportedly is yielding to a new diagnostic procedure and treatment developed by a Michigan research team.

The disease is so-called "brain fever," clinically known as Herpesvirus hominis encephalitis. It strikes at any age and can cause death or mental deterioration within five to 15 days.

The new diagnostic procedure and treatment were explained by Dr. A. Martin Lerner, Wayne State University professor of medicine, at a joint Atlantic City meeting of the American Federation for Clinical Research and the American Society for Clinical Investigation.

"We are completely convinced from the experience we have had," Dr. Lerner said, "that the disease is treatable and reversible."

The keys, he said, are early diagnosis and treatment with a highly toxic, experimental drug known as idoxuridine and discarded as a cancer-fighting agent because of ineffectiveness.

Dr. Lerner reported that he and his Wayne State research associates, Dr. David Nolan and Elizabeth Bailey, had saved five of seven patients who have undergone the new diagnosis and treatment methods.

The new diagnostic procedure involves a blood study to determine whether there is a crucial ratio in two types of antibodies responding to the viral infection. This follows the ruling out of other possible causes for the illness by routine methods.

Three-quarters of a lethal dose of idoxuridine is dripped intravenously for six days into a patient undergoing treatment. Among side effects are complete loss of hair (which grows in again) and almost no defense, for a relatively short period, against bacterial infection.

Because of the hazard of infection, Dr. Lerner said, treatment probably should be limited to a medical research center with a staff highly skilled in infectious diseases.

Financial support for the research came from the National Institutes of Health and the Research Corp. of Detroit General Hospital.

Teachers Back School Merger

The Powers-Spalding Education Association today expressed support for the three way proposed consolidation between Bark River-Harris, Hermansville, and Powers-Spalding school districts.

"Such a district would mean a more flexible and comprehensive program of instruction that would give greater consideration to specific areas in which depth needs to be added such as vocational education, foreign languages and fine arts.

"An expanded program would mean that students could be more effectively guided into the program providing the greatest benefit. Extra-curricular activities which now suffer in each of the three districts because of inadequate funding and too small a group of students to form an effective and economical working organization would be realized on a greater scale with increased enrollment, more available staff, and increased funding.

The consolidated district would also provide a more equitable student to teacher ratio with a tendency to average the overcrowded and under-crowded classrooms toward the optimum size for a particular class," the association reported.

"The economic and administrative feasibility of such a consolidation has been demonstrated by the Area Study which gives a strong, optimistic argument for three way consolidation. It remains yet for the voters of these three districts to decide the course which provides the best possible educational advantage for their children.

"The Powers-Spalding Education Association supports the consolidation on the basis of providing the highest quality instruction possible for the smallest number of tax dollars," the Association concluded.

A new skirt is the joy of a young girl's desire and even more so if she made it herself. Junior High 8th grade Home Economics classes had style shows during their classes on Wednesday and winners were selected by the 7th grade Home Ec. students of Mrs. Jack Kivela.

Some 118 girls have been learning to put in a zipper, make hems, buttonholes, and make fittings. For most of the girls it was their first attempt at sewing, "for real."

"A start in sewing encourages more wardrobe additions for future activities and as a result of their sewing the girls are also learning to be more intelligent buyers," said Mrs. Harold Tonn, instructor.

Drugs To Help Kick The Habit

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Two drugs show promise of helping heroin addicts kick their habits. One of them works 10 times as well if the addict has a wife or steady girl friend, a group of psychiatrists says.

The drugs are methadone and cyclazocine. Methadone is a narcotic substitute for heroin with none of its bad effects. Cyclazocine, nonnarcotic, blocks the action of heroin.

Methadone works better with one type of addict, cyclazocine is more effective with another type.

Results of experiments with the drugs were reported to the convention of the American Psychiatric Association today by Drs. Richard B. Resnick, Max Fink and Alfred M. Freedman of New York Medical College.

A questionnaire technique indicates which drug would be most helpful in a given case, Resnick said.

Methadone appears better for addicts who feel that heroin reduces their anger, tension and disappointments, and increases their ability to work or study. They have physical or metabolic needs for a drug.

Cyclazocine appears better for addicts who use heroin as a way of getting along better socially, even though they realize that heroin doesn't really help them function.

Fourteen of 31 addicts studied have stayed on cyclazocine successfully for as long as three years, Resnick said. The others dropped out after one week.

Ask Blood For Heart Surgery

Blood donors of O Negative type are needed for a heart surgery case, a 10-year-old girl in Antigo, the Red Cross announced today. The bloodmobile will be at the Teamsters building in Escanaba today to 7:30 p. m.

The Red Cross Bloodmobile in its visit to Delta County was at Gladstone on Wednesday and is in Escanaba today and Friday.

In Gladstone at the James T. Jones School on Wednesday a total of 50 units of blood were collected, 12 under the quota of 62. There had been 11 appointments by donors for the day and the remainder were "walk-ins."

Three donors were honored at Gladstone for their support of the blood bank. They are: Mrs. Lorraine Russell, a four-gallon donor pin; Paul Jarvis, three gallons, and Mrs. Elaine Wesolowski, one gallon.

Today and Friday in Escanaba the quota is 110 units each day, and there are 41 appointments for today and 27 for Friday, the Red Cross reports. Those donors having appointments will be assured of being processed at the time they specify.

Walk-in donors are welcomed, however, and the Bloodmobile hours on Friday, closing day of the three-day visit, are 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. at the Teamsters building.

Highland Park Plans To Reopen

HIGHLAND PARK (AP)—Officials planned to reopen Highland Park College today despite a continued strike by some students.

Paul Emerich, superintendent of schools in the Detroit enclave, said he and other officials met for a half hour Sunday with representatives of the Association of Black Students "and tried to arrive at some decision but were unsuccessful."

"Their argument was the whole package or nothing," Emerich said, referring to 18 demands by the black students. School officials have said they were willing to negotiate on some of the demands but have rejected those calling for a voice in hiring and firing of faculty members, the firing of Dean Paul Jones and turning over 10 rooms in the school for student offices.

In the meeting Sunday, Emerich said, "We were hung up on the very first item—hiring and firing of staff."

An estimated 40 strikers, locking hands to block entranceways, forced the junior college to close Friday.

Officials of the school, the Student Council and the Association of Black Students met for four hours Friday.

Emerich said he disliked the prospect of any continuing clash over keeping the school open, and, "We don't want a lot of head smashing, but on the other hand neither can we turn over control of the institution."

Report Drop In Iron Ore

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Iron ore consumed and shipped to United States and Canadian steel and iron plants in March was off figures of March, 1968, the American Iron Ore Association reports.

Total iron ore consumption in the two countries this March was 33,835,701 gross tons as compared to 36,236,890 last March, the association reported.

United States consumption was down from 33,558,206 gross tons last March to 31,169,337, and Canadian consumption was down from 2,678,684 to 2,666,364.

Shipments from Great Lakes loading docks showed shipments down from 5,806,705 tons last March to 3,734,202 estimated tons this March. Yearly shipping totals from the Great Lakes are also down from 5,841,942 last year to an estimated 3,749,629 this year through March.

Ore inventories were up from 34,780,505 gross tons last March to 35,653,456 this March. U. S. firms had 33,415,516 gross tons in stock this March as compared to 32,829,381 last March, and Canadian inventories showed 2,237,940 gross tons this March and 1,915,124 last March.

Deputies Vote On Teamsters

ANN ARBOR (AP)—About 70 deputies of the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department vote today on whether to name the Teamsters Union as their bargaining agent.

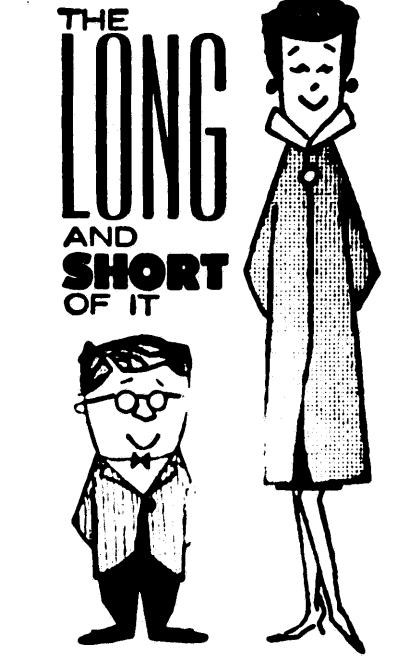

If approved, affiliation with the Teamsters would be the first by any law enforcement agency in Michigan.

The Michigan Labor Mediation Board set the election date after deputies and Teamsters officials held several meetings to discuss joining the union.

Last year, the independent Washtenaw Deputies Association failed in an attempt to gain the right to bargain for the deputies.

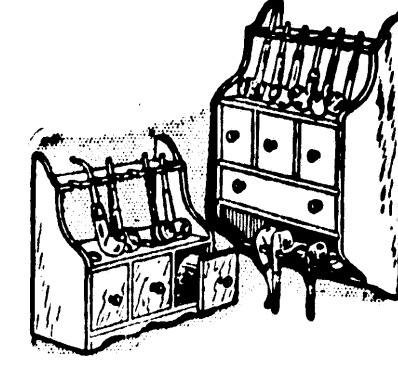

The move to join the Teamsters came after a months-long dispute between deputies and the Washtenaw County Board of Supervisors over payment for overtime work.

Deputies have objected to a $1,100 ceiling placed on overtime pay within any single pay period of two weeks.

Mayor Exchange Program Planned

Escanaba will welcome Mayor Warren C. Light of Saginaw and Escanaba's Mayor Cecil B. Chase will go to Saginaw in the traditional observance of Mayor's Exchange Day on Monday, May 19, of Michigan Week.

The two mayors will meet at Gaylord—a "half-way" point enroute—and then proceed each to his host city. Mayor Light will be accompanied by Mrs. Light, and Saginaw Councilman Lenwelle Cline and Mrs. Cline.

On Monday in Escanaba the visiting Saginaw officials will be escorted on tours of the city, visits to industries, and will be guests at a luncheon meeting of service clubs at Marco's.

The Kiwanis Club will be the host and attending will be members of Rotary, Jaycees, Exchange Club, Optimist, Lions and Chamber of Commerce.

Saginaw's Mayor Light has served on the Council there since 1962. He is plant manager for A. T. Ferrell & Co., a firm he joined in 1947 after employment with General Motors.

Born in Oscoda, he is a graduate of Flint Northern High School; is a former director of the Junior Chamber of Commerce; past president of the Saginaw Valley Purchasing Agents Association; and a member of the Greater Saginaw Valley Chamber of Commerce.

Mayor Light served on the City Planning Commission, and was until last year a member of the Tri-City Airport Commission. In World War II he was a pilot with the U. S. Air Force.

The Rock Lions elected Herb Westlund as president of the club for the coming year.

Elected to serve with him were First Vice President, Robert Koski; Second Vice President, Paul Johnson; Third Vice President, Leslie Maki; Secretary, Francis Trombly; Treasurer, George Kulack.

Dues secretary, Victor Manikiewicz; Lion tamer, Henry Jokez; Tail twister, John Schaefer; Board of Directors, two year terms, Leo Kulkki and Martin Falck, one year terms, Albert Weldum and Ah-ti Waak.

Press Changes

The Daily Press changed today. The familiar building at 600 Ludington St. is still very much the same. So is the Associated Press teleprinter which delivers news from around the world at over 60 words per minute and the men and machinery which turn those words and others written by the local news staff into a newspaper. The distribution system which brought this edition to your doorstep is the same.

But Jean Worth, the man who has been editor of the newspaper since April, 1955, and brought the wisdom from over 40 years of journalism to the pages of the Daily Press, completed his career as an active newspaperman Saturday. And that has changed the newspaper.

Sitting at the typewriter writing this editorial, your new editor, Dave Andrews, pondered the magnitude of that change — present and future. Certainly, although two men may be schooled in the basic principles of journalism, there is a difference in the thought process.

The influences bearing on the men vary. So do the personal interests. Backgrounds are different. And so, then, must their newspapers be different.

Where will the Daily Press go from here? What causes will it champion? What items will it report? In what areas will its staff concentrate? How will the paper look tomorrow, next week, next year? What "tools or equipment" does the staff need in its work? What can the Daily Press do for the community that it isn't doing now? What can it do better?

For the past 14 years these questions have rested with Jean Worth. Now the responsibility has changed and as one thinks about these questions, the more subtle part of a daily news operation, the answers don't come easily.

On many of the questions there is no black, no white. There only is one way of doing things to be weighed against another.

Yet, as the community, state, nation and world change it is evident that the Daily Press cannot stand still, doing what it has been doing just "because that's the way we've always done it."

What was news 25 years ago isn't necessarily news today. What is news today, may not be news tomorrow.

The New York Times, regarded by many journalists as the finest newspaper in the world, uses as its slogan "all the news that's fit to print." Ideally, the Daily Press could live up to that slogan in the local community. Practically, this is impossible. The news gathering staff isn't large enough to cover every aspect and activity of the community and even if it were that wouldn't necessarily make the Daily Press the best possible newspaper.

Instead, there must be a process of selection, choosing the "best" stories at any given moment, eliminating unneeded detail from others and discarding still more. At more than 60 words a minute, the Associated Press alone provides enough "news" content to more than fill the Daily Press every day.

It is in the selection and display process that changes in the newspaper's content may be most evident, although even these changes won't be accomplished overnight and some of them may be accomplished internally, without noticeable impact on the reader.

There also may be different philosophies expressed in the daily editorial column.

Fortunately, many of the leaders and citizens of the community and the staff of the newspaper have expressed willingness to cooperate and assist your new editor. There is much to learn.

There will be times of disagreement. There will be times when the editorial opinions of the Daily Press differ from those of some of its readers. It is inevitable when an issue has more than one side.

Hopefully, your new editor will be open minded enough to consider all sides before making a judgment, but it is the duty of a newspaper — besides providing objective reports on the activities of a community — to take a leading role in forming opinion.

A columnist in the Detroit Free Press recently wrote "He may not like what I'm going to say, but I'm going to say it anyway."

Your editor defends that right. He hopes for the courage, guidance and ability to do it as well as Jean Worth.

Campus Sanity

The University of Missouri has released the results of a survey of freshmen who entered the school last fall.

Of particular interest to the general public is the fact that most of the new students said they believe that colleges are too lax in their handling of student protests.

The majorities ranged from 51.7 per cent to 68.9 per cent among the 5,600 freshmen answering the questionnaire at the university's four branches.

On the question of whether students should have a role in the design of the curriculum, however, the vote was overwhelmingly in favor — from 89.9 per cent to 93.3 per cent.

If the Missouri freshmen are representative of students around the country, what they are saying seems fairly clear:

The majority of students are serious about this business of learning, they want to be treated like adults and they want the colleges to hold them accountable when they fail to live up to the standards of responsibility expected of adults.

ACT TWO

Young Russians Don't Like The Army, Either

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

The Students for a Democratic Society may be a small minority on our campuses, but their campaign against the military is having a tremendous success. It won't be long before the R.O.T.C. (Reserve Officers Training Corps) is relegated to the cow colleges.

The Army will continue to recruit its officers, but by appealing to non-Ivy League types through Officers Candidate Schools and the less affluent universities of the South and the Middle West.

Thus, the polarization of America will continue: the types that followed Eugene McCarthy in 1968 will be anti-military and, in the old sense of the word, anti-patriotic (though they would naturally deny it), while the Army will augment its officer cadres by a strong infusion of young men whose families would tend to be sympathetic to the law-and-order slogans of a George Wallace.

The SDS, which is working for polarization and a chaos that will enable Leftists to fish in troubled waters, won't care in the least that their program is bound to weaken the country as it faces external enemies. But what of those enemies? The strange fact — and the only mitigating factor that can give the U.S. any encouragement — is that other nations, even the most totalitarian, have their own equivalent of the SDS.

In the Soviet Union, as reported by Yuri Marin, an analyst for the Institute for the Study of the USSR in Munich, the Ministry of Defense has suddenly waked up to the fact that "there is an inverse ratio between the level of education and soldierly discipline."

Lt. Col. P. Proshutinsky, developing the point of view of the Ministry of Defense, laments that the 46 per cent of the young Soviet servicemen who have had secondary or higher education "now have more inquiring minds and tend to develop internal resistance to the strict regimentation of army life."

By the time they enter the army "many draftees have already formed individual opinions about life and politics on the basis of their own critical analysis and information derived from such sources as foreign radio broadcasts." Marshal I. Konev has been thoroughly alarmed; he accuses many of the young soldiers of a "disloyal, pacifist disposition."

According to Marin's acute analysis of the between-the-lines meaning of the Soviet Ministry of Defense's complaints, the invasion of Czechoslovakia has not improved the morale of the educated 46 per cent of the young draftees. Says Marin: "The troops who actually took part in the invasion could not help but notice the absence of counter-revolutionaries in Czechoslovakia and of evidence of support from 'Western imperialism' and many of them, realizing that they had come not as liberators but as unbidden intruders, must now be more perplexed than ever."

In the U.S., the military, faced with the SDS anti-R.O.T.C. revolt, bends before the storm. A writer in "Army Digest" for April, 1969, stresses the "flexibility" of the R.O.T.C. program, suggesting that there need be no rigid stand on such matters as academic credit for R.O.T.C. courses and professional status for military personnel. The Soviets, however, react to the ferment among the 46 per cent of the youth that has had secondary or higher education by issuing stern warnings of a coming crackdown. Says the USSR Ministry of Defense:

"Let none of these young men think that senior comrades, who have passed through the most testing ordeals and through the furnace of the Civil and the Great Patriotic wars, are not keeping an eye on their actions and conduct." A crash program has been launched to indoctrinate the young, centering on those of pre-conscription age. Preparatory military instruction has been pushed down to the secondary schools, grades five through eight, where the students are required to form "technical groups, sections and teams for those aspects of sport having a military-technical application."

The U.S. may ultimately fall through leniency and an over-permissiveness; the USSR may fall through over-rigidity. But before there is any final reckoning, the chances for miscalculation in foreign policy have been greatly magnified both in Washington and in Moscow.

Arraign Man For Killing Chicagoans

BENTON HARBOR (AP)—A 21-year-old Watervliet man, Alvin Leverton, faces arraignment today in connection with the death of three persons hit by a car Saturday night in Benton Township.

The victims were run down by a car while they crossed a street. Police Sunday charged Leverton with negligent homicide in the deaths and said they believed he was drag racing at the time.

Victims of the accident were believed to be from Chicago and visiting relatives in the area. They were Helen Winfield, 29; James Hamilton, 16, and Louis Kunnels, 45.

Public Has Negative Image Of Lobbyists

By GENE SCHROEDER

LANSING (AP)—Are lobbyists good guys with white hats or the bad guys who wear black hats?

For the umpteenth time, that question has been raised in Michigan's legislative chambers by the introduction of a bill aimed at stiffening the law governing lobbyists.

The answer to the question, in the view of most capitol observers, is yes and no. There are good lobbyists and there are bad lobbyists, just as there are good legislators and bad ones.

As one longtime Lansing government specialist puts it:

"The unscrupulous influence peddlers with big expense accounts give other lobbyists a bad name. Always ready to foot the bill for a fancy steak dinner or drinks, and maybe a little more, they quickly find the legislators who can be most easily influenced."

Such tactics add up to a rather negative public image for all lobbyists—or legislative agents, as they prefer to be called.

"There is little doubt that to the average Michigan citizen the typical Lansing lobbyist is the cigar-chewing, insidious, influence-peddling caricature of the past, ready to bribe unwilling legislators at the first opportunity," wrote one capitol observer after three years of research into the subject.

Although that conclusion was reached in 1961, it still holds true today.

Most newsmen and other impartial observers agree that lobbyists perform a useful function while pursuing their special interests. They come up with valuable information on issues before the Legislature and provide witnesses at public hearings.

But at the same time, the need for restrictions on their activities is generally an accepted fact.

Michigan's law governing the activities of lobbyists grew out of a grand jury investigation which saw a large number of lawmakers and former legislators convicted of graft and bribe-taking conspiracy in the early 1940s.

But even in the face of such a shocking scandal, which included the assassination of a state senator the night before he was to testify, it took the Legislature three years to adopt a lobbying law.

The 1947 statute has remained on the books virtually unchanged since, despite several attempts to strengthen its provisions. Lobbyists are now required to register with the secretary of state and keep records of expenses for six years.

But they are not required to disclose such expenditures unless ordered to do so by a court or a joint House-Senate investigating committee.

The latest effort in a long line of attempts to strengthen the law is House Bill No. 3466. Most observers believe it will suffer the fate of earlier proposals—either dying in committee or on the floor.

One provision of the current measure calls for full public disclosure of any payments not only in behalf of legislators but also the governor or any officer or employee of the state or any members of state boards or commissions.

The bill also would increase the penalty for lobbyists who violate the law from the present maximum sentence of a $1,000 fine or one year in jail to a possible combination of both, plus a three-year suspension of lobbying privileges.

Such a penalty also could be imposed on anyone who "furnishes or causes to be furnished, to any legislator, member of the executive office or state department or agency, a written or printed statement, argument or brief containing an intentional misrepresentation of facts."

Contract Bridge

By B. JAY BECKER

Opening lead — seven of diamonds.

There are all kinds of ifs, ands and buts connected with this hand, which comes from a World Par Contest conducted several years ago.

East wins the first two tricks with the A-Q of diamonds and, having marked his partner with a doubleton, continues with a diamond.

It would seem to be normal for West to win the trick by ruffing with the six, but if he were to do this, South would have no trouble making the rest of the tricks.

He would win the heart or club return in dummy, lead a spade, finesse the queen, cash the ace, dropping East's king, draw another trump, and thus put a quick end to the proceedings.

East dealer. Both sides vulnerable.

It was therefore hoped or expected that West would be clever enough to ruff the diamond return with the deuce instead of the six, and in that way protect East's king of spades against a finesse.

After dummy overruffed, East would later come into the lead with the king of trumps, give his partner a diamond ruff, and thus defeat the contract a trick as a result of West's exceptional defense.

But two can play at this game of give-away, as the composers of the hand obviously envisioned, and South's smart reply to West's ruff with the deuce was therefore expected to be a heart or a club discard from dummy instead of an over-ruff of the deuce with the four.

This would permit South to lead a trump from dummy later on, take a finesse, and thus make the contract after all.

Perhaps the composers (M. J. Sullivan and R. E. Williams of Australia) were just day-dreaming when they included this hand in the par contest, but it all makes a lot of sense—even in a dream world.

Fiancee Wants Him At Bridal Shower

Dear Ann Landers: I've been writing this letter in my head for seven years. Finally I decided to put it down on paper. My problem is neighbors. Before I go further I'd like to make it clear that they are horses, not people.

We live in a town in Pennsylvania — population 30,000 and going backward. The horses belong to a two-pit politician. They are fenced in a very small area, smell terrible, draw flies and don't do anything for the landscape.

The horses breed now and then and all this goes on two blocks from the post office, right in the heart of town. During breeding season the movie houses don't do any business. Everybody comes downtown to watch.

We've complained to the Board of Health, the Humane Society, the mayor and the police, but nobody does anything because the mayor runs everything including the City Council. What do you suggest? — Pennsylvania Problem

Dear Penn: Organize some political opposition and turn the rascals out to pasture. With them will go the horses.

Dear Ann Landers: Three years ago I went to work as a legal secretary. The wife of one of the lawyers started to call me on the phone, "just to chat." I was flattered and pleased — until the calls began to come every day and last for nearly an hour.

I became upset when Mrs. X started to call me at home, asking all sorts of questions about the office. Soon I caught on to what should have been obvious earlier. Mrs. X was a kitchen drinker.

One week she called me every single night and cried for a solid hour about her husband's abusive treatment. Then she got to talking about her "vicious" neighbors and their plot to make her move. When she told me they had her house bugged, I knew she was not only drunk but crazy. After several months of these interminable calls, I felt myself going to pieces. I had to quit my job and leave town.

Eight months have passed but that loony woman still calls every week. She is always bombed and doesn't care what time it is. I've lost many a night's sleep and am sick to death of her. What's the answer? — Sacramento

Dear Sac: The answer is an unlisted telephone number. The fact that you didn't think of this yourself raises some questions about your need to suffer. Have you seen a doctor? If not, I strongly recommend it.

Dear Ann Landers: The girls my fiancée works with (25 of them) are giving a bridal shower for her. The party will be at the home of her maid of honor. Bev wants me to come in about 10:30, when they start to serve the coffee and cake. She says all I have to do is say "hello." Ann, I'd rather walk into the lion cage at Lincoln Park Zoo.

I've asked around the shop and not a single guy here has ever had to do anything like this. Please give me some advice fast. — Squirring

Dear S: Your girl wants to show you off, Lovey — so be a good sport and make her happy. It'll only take a few minutes and the agony will be over before you know it.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope. Copyright 1969, Publishers-Hall Syndicate

Negroes Judge Mayor Candidates

DETROIT (AP)—A group of Negro members of the Michigan House of Representatives who met with a dozen Detroit mayoral candidates over the weekend will study their positions and determine soon who they will support for the city's top office.

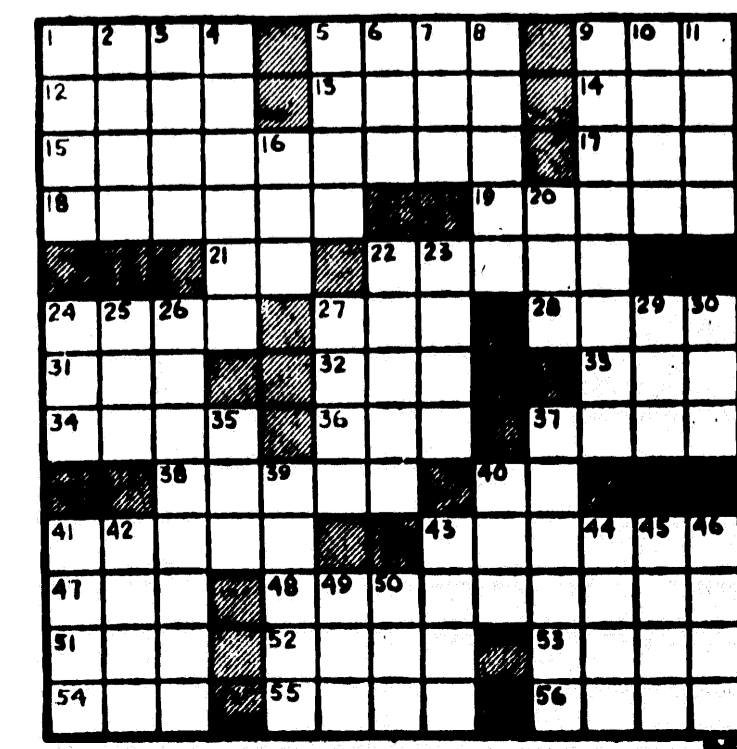

Rep. David Holmes Jr., D-Detroit, called the meeting for 10 Negro members of the House. Seven of them showed up at the Saturday meeting and interviewed about a dozen candidates. All seven representatives are from Detroit.

The group promised the candidates the talks would be confidential.

Holmes, leader of the so-called House Black Caucus, said the group feels "it should talk with the candidates in order to form a position for the more than 700,000 constituents they represent on the candidate or candidates we feel are best qualified...."

Accident Cuts Ore Shipping

The accident which forced shutdown of the new Chicago & North Western ore terminal in Escanaba was reflected in shipping reports for April released today by the American Iron Ore Association.

Shipments from Escanaba in April, 1969, totaled only 30,333 tons compared with 670,329 tons in 1968 — a decline of nearly 640,000 tons.

The railroad's new loading dock was shutdown shortly after the ore loading season opened last month when the bottom of a surge bin collapsed. The bin was a part of the new conveyor-type system for loading ore.

At the time of the collapse, the third boat of the season was being loaded.

Railroad officials reported earlier that they hope to have the dock back in operation by May 12 after completion of a temporary bypass of the surge bin to the docks. Stockpiling of iron ore pellets has continued in the C&NW yards in north Escanaba.

Shipments over ore docks in Marquette also declined, the association reported.

The Lake Superior & Ishpeming dock loaded only 343,865 tons of iron ore, compared with 515,363 in 1968. The Soo Line dock has a slight increase, from 55,810 tons last year to 78,509 tons.

Total ore tonnage loaded at United States docks on the Great Lakes in April was estimated at 3,240,059 tons, compared with 5,378,376 last year.

Clean-Up, Fix-Up Week Designated By Mayor Chase

Mayor Cecil Chase has proclaimed May 11-17 as Clean Up, Paint Up, Fix Up Week in Escanaba and urges Escanaba residents to participate in the program to help the city maintain its reputation as a clean and attractive community.

Everyone in Escanaba will benefit from the program, the Mayor said, pointing out that the campaign helps prevent fires, safeguards health, promotes safety, builds good citizenship, and increases property values.

"In asking the cooperation of every citizen, I want to remind you that now is the time to take stock of our community," Mayor Chase stated. "If everyone in Escanaba, and by that I mean every home owner, every storekeeper, every industrialist, every school child, and every one in the city government, puts forth an all-out effort, then our community will retain and build its reputation as a progressive town."

"We want the whole state of Michigan and visitors to our city to know that Escanaba is a safe, beautiful and healthy place in which to live and do business," he asserted. "Let's all of us roll up our sleeves and get in there and Clean Up, Paint Up, Fix Up," Mayor Chase concluded.

Bike Safety Day Draws Hundreds

One thousand youngsters of the Escanaba area, plus hundreds of parents, thronged Ludington Park Sunday afternoon for the Bike Safety Day program.

Escanaba police, who cooperated with the Escanaba Jaycees and the Optimist Club, called the event great success in encouraging safety practices among the community's bike-riding population.

Mayor Cecil B. Chase was delegated the pleasure of presenting the top awards — a boy's bike and girl's bike contributed by local merchants — to the winners. But it was discovered that neither was present to receive them.

Food Situation Better In Biafra

GENEVA (AP) — Steady improvement in the food and health situation in Biafra and Nigeria was reported today by the International Red Cross Committee.

New record hauls during the past few weeks by the Red Cross airlift have put the flow of food supplies at a level well above original targets.

The threat of measles and smallpox epidemics in Biafra has been eliminated through a large-scale vaccination program, Prof. Jacques Freymond, vice president of the committee, told a news conference.

Although the rainy season has started, the Red Cross expects to continue its airlift to Biafra at the same high rate set during the past few weeks, which allowed weekly distribution of 1,200 tons of food.

The winners announced by police are Dan Giguere, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Giguere of 1634 Lake Shore Drive; and Sally DeMars, 10, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon DeMars of 420 S. 6th St.

In their absence, Mayor Chase delivered Dan's bike to him, and a sister received the new bike for Sally.

There were many other awards including bike accessories presented to the estimated 1,000 youngsters who attended the event that included the application of safety reflectorized tape on bikes by the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The program climaxed two weeks of intensive bike safety education carried on in Escanaba and Gladstone by Escanaba City Police and State Police of the Gladstone post.

U.P. To Ask State For Bigger Highway Share

By JEAN WORTH

ST. IGNACE — The coordinating Council of Operation Action-U.P. and UPCAP meeting here Saturday created a committee to carry the Upper Peninsula's request for a more equitable share of state highway construction funds to the Michigan State Highway Commission.

The Council acted after hours of discussion of the Upper Peninsula's highway problems. The state has almost ended highway construction in the Upper Peninsula because most of its highway money goes to match federal funds for the Interstate Highway System. What's left doesn't begin to cover the needs of the rest of the state's trunk-line system, which is the bigger part.

(The Upper Peninsula has only 50 miles of Interstate System highway from St. Ignace to Sault Ste. Marie and the state is spending only 1/3 of 1 per cent of its road building funds in the U.P.)

Committee Named
Chairman Harold Dettman, St. Ignace, of the Upper Peninsula Committee for Area Progress, presided at the Council meeting and named to the committee to present the U.P.'s plight to the State Highway Commission:

Edwin O. George, president of Detroit Edison Co., and Frank Hoholik, president of Manistique Pulp & Paper Co., representing Operation Action; Frank Bourke, Escanaba, Michigan Consolidated Gas Co., president of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Upper Michigan; William Asselin, Norway, president of the Michigan U.S. 2 Improvement Council; W. H. Treloar, Marquette, and Jean Worth, Escanaba, of Panax Newspapers and Irvin Horton of WLUC-TV, Marquette. Dettman will represent UPCAP.

Stress No Projects

The two top economic development organizations in the Upper Peninsula decided to ask for the Upper Peninsula a fairer, larger share of the state's highway money after rejecting pleas for specific projects. Major needs advanced were improvement of present U.S. 2, east-west, improvement of U.S. 41, north-south to continue a route Wisconsin is developing as an Interstate System segment, and a long-range high speed east-west route, either by upgrading of U.S. 2 into a four-lane or by creating a new highway.

Walker Cislak, chairman of the board of supervisors of the state of Michigan, and co-chairman of Operation Action, keynoted the state's basic needs for highway development in the Upper Peninsula. Social, political and economic stability, he said, depend on people, natural resources and energy. They're now in imbalance and can only be brought into balance by creating the means of productivity.

State Cooperative
Transportation and economic development of the U.P., he said, "and I believe that it is the duty of the state to provide it with the kind of investment in highways that is needed here. It will be a small investment to make compared with the results we'll have in the future."

Rock

Emil DeBacker of Bucyrus, Ohio, attended the funeral of Renee Verbrugghe, visited Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Beauchamp and family and Mr. and Mrs. Brand Nummelen and son, Brian Jr., in Rock and other relatives in surrounding area recently. Brand Jr. is his first great grandchild.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Madzia of Detroit have purchased and moved into the former Hugo Hoyert home in West Rock.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Beauchamp went to Fort Campbell, Ky., last week and were accompanied home by Pvt. Tom Beauchamp, who will be home on a 30 day convalescent leave following an emergency appendectomy operation April 11.

Trooper and Mrs. Henry Lampi and daughter of Munising and Mrs. Helen Lampi of Rock have returned home after visiting with the Donald Kievet family in Holland, Mich. Mrs. Kievet is the former Dorothy Lampi.

Mrs. Eva DeBacker has returned from Pompano Beach, Fla. where she had been employed. She visited with Mr. and Mrs. Brand Nummelen and saw her first great grandchild, Brand Jr., for the first time. She also visited the Ronald Beauchamp family in Rock and relatives in other areas.

Asselin said the U.S. 2 Association had been created by the boards of supervisors in counties served by his route to promote its development. He suggested that U.S. 2 is the No. 1 priority need of the U.P. highway crisis.

Edwin George said that the Highway Department had declined to send representatives to the conference here, but that it was not uncooperative, nor unresponsive to U.P. highway needs.

U.P. Agreed On Need

Frank Bourke said that the Highway Department had used as a crutch for inaction on U.P. highway construction the Upper Peninsula's failure to agree on highway need priorities, but that this was not the true picture and that the U.P. does agree unanimously on the vital need for highway improvement if the area is to move ahead economically.

"What we'd like to achieve," he said "is an end of this horrible, stultifying situation of lack of adequate roads in the Upper Peninsula." He urged a new state policy of improvement of existing U.P. highways and development of new routes. This he said, would require a new concept to create economic benefits through massive federal and state funding of highway construction.

Senator Thomas Schweigert (R-Petoskey — acting lieutenant governor of Michigan) encouraged the presentation of needs to the Highway Commission, cited the box that Michigan is in because the Interstate System gets the hog's share of federal highway aid to the state, and said that major routes in the Lower Peninsula like U.S. 21 from Flint to Port Huron are as poor as U.S. 2 in the U.P.

Varnum Bill
Rep. Charles Varnum (R-Manistique) said he had co-authored a bill to require that $41 million of highway funds be expended north of Town Line 16 (Muskegon-Bay City) each year. Northern Michigan legislators don't expect the bill to emerge from committee but hope it expresses their unhappiness with the state's present allocation of seven-eighths of one per cent of its road building funds to the Upper Peninsula, which is nearly a geographical third of Michigan.

Congressman Philip Ruppe (R-Houghton) said that the U.P. highway problem goes beyond any one route favored by any region and also goes beyond the present time. The Interstate Highway System, which matches state funds for road-building 90 to 10 and gets first call on all state roadbuilding money, will not be completed until 1973.

Dim Prospect
The first major chance to re-appportion federal aid to build primary, secondary and urban state highways will come then. Then, hopefully, the state will be able to spend its federal aid more as it sees needful and it may be possible to get more U.P. roadbuilding.

Meanwhile the concentration on Interstate System roadbuilding to the exclusion of other highways in the U.P. will become even more severe.

Ruppe saw the Upper Great Lakes Regional Commission serving Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota as a faint hope for major highway construction because of its meager funding by Congress and poor prospect of large funding.

Roger Rehberg of the Michigan State Department of Commerce, Lansing, said the Upper Great Lakes Commission had allotted $100,000 for economic development planning in the region, which could be used for highway planning and other planning needs.

Downtown To Fight Post Office Change

By CLINT DUNATHAN

The Escanaba Post Office and its proposed relocation was the major topic of conversation between Congressman Philip Ruppe, the downtown business interests, and City Councilmen at a luncheon meeting with Ruppe at the Sherman Hotel Wednesday noon.

There was also interest expressed in what if any federal funds might be forthcoming for downtown redevelopment — but it was the fate of the Post Office location that centered the discussion.

The Post Office Department has approved and purchased a site for a new post office, to be located at 25th St. and 1st Ave. N., which is some 19 blocks west of the present location.

Plan Petitions

The relocation skips right over the downtown business district and comes down adjacent to the site where Red Owl is to develop the first big shopping center in the Escanaba area.

Downtown business interests, concerned and frustrated in their efforts to anchor the commercial district, have been unable to come up with a downtown site that would meet the Post Office Department's criteria on site cost and convenience.

But the effort will continue and the circulation of a petition under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce Civic Affairs Committee headed by Henry H. Dubbelde, asking the Post Office Department to keep Escanaba's post office in the downtown area, will be the next step.

The petition plus a statement of reasons why the Escanaba post office should not be moved to the city's fringe area to the west will be taken to Washington by a delegation, it was indicated.

Make It Strong

Congressman Ruppe promised to give the delegation and the community his help with the Post Office Department but said there is no assurance that the Department site decision will be reversed.

Walter Lewke, manager, Escanaba Chamber of Commerce, opened the meeting and introduced Ruppe. Without waiting for the post office question, Ruppe advised the group that if it wants the site reconsidered it should prepare "a statement of reasons" in opposition to the proposed new site.

"Make the strongest presentation you can," he advised. Petitions supporting the need for a centrally-located postal facility, plus a delegation to Washington would help, he said.

Ruppe said that meanwhile he will make immediate inquiries of the Postal Department and "if the door is still ajar on the question I will let you know." He will also determine what if any federal funds are available for urban renewal and will advise the local Chamber of Commerce.

VFW District Officers Are Chosen At Meet

Harry F. Johnson of Menominee was elected commander and Eleanor DeSautel of Manistique was named Auxiliary president at the spring convention of the 14th District Post and Auxiliary, Veterans of Foreign Wars, held at Menominee May 3 and 4.

Officers from the Escanaba Post are: George Cholger, junior vice commander and poppy chairman; John Anzalone, adjutant; Ernest Briere, judge advocate and employment chairman; Wilfred Doucette, trustee and historian; C. C. Newell, assistant department chief of staff; Mark DeGrand, membership chairman; Lucille Cholger, secretary; and Jean Yanitsky, Betty Anzalone, Mary St. Jacques, and Pearl Dupont, flag bearers.

Registration of delegates and memorial services were held Saturday at the Riverside Cemetery veteran's plot followed by a social in the evening.

A school of instruction was held Sunday morning at the Menominee High School gym followed by a luncheon at St. Geynet Hall. Election of officers and business meetings were held in the afternoon.

Attending from Escanaba were Commander Hilding Skoglund, Ernest Briere, and Auxiliary President Lorraine Briere, Mr. and Mrs. George Cholger, Mr. and Mrs. John Anzalone, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Thibodeau, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Doucette, Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Doucette, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Levesque, Mark DeGrand, C. C. Newell and the Mesdames Jean Yanitsky, Pearl Dupont and Mary St. Jacques.

Mrs. Henry Levesque was awarded the floral centerpiece.

Water Works Institute Set For May 12-13

The 21st annual U.P. Water Works Institute, sponsored jointly by Michigan Technological University, Michigan Department of Public Health, and the Michigan Section of American Water Works Association, will be held in Escanaba on May 12 and 13.

Cletus Courchaine, engineer in charge of the Northern Peninsula Office of the Michigan Department of Public Health, said the meetings are held to provide technical training to public water department personnel.

The meeting will be held in the conference room of the State Office Building, Francis D'Amour, superintendent of water treatment for the city of Escanaba, is making the local arrangements.

The U.P. Education Committee of the Michigan Section AWWA, of which Courchaine is chairman, planned the institute. Other committee members include D'Amour of Escanaba, Leno Alexander of Norway, John Blosswick of Mackinac Island, and Prof. E. P. Wiedenhofer of Houghton.

According to Courchaine, the program will be of interest to all waterworks personnel in the Upper Peninsula.

Some of the persons attending will remain in Escanaba to write examinations for certification as water treatment plant operators on May 14.

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Compensatory damages totaling more than $2.4 million have been awarded by federal court to seven surviving crewmen and to relatives of dead crewmen of the S. S. Cedarville of Rogers City.

The award Wednesday by U.S. District Court at Cleveland came on the fourth anniversary of the ship's sinking in the Straits of Mackinac after a collision with the Norwegian freighter Topdalsfjord. Ten of the 32 Cedarville crewmen were killed.

Largest award by the court was $425,084 to Alice Lamp of Rogers City, widow of the limestone carrier's chief engineer.

The decision on compensatory awards was made by two commissioners appointed by U. S. District Judge James C. Connel.

Truman Celebrates His 85th Birthday

WASHINGTON (AP) — His clothes hang loose now on a pitifully thin frame; his knuckles go white as his hands clutch a cane; his visits with cherished old friends are few—he tires easily.

This is Harry S. Truman, 85 years old today.

Once he presided over the world's mightiest nation. Now his world is usually bounded by the short walks an arthritic old man can take from the century-old white frame home in Independence, Mo., where he has lived since he left Washington 16 years ago.

Once his every action made waves. Now, on the back stoop of history, he is watched mostly by Beas, the grade school sweetheart he married 50 years ago next month.

Once his words were flashed around the world. Now he gives no interviews, makes no speeches. What there is to be learned about him has to come from intimate friends.

Avid Reader

In the quiet of that big house at Truman Road and Delaware, separated from the world by his feebleness and a big iron fence, he is busy with the avocation of a lifetime, the pursuit of knowledge. He reads or is read to from four books at a time, skipping restlessly like a hungry diner from one tidbit to the next.

Five years ago, Truman's 80th birthday was celebrated with a round of parties in Kansas City, Washington and New York. He returned home exhausted and Mrs. Truman put her foot down. He began to appear less and less at public functions.

In 1967 he asked Henry Talge, an industrialist who had thrown huge birthday luncheons for him since 1953 to cut them out "because I need to conserve my energy."

Talge said "you can't do too much for this man" and continued to stage the luncheons with he has not seen Truman look better in years than he does right now—after three weeks in the Florida sun. The walks are almost routine again, but not as far, as brisk or as early.

Three mornings a week he dictates letters to Rose Conway, his secretary from White House days. Except for the recent visit by President Nixon—when Truman was given his old White House piano—the former president has not gone to the Truman Library in 2½ years. The library, with a wing added recently, had been Truman's biggest source of pride as well as his office and receiving place for important visitors, since it was built in 1957.

Nowadays, after getting an okay from Mrs. Truman, VIP's come to the Truman home. They rarely stay more than a half hour. Mrs. Truman sees to that.

guests raising their glasses in salute to an empty chair. Ministers of six faiths were on the program for today's luncheon.

Was Early Riser

Age has altered many of the Truman hallmarks. Famed as an early-morning riser, Truman sleeps now until after 7 a.m.—late for him. Part of this, friends say, is because of the medications he takes for the arthritis in his right hip, for the intestinal ailments that sometimes plague him, for the dizziness he often suffers.

He used to say his brisk morning walks kept him fit and he hoped it would prevent arthritis from crippling him as it did his sister. But a few years ago, because of the dizzy spells, he had to abandon the walks.

He was never a big eater, and the lack of exercise shrunk his appetite further. His weight, friends say, is about 125 pounds—50 pounds under his presidential weight.

Try Riding U.P. Highways, State Legislators Told

By CLINT DUNATHAN

Come down out of the air and experience the uneasy pleasure of a ride on state highways in the Upper Peninsula, members of the Michigan House and Senate were told in Escanaba Saturday.

The hearing of the House and Senate conservation committees was on the controversial subject of allocating a $100 million recreation bond issue approved by the voters last fall.

But Senator Gordon Rockwell (R-Mt. Morris) who chaired the hearing and his fellow legislators got some first information on other problems.

H. H. Dubbelde, banker and Delta County Republican Committee chairman, said he spoke only for himself at the hearing. But his remarks about the poor condition of state trunklines in the U.P. met with applause from the other Peninsula residents.

"You people should drive into the Upper Peninsula, not fly in to Escanaba, but try driving here on U.S. 2," he said.

The condition of U.S. 2 has been a touchy (and bumpy) question for several years as it deteriorates under increased traffic and reduced funding. Gov. Milliken, who is scheduled to come to the U.P. this week, was asked to try driving over it so he will be better aware of its deficiencies.

Councilman Thor Reque of Manistiquette also took up the highway question and suggested to the legislators that "we had hoped our representatives would ride over our highways, rather than fly over them."

Senator Rockwell replied: "We do try to drive all we can but time just does not permit highway travel for long trips."

Escanaba City Clerk Don Guindon, reporting to the legislators on a resolution adopted by the City Council relating to the recreation fund split, was asked by one of the representatives about "the pot holes" he had seen from the air when they in.

The "pot holes" are duck nesting areas in Portage Marsh cleared in a conservation program.

Afterward it was suggested to Guindon that he might have told the legislators the pot hole area was one of the sections of Highway U.S. 2.

James Dompier of Baraga County, who identified himself as a member of the Board of Supervisors, told the legislators that the Pearson Act is working a hardship on local units of government by reducing tax revenues from forest lands.

"Throw it out or revise it," he said of the Pearson Act.

Varnum, Payant Criticize MSU

LANSING—A pair of Upper Peninsula state legislators today joined in criticism of Michigan State University acting President Walter Adams' handling of recent student complaints of racial discrimination.

A number of black students commandeered the cafeteria of one of MSU's dormitories in protest of alleged discrimination and harassment of black student employees by white supervisory personnel.

After occupying the cafeteria for three days, the protestors won acceptance of their demands from Dr. Adams, including the demolition and transfer of the two supervisors.

Charles H. Varnum (R-Manistiquette) and John D. Payant (R-Iron Mountain) said they believe the two MSU employees may have been denied due process of law in the action taken by MSU administrators.

"Quick Decision"

"The decision in this matter was made so quickly," Varnum said, "I find it hard to believe these people had an adequate chance to defend themselves. The faculty and student committee hearing the case was picked by Adams and the protesting black students. I would guess that they chose a panel which might not have been completely objective."

"I think there's a serious question as to whether the civil rights of the two supervisors have been violated," said Payant. "Charges of discrimination need to be investigated very thoroughly. I doubt that the university's investigation of this matter was very thorough."

Varnum, minority chairman of the House Colleges and Universities Committee, said he thought the action was taken to appease the protesting students. "We have a Civil Rights Commission in this state," Varnum said, "which is empowered to investigate charges of racial discrimination. I believe that would have been the better course to follow than this arbitrary decision very much affecting the lives and careers of the university personnel involved."

"It seems to me that we need stronger leadership at Michigan State University," Payant said. "I believe that the students involved could have made their protest known without occupying the cafeteria and forcing other students to go elsewhere for their meals. It seems to me that this case could have been taken care of much more fairly within the regulations of the university. Those regulations should have been enforced. By accepting the demands of the student protesters, the university and President Adams have demonstrated to campus radicals that their lawless tactics work. I think that shows extremely poor leadership."

Walter Lewke, representing the Chamber of Commerce and chairman of the building's multiple uses committee, pointed out that the city needs a building of this type to house home, auto and boat shows as well as conventions and an indoor ice rink.

The next general meeting has been tentatively scheduled for June 14 and the individual committees were requested to hold meetings before then.

The basic structure committee will meet every Wednesday for the next month at 4 p.m. at the Civic Center beginning May 14.

Attending Saturday's meeting were Lyle Plowman, Paul Vardigan, Albert LaFave, Walt Lewke, Carl Eastman, George Petaja, John Dulek, Robert Bink, Mike Utt, Herman Kahlala and Mrs. Leo Niquette.

NEW DELHI (AP) — A gun carriage carried the body of President Zakir Husain through India's capital today to his final resting place in a garden of flowers he himself had planted at Jamia Millia University.

Hundreds of thousands of mourners lined the route tossing roses, his favorite flower.

Just before the funeral procession began police charged with steel-tipped bamboo canes to hold back stampeding crowds trying to get a final glimpse of the body as it lay in state in the presidential palace, Durbar Hall. Scores were hurt.

Tractor Kills

Court To Act On Residency Rule In National Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court agreed today to review state residency requirements for voting for president.

The action, setting a hearing for next term, follows the court's holding that states cannot set residency requirements for welfare assistance.

The voting case, which covers somewhat the same ground, was brought to the court by a Colorado lawyer and his wife who said some five million people were kept from voting in the United States last year because of residency requirements.

The lawyer, Richard Hall of Colorado Springs, said these laws can be decisive in close presidential elections such as the race last year, and therefore the Supreme Court should pass judgment.

In other actions today, the court:

—Threw out an Illinois law requiring independent candidate for statewide political office to be nominated by voters in at least 50 of the state's 102 counties.

—Refused a hearing to a Miami man who claimed the telephone company had no right to listen in and said if he was cheating on long-distance calls. He has been convicted of defrauding the company.

Hall and his wife, Christine, appealed following a ruling by a three-judge federal court in Denver last December that Colorado's residency requirements are reasonable.

The Halls had been unable to vote in November because they had moved into the state recently from Lafayette, Calif. They also were not allowed to vote in California.

To vote in Colorado one has to be a resident of the state at least six months, of the city or county at least 90 days and of the voting precinct at least 15 days.

In Michigan a voter must have lived in the state for six months and in his local precinct for 30 days.

The Halls told the court in their appeal that "any restrictions placed upon the right to vote should be closely scrutinized and carefully confined." They recalled that "This court has repeatedly held that the right to vote is a fundamental right in a free and democratic society."

Look For Move On Parochialism

LANSING (AP)—Attempts to appropriate state funds for non-public schools and increase Michigan's payments to Detroit public schools were expected in the House tonight.

Proponents of both measures intended to link them with a bill to appropriate more than $845 million for public schools.

Chairman William Copeland, D-Detroit, said his House Appropriations Committee probably would send the bill to the floor after adding a token appropriation for parochialism.

The committee also was expected to increase the $115 million earmarked for Detroit schools by the Senate.

"Only 75 cents for parochialism would be total victory," said Rep. J. Robert Traxler, D-Bay City, main sponsor of the parochialism drive. His $40 million parochialism bill was introduced in March but advocates of aiding nonpublic schools feel that establishing the principle of parochialism—however small the funds might be—would be a significant victory.

One Senate Democrat has estimated that 23 of the upper chamber's 38 members would vote for parochialism.

Charles O. Zollar, R-Benton Harbor, chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee, has indicated the Senate would look at any House-sponsored parochialism amendment "but nothing that would take money away from public education."

"It's a shame they are throwing away a chance of a lifetime," he wrote. "I know many of my fellow convicts would give a fortune for the same opportunity to enter college and get an education. I know they would be the best behaved students on the campus and wouldn't act like the fools who are presently concerned with the downfall and degeneration of the universities."

"To see presidents bowing down to Nazi-like students is a jolt to the senses and makes me wonder who is in charge of the schools. I hope it is the teachers," Whitehead concluded.

Whitehead, sentenced in 1966 from Ingham County, wrote of the students:

"It makes me sick to read of those few students who in the name of freedom and under the guise of the right to protest use such actions to speak their piece."

"Now as a convict, I have had some dealings with the law," Whitehead wrote. "And I will be the first to stand up for our Constitutional rights. But I will not attempt to hide behind those rights to destroy our nation."

"Protesting peacefully and raving and rioting are two different things. And those students who do this should be dealt with accordingly as the law provides," he wrote.

No Progress In GM Strike

DETROIT (AP) — Strikes entered their second week today at eight plants of General Motors Corp., where 63,100 workers had been idled by the weekend.

No progress was reported today by either General Motors or the United Auto Workers Union in weekend negotiations.

There are 36,100 on strike at six plants of the GM Assembly division, plus a Chevrolet assembly and Fisher Body plant in St. Louis.

An additional 27,000 either have been laid off or placed on short work weeks because of inventory buildups at parts manufacturing plants which supply the assembly division.

GM's auto production has been cut by about a third, and the company estimates it lost 37,015 cars from last month's planned production because of the strikes.

Some 36,000 at six GM Assembly division plants walked out last Monday when new local-level working agreements forced by consolidation of Fisher Body and Chevrolet plants were not reached by a union-set deadline.

In an unrelated strike at Fisher and Chevrolet plants in St. Louis more than 8,000 are off their jobs in a work standards dispute.

AMC Foregoes Dividend

DETROIT (AP) — American Motors Corp. reported today a net profit of $5.2 million for the six months ended last March 31.

The earnings were equal to 28 cents per share of common stock, but directors bypassed a dividend for the current quarter ending June 30. AMC has not paid a dividend since it distributed 12½ cents in September, 1965.

The $5.2 million was the best in four years for any first six months of an AMC fiscal year. It compares with $1.1 million, equal to six cents a share, in the same October - March half of the previous year.

AMC reported earnings of $734,321 for the quarter ended March 31, compared with a loss of $3.3 million in the January-March span in 1968. It was the first second quarter profit AMC has shown since 1965.

New Director Of Peace Corps

WASHINGTON (AP) — Joseph H. Blatchford took office as new director of the Peace Corps today, and said he'd like to see the world-ranging corps tackle some of the United States' own problems here at home.

A 34-year-old lawyer from San Pedro, Calif., Blatchford was sworn in at a ceremony in the White House Rose Garden, where President Nixon urged him to develop new ideas and programs.

Nixon pledged to give them "very high priority in this administration."

Later, Blatchford said he had talked to the President about trying to enlarge the Peace Corps and include American projects.

He also suggested bringing foreign nationals to work in this country in a kind of "reverse Peace Corps" to help solve some U.S. problems.

Blatchford said he would set up a task force this week to study these ideas and he hoped to test them with pilot projects. "It's very important that we make the Peace Corps relevant to 1969," Blatchford said, explaining that the world has changed since the Peace Corps was launched in 1961.

Marquette Man Drowns, Boat Partner Saved

MARQUETTE — Edmond F. Patenaude, 72, of Marquette, retired Lake Shore, Inc., executive, drowned about 3 p.m. Saturday when a small, aluminum boat in which he and a companion were fishing capsized in Lake Superior north of Big Bay.

State Police reported that Patenaude apparently was sitting in the middle of the boat and his companion, Robert K. Bean, 42, Marquette, was attempting to start the motor when the boat turned over.

They were about a half mile off shore at the time, officers said.

The two men clung to the overturned boat, but Patenaude slipped into the water after about an hour. Bean was rescued by Dr. James Lyons and his son, Thomas, both of Marquette, who also were fishing in the area and saw the capsized boat.

Bean was hospitalized for treatment for exhaustion and exposure.

Patenaude worked for Lake Shore, Inc., for 52 years, retiring as vice president and superintendent of the company's Marquette plant May 31, 1965. His body was recovered by State Police and sheriff's deputies Sunday morning.

Services will be conducted at the Tonella Funeral Home at 2 p.m. Wednesday.

Jobless Rate Edges Upward

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's unemployment rate edged up to 3.5 per cent last month and the recent rapid growth in employment slowed down, the Labor Department reported today.

"You can see the slowdown in all the major industries," said Asst. Commissioner Harold Goldstein of the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

The rise in the jobless rate was one-tenth of one per cent above March. Most of the increase was among women and teen-agers, the bureau said.

The actual number of unemployed Americans was 2.5 million in April, a drop of 200,000 from March. But the decline was 117,000 less than usually expected in April and the bureau adjusts the jobless rate according to seasonal factors, thus getting an increase.

Nonfarm payroll employment increased 34,000 in April, the smallest rise in job growth since January of 1968, Goldstein said.

Total employment declined 441,000 to 77,079,000 while the civilian labor force increased 355,000 to 79,621,000, the bureau said.

Goldstein said it was too early to tell whether the slight rise in unemployment and the slowdown in job growth the past two months indicated a slackening of economic growth sufficient to start slowing price inflation.

Policeman David Sisak said furniture had been piled up in a cadet lounge as if to be set ablaze, but the arsonists apparently fled before applying a match. A university security patrolman discovered the fires.

The ROTC office was heavily damaged, but most of what was burned was instructional material, which can be replaced.

ROTC participation at Western Michigan is voluntary, and there have been no recent campus demonstrations specifically against the unit.

Arsonists some two months ago set a fire in a National Guard storage garage in downtown Kalamazoo, damaged some vehicles and doing considerable damage.

Cardinal Dearden appeared delighted at what he said was a "very warm and surprising reception."

As he left his chartered TWA flight which returned him from Rome with 140 other passengers, Cardinal Dearden walked along a Metropolitan Airport terminal lined with 75 members of the fourth-degree Knights of Columbus Color Corps.

Clan MacRae, a bagpipe orchestra from Dearborn, and the Detroit Fire Department Band played music.

Among those returning with the head of the Archdiocese of Detroit was Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh.

Man Fails To Get To Cuba

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — A jetliner passenger clad in tattered clothing was jailed after a stewardess said he asked her to tell the pilot he wanted to go to Cuba.

FBI agents in Tampa Sunday arrested John Carleton Kivlen, 42, unemployed and address unknown. He was jailed in lieu of $25,000 bond on a charge of attempting to commit aircraft piracy aboard an airliner in flight.

Kivlen, whose last known address was San Diego, Calif., was removed from a Los Angeles-to-Miami National Airlines flight. FBI agents said he was not armed.

Stewardess Carol Lee Migon, 23, said, "He asked me, 'Have you ever been to Havana?' and I said, 'No' and walked away. He kept asking for coffee."

"Then he asked for another cup of coffee and another stewardess, Nancy Sylvester, served him. He said 'Would you ask the captain to take the plane to Cuba?'"

At that point, Miss Migon said, she and Miss Sylvester informed the pilot, after the plane, carrying 65 passengers, made its scheduled stop in Tampa, it continued to Miami. Other passengers were unaware of the incident.

Osteopaths' President Against AMA Merger

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—The president of the American Osteopathic Association asserted Sunday his profession could never merge with the American Medical Association because of its health care policies.

Dr. Roy S. Young of Harbor Beach, Mich., said the AMA has fought virtually every piece of progressive medical legislation introduced during the last 40 years.

He spoke at the annual convention of the Michigan Association of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons.

The AMA not only has attempted to destroy the osteopathic profession, Dr. Young charged, but it has fought Medicare, Blue Cross, public venereal disease clinics, free cancer detection centers, medical school construction and several other programs.

A merger of the two medical practices, he said, would benefit only the AMA by eliminating the strong and competitive osteopathic profession.

Dr. Young said that in recent years the AMA has attempted to destroy the osteopathic profession through tactics ranging from merger offers to attempted "academic piracy" of osteopathic students and the appropriation of AMA funds for the purchase of existing osteopathic colleges.

Community Pays Tribute To Retiring Jean Worth

BY DAVE ANDREWS

One of the most prestigious groups of people ever gathered in Escanaba Wednesday night gave a standing tribute to the retiring editor of the Escanaba Daily Press.

More than 550 persons jammed into the Terrace in a testimonial dinner for Jean Worth, who completed over 40 years in active newspaper work and 14 years as Daily Press editor Saturday.

Awards and tributes came from all walks of society throughout the Great Lakes states.

Speakers included Philip E. Ruppe of Houghton, U. S. Congressman; Frank Kelley of Lansing, state attorney general; Henry Harnischfeger of Milwaukee, president of Harnischfeger Corp.; Robert Arvid, Chillicothe, Ohio, vice president of Mead Corp.; Dr. Claude Bosworth of Marquette, vice president, student service, Northern Michigan University and John P. McGoff, East Lansing, president of Panax Corp.

Michigan Gov. William G. Milliken also made a brief appearance at the dinner to offer his best wishes before flying to Manistique for a Republican dinner program.

"I'm overwhelmed, of course," Worth said in a broken voice. "This is unbelievable. I thank you all very much."

"Tremendous Force"

Ruppe, who was introduced by W. H. (Waba) Treloar of Marquette, former publisher of the Escanaba Daily Press, the Marquette Mining Journal and the Iron Mountain News who served as toastmaster, praised Worth as "one of the tremendous, driving forces in the Upper Peninsula."

"He's been the editorial conscience of the U. P.," he added. "The greatness of Jean Worth is that he's developed the spirit of the Upper Peninsula."

Harnischfeger, who brought his corporation into Escanaba in 1948, said that while a person doesn't always agree with what Worth says and does "you respect him and that is the greatest tribute you can give."

Kelley called Worth a "great practitioner of his profession."

Arvid, who praised Worth's efforts over the years in interpreting the forest products industries in the Upper Peninsula, announced that Worth has been asked to serve as a consultant in communications and public relations for Mead Corp.

"He isn't finishing a career," Arvid said, "but instead is starting an exciting new one."

Degree Conferred

The honorary degree of "universal professor of education for the Upper Peninsula" was conferred on Worth by Dr. Bosworth.

McGoff said that Worth would begin a "new role" with Panax Corp., serving as a consultant and feature writer for the corporation's 14 Michigan newspapers.

Awards were presented by Lakes Superior State College, the U. S. Dept. of Commerce, Northern Hardwood and Pine Manufacturers Association, the Upper Peninsula Committee on Area Progress (UPCAP), American Timber Homes, Inc., and the Friends of Jean Worth Committee.

Dozens of telegrams and letters from well-wishers were received and a full color portrait of Worth taken by Lee's Studio of Escanaba was unveiled. A television video tape of the entire program was made by American Cablevision and will be presented to the Worth family.

Resolutions of commendation were received from the Michigan Legislature, the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce, the Upper Midwest Research and Development Council, the Escanaba City Council, Northern Michigan University, Michigan Technological University, the Escanaba Area public schools, the Department of Natural Resources and Operation Action U. P.

Faculty Position

Dr. Richard Rinehart, president of Bay de Noc Community College, announced that Harnischfeger Corp. and the woods industries of the area "have endowed a Jean Worth Chair in Communications" at the community college "as a community service to make it possible for Jean Worth to be able to continue to offer his services to the large community."

Firm To Install Burner In Stack To Halt Odors

MANISTIQUE—Larko Chemical Co. announced this week plans to install a burner in their stack to completely eliminate fumes from their fish processing operation.

Carl Aldrich, plant manager, said the burner will use natural gas and will heat to a maximum of 1,300 degrees. The plant now utilizes a water-bank process which has proved inadequate in controlling the odor of the processing.

Aldrich said the firm processed some smelt during the recent smelt season, purchased from commercial fishermen, and plans to begin processing alewives in June. The firm uses the fish to make protien meal.

President On Long Weekend

KEY BISCAINE (AP) — President Nixon is spending a long weekend at his bedside home, where aides said he was busying himself mainly with domestic problems.

The President was accompanied to Florida Wednesday night by Dr. Henry A. Kissinger, his special assistant for national security affairs. But press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler suggested that the foreign policy adviser simply came along to get some sun, too.

The only announced event of the weekend is a Saturday meeting of Nixon and some of his advisers on domestic policy.

Mrs. Nixon did not accompany her husband. She stayed behind on this Mother's Day weekend because daughter Tricia will be hostess at a masked ball at the White House Saturday night.

No major announcements were expected during the presidential stay.

their free world allies, then those attacks will be repulsed," Lodge said captured documents show more attacks are being planned. He cited one document which called for "greater victories at a faster tempo."

Rare Appearance

Seated in the conference room was Le Duc Tho, member of the North Vietnamese Politburo, who has just returned to Paris after three months of consultations in Hanoi and visits to Peking and Moscow. It was one of Tho's rare personal appearances inside the meeting room.

Lodge made no reference to private talks. Neither did the South Vietnamese representative, Nguyen Xuan Phong, who spoke next.

Lodge pointed out that Secretary of State William P. Rogers had stated that the only alternative to early progress in the peace talks is not an indefinite extension of the present U. S. role. He warned the North Vietnamese and the Viet Cong not to count on a unilateral U. S. troop withdrawal unless, as Rogers said, there was a reduction in the fighting and progress in the Paris talks.

Hanoi's Decision

"Whether peace comes more gradually or more rapidly to Vietnam is, thus, a decision for Hanoi," Lodge said.

Phong, speaking in the absence of Pham Dang Lam who is in Saigon for consultations, also dealt with the other side's charges that the United States is intensifying the war.

Friends may call at the Kell-Tondin Chapel in Spalding after 4 p. m. Friday. The parish Rosary will be recited at 8 p. m.

'End Of Beginning' Nixon Informs GOP

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon, presiding over $2.7 million worth of Republican rejoicing, has declared his administration is at "the end of the beginning" in dealing with war, crime and inflation.

"I think the American people will begin to see the results of that progress," he told a $1,000-a-plate GOP fund raising dinner Wednesday night.

Nixon said, "naturally and understandably," some people have been critical of the pace of his administration during its first 100 days.

The President said he deliberately sought "not to make the kind of record that looks very good in the headlines tomorrow" but is found wanting in the history books.

"We want a record of solid achievement," he said.

He said it would have been easy to promise withdrawal of American forces from Vietnam or an end to inflation but that kind of pledge could not immediately have been fulfilled. "We're never going to promise something we can't produce," he said.

Paraphrasing Winston Churchill, Nixon said that even after three months in office he cannot say the new administration is at the beginning of the end in dealing with national problems.

"But I can say that we have reached the point that it's the end of the beginning," he said.

He said he spent the first 100 days developing plans and programs to reach that point. And he told the Republicans who paid $1,000 to dine on filet mignon that a year from now "this administration will have made the progress that you wanted."

The dinner was billed as a salute to the President, and Rep. Gerald R. Ford of Michigan, the House Republican leader, said it was the biggest and most successful in history.

Republican officials said the dinner in a hotel ballroom was expected to produce between $2.5 and $2.6 million after expenses. The proceeds will be divided evenly among the Republican House campaign committee, Senate campaign committee and national committee after unpaid expenses of the Nixon transition period are covered.

Stocks Higher On Peace Hope

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market continued higher in fairly active trading early this afternoon, with brokers reporting renewed hopes of progress in the Vietnam peace talks giving it some of its buoyancy.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 3.17 at 962.77.

Gains led losses by better than 150 issues.

Brokers said the market apparently was stimulated by the news of the 10-point peace plan put forth at the Vietnam peace talks in Paris by the Viet Cong. The 10-point plan calls for establishment of a coalition government and leaving to the Vietnamese people the question of dealing with Vietnam armed forces.

They said this seemed to encourage investors and helped the market to offset the consolidation phase that set in Wednesday, after the market's recent sharp advance. The Dow slipped 2.46 Wednesday to post its first loss of the week.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .5 at 340.2, with industrials up 1.5, rails off .1, and utilities up .1.

Agency To Start Day Care Center In Escanaba

The Menominee - Delta - Schoolcraft Community Action Executive Board has approved plans for a Day Care Center, it was announced by Edwin E. Wuehle, chairman protem.

Purpose of the Center, according to Wuehle, is to give mothers on ADC, who could be employed if they had someone to look after their preschool children, the opportunity to seek work.

The Center will be located in the Catherine Bonifas Civic Center and will provide a Head Start type program for children ages four and five years old from 7:30 a. m. to 5:30 p. m., Monday through Friday.

Director Ray LaPorte was authorized to apply to OEO for funds to get the Center started. The Michigan Department of Social Services will participate in the program by reimbursing the Community Action Agency at the rate of $4 per child per day when the program is in operation.

Jim Bruce, Head Start director, will direct the program.

Painesdale Draft Dodger Sentenced

KALAMAZOO (AP) — U. S. Dist. Judge W. Wallace Kent Wednesday sentenced Paul T. Chopp, 18, of Painesdale, to five years in federal prison for draft evasion. Chopp pleaded guilty April 18 to willfully failing to report for armed forces induction in Houghton last Aug. 6.

Budget OK'd For Head Start

The Menominee - Delta - Schoolcraft Community Action Agency Executive Board has approved a $164,558 budget submitted by Jim Bruce, Head Start director, for the 1969-70 Full Year Head Start Program.

In line with Nixon's administration policy, summer Head Start programs in 1970 will be de-emphasized and part of the funds will be allocated to full year programs. Submission of the program to the office of economic opportunity was approved by the Board.

CAA Director Ray LaPorte informed the Board that preliminary approval had been received from O.E.O. for $4,000 to assist the North Menominee Council Sheltered Work Shop committee to start a program for handicapped persons.

The Board also approved a request for O.E.O. for an additional $10,000, to be used in the tri-county dental program.

LaPorte notified the Board that $12,000 had been allocated to the Agency for Planning Development Grants. It was decided to explore the possibility of using these funds in a rural community development program, which would assist rural governmental units in using available resources to the best advantage and assisting officials in applying for funds for various public work projects.

Vocational education for secondary, post secondary and student drop outs was discussed at some length. The committee passed a resolution requesting UPAC to conduct a feasibility study in the three county area to determine vocational education needs and develop coordination with the intermediate school districts to relieve existing deficiencies.

LaPorte advised the group that the Community Action Agency's offices would be moving to the Civic Center May 16.

Flood Waters Wash Out Town

JAMESTOWN, Colo. (AP) — Churning flood waters five feet deep rolled through parts of this isolated mountain town today after four days of snow and rain sent rivers and streams out of their banks.

The Boulder County sheriff's office said a new access road was being constructed to the town of 300 and an emergency party had reached the community despite washed-out roads and bridges. Among those stranded were two pregnant women, due to give birth shortly, the sheriff's office said.

Flood waters rolled down the main street Wednesday, carrying away eight houses and the town cafe. There were no major injuries reported. Crews late Wednesday night dynamited debris-clogged spillways in an attempt to relieve pressure on dams which were holding swollen reservoirs above the village. Officials feared the flooding would be worse if the debris broke loose under water pressure.

To the southwest, authorities searched for a youth feared drowned in Boulder Creek. A sheriff's deputy said witnesses spotted a youth on a rubber inner tube riding the swirling waters but failed to see him emerge on the other side of a bridge.

Colorado Senate Raps Protesters

DENVER (AP) — The Colorado State Senate, stung by demonstrators' brief seizure of its rostrum, reacted quickly with antitrespass, antidisturbance legislation.

Using roundabout parliamentary maneuvering Wednesday, the Senate—just a few hours after the incident—approved measures providing fines of up to $500 and jail sentences of up to

Dow Reaffirms Napalm Stand

MIDLAND, Mich. (AP)—Top Dow Chemical Co. officials Wednesday reaffirmed the corporation's intention to produce napalm for use in Vietnam while antiwar demonstrators paraded outside Dow's annual stockholders' meeting.

About 150 demonstrators led by Clergy and Laymen Concerned About Vietnam peacefully picketed the meeting, which was held at a junior high school. The picketers carried signs reading "Babies Are Not for Burning," "War is Good—Invest Your Son" and "Dow Shalt Not Kill."

About a dozen students from Midland High School and nearby Delta College and Northwood Institute picketed the demonstrators carrying such signs as "We Support Dow Nowhow," "Patriotism Is My Bag" and "We Support Anything That Supports Our Boys."

All the demonstrations were orderly and police reported no incidents.

Inside the meeting, Dow Board Chairman Carl Gerstacker told stockholders that the firm had made "a moral commitment" to make napalm.

He said that as long as the government is drafting young men, Dow has a responsibility to support them. His speech was cheered enthusiastically by the audience.

Spectacular Effects On Andy Williams Show

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
NEW YORK (AP) — There was a co-star without big billing on Sunday night's "H. Andrew Williams' Magic Lantern Show Company." It was the fellow who dreamed up those spectacular optical effects that were the attention-grabbing feature of the first part of the NBC special.

Andy Williams' programs, whether the old weekly series or his recent specials, invariably are almost 100 per cent music. His final special of this season was no exception.

range was from "The Spanish Flea" to "Little Green Apples" —there seems to be an unwritten rule that the latter must be sung once in every variety show.

But had it not been for these extraordinary camera tricks, it would have been just another of those handsome, tuneful and slick musical specials that a number of producers have learned to turn out.

The fanciest trick was setting up four or five small boxes against a black background and filling each with performers singing—sometimes together. At one point Williams was operating in four boxes, singing close harmony with himself, with a fifth Andy Williams at the bottom of the screen directing the unusual chorus.

Roger Miller rode a motorcycle from box to box. At one point, when all the guest stars were in boxes, it appeared by some cinematic legerdemain that Andy was climbing up the side of one aperture and even was able to jump across to the top of another.

Negroes Boycott Schools, Stores

CHARLESTON, S.C. (AP) — Negro children were urged to boycott public schools today and their parents not to shop at downtown stores to demonstrate sympathy for striking hospital workers.

"If we can't march on King Street, we're not going to shop on King Street," the Rev. Ralph David Abernathy, head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), told a rally at a Negro church Sunday.

King Street is in the downtown business section.

The Rev. Andrew Young, executive vice president of the SCLC, told newsmen: "The kids will go back to school when the hospital workers go back to work."

Young said classes for Negro children would be held at Negro churches.

Vandalism, including window-breakings and fires, occurred again Sunday night despite a dusk to dawn curfew imposed last Thursday by Gov. Robert McNair.

The streets, deserted except for fleeing forays by Negro youths, were patrolled by National Guardsmen and scores of state and local police.

About 400 Negro nonprofessional workers at the state-supported Medical College Hospital and the Charleston Count Hospital have been on strike since mid-March. Their demand for higher pay and recognition of the Drug and Hospital Workers Union Local 1199B has become a major civil rights crusade.

Bedford Township Okays Millage

MONROE (AP) — Voters in the Bedford Township School District near Monroe have passed two money issues and rejected a third. The voters approved Saturday a five-year operating levy of 9.37 mills, 1.992-1.679. They passed a $4.5-million bond issue for a building program, 1,809-1,735. The voters rejected a $250,000 bond issue to provide a hot lunch program, 1,971-1,569.

Officials said the operating millage and bond issue totaled 13 mills, same amount as a levy which expired last December.

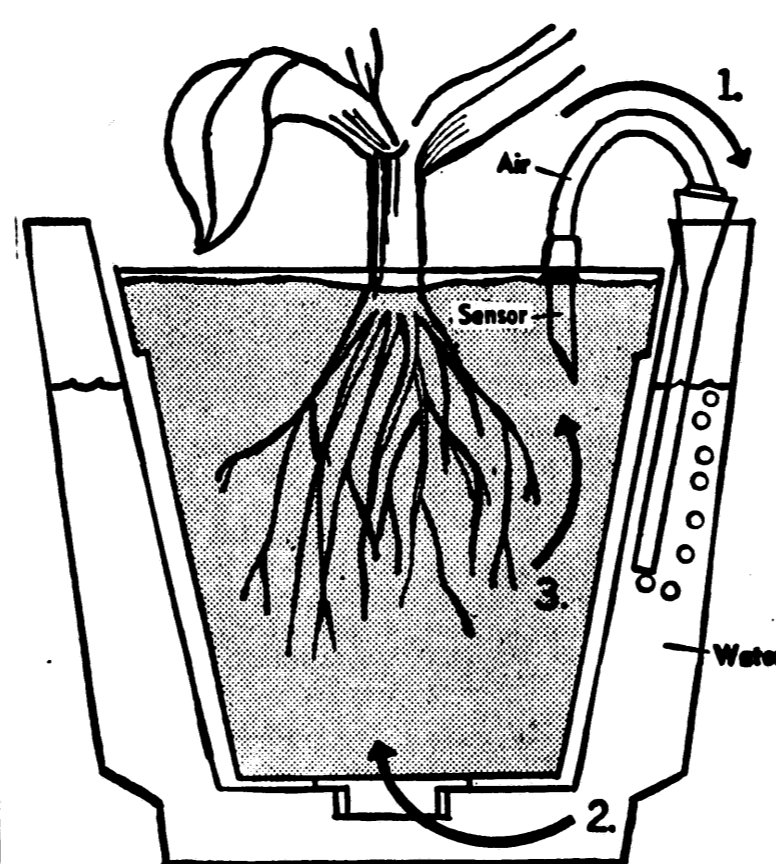

Power Failure Hits Coldwater

COLDWATER (AP) — An estimated 4,000 residents—about half the city's population—lost electric power for about two hours Sunday in Coldwater.

Officials of the Coldwater Board of Public Utilities did not reveal the cause of the power failure. The power loss mainly affected a residential section of the city.

How PLANTENDER works

The Plantender is a scientific watering system which will mind your plants while you're at home or away because the flow of water into the soil actually is determined by the plant. 1. As the moisture content of the soil drops below the proper level, air penetrates the sensor. 2. This causes water to flow from the base of the container into the soil. 3. When the correct soil moisture level is reached, air can no longer enter the sensor and the water flow is stopped. The Plantender, which holds enough water for several weeks, is a double-walled plastic container that accommodates a standard 4½-inch flower pot.

REBEAUTIFY VASES

You all know how grimy flower vases can become. These stains can be removed by washing vase thoroughly, then filling the vase with a solution of ¼-cup liquid bleach per gallon of warm water. Let stand five minutes, then rinse and dry.

VEST WITH DRESS

For a variation of the dress and jacket, try a long-sleeved dress with a three-quarter sleeveless vest or a sleeveless bolero—a dress in a neutral color can have its whole appearance changed simply by adding a different-colored vest or bolero.

MR. AND MRS. Eino Anderson of 227 N. 12th St., announce the engagement of their daughter, Dianna Marie, to Wally Tourangeau, son of Mr. and Mrs. Art Tourangeau of Waukesha, Wis. The wedding is planned for Oct. 18.

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Heloise:

As a wax manufacturer, may we suggest how housewives can do a bit of testing on their own floors when changing from one brand of wax to the next?

Any wax or finish should dry to a smooth, even surface with no ridges or markings. When spreading liquid waxes, the liquid should not go beyond the path of the applicator and should not dry in spots nor shrink while drying.

After allowing one hour for a wax to dry, the wax or finish should be "tack-free" to gloss paper laid upon the floor surface and should pull off with no sticking.

If water has no effect on the dry film of wax... it should be rated excellent.

Repeated applications of some types of wax on the floor might result in "BUILD-UP". This is called aging. If this happens, the wax must be entirely removed so as to prevent color change.

Hope this helps your homemakers.

Jack

Dear Heloise:

My baby's favorite toy is a plastic lemon juice container. When I have used up the juice, I remove the spout with a knife, remove the container and let it dry. Then stick a few pieces of macaroni inside. I smear some good dependable glue around the edge of the plug, reinsert it and baby has a nice new rattle.

It rolls, makes noise and is practically indestructible.

Hilda

Dear Heloise:

My husband wears white, oxford cloth shirts and I always hated to discard one when the collar and cuffs wore out. Now I make shirts for myself out of his old ones.

I cut off part of the sleeves and then inserted elastic so they would make push-up sleeves.

Then I ripped off the collar, leaving the neck band which looked like a mandarin collar. I sewed extra-wide rickrack over all the stitched parts on the neck, shoulders, and down the front. Used a color to match the slacks I wear it with and it's darling.

My newest one is the best yet. I dyed one shirt olive green to match a pair of my capri pants. At the same time I dyed some narrow white lace so it would match, and sewed four rows down the front and edged the neck and sleeves with it. Now I have a good looking "sissy" shirt... perfect for evenings at home.

Of course they button the wrong way for girls... but who cares!

Elizabeth Robinson

Dear Heloise:

To keep my girdle from scratching and sticking... I powder it with cornstarch before putting it on.

Mary

Dear Heloise:

Most people think it's difficult to clean out pots after cooking oatmeal, mashed potatoes, eggs or cheese.

But it really isn't. Not if you soak the pots and casseroles in COLD water. Then all it takes is a swish with a nylon net dish cloth, and they are clean as can be with little effort.

Gillian Martin, T. Sorenson To Wed In June

EAST GRAND RAPIDS (AP) —Miss Gillian Martin, daughter of John B. Martin, U.S. commissioner on aging, reportedly will be married June 28 to Theodore Sorenson who served as special counsel to the late President John F. Kennedy.

Television station WZZM in nearby Grand Rapids reported the wedding plans Wednesday night, and newsman Mike Nolan said the information came from "a very reliable source."

The wedding would bring together the daughter of a prominent Republican and a twice-divorced well-known Democrat.

Miss Martin, whose nickname is "Gillie," is 28 and resides in East Grand Rapids. Her father for many years served as Republican national committeeman from Michigan until joining the Nixon Administration this year as commissioner on aging.

Sorenson, who turned 41 Thursday, served not only as a special adviser to the late President Kennedy but also as a chief campaign organizer for the late Robert F. Kennedy in his presidential campaign.

Sorenson has been living in New York City, working as a lawyer.

He reportedly has been building a political base to run for a Senate seat now held by Sen. Charles E. Goodell, R-N.Y., an appointee of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Sorenson was divorced last Jan. 21 in New York from his second wife, the former Sara Ann Elbery, on grounds his wife abandoned him two years earlier. They had been married in June 1964 in Cambridge, Mass., about a year after Sorenson's divorce from the former Camilla Palmer, to whom he was married 14 years.

Sorenson and his first wife had three children.

Stolen Property Stacked In Home

DETROIT (AP) — Silver fox furs, snow blowers, jewelry, guns and a host of other items believed stolen from plush homes in Detroit suburbs have been confiscated by police in a raid.

Officers from State Police, Birmingham, Bloomfield Hills, Troy and Redford Township raided a Redford Township house Saturday night, confiscating the items valued at $15,000.

The occupant of the house, Emmett Bull, 34, was arrested. Bull was arraigned Sunday on charges of receiving and concealing stolen property and of possessing an unregistered handgun. He faces court examination May 13.

"The stuff was in the house and garage. He had it stacked all over the house," said Detective Max Waterbury of State Police. "You name it, we've got it."

Included were 37 rifles, pistols and shotguns, furs, tape recorders, two outboard motors, lawn mowers, cameras and antiques.

Among persons who went to the State Police post, attempting to identify stolen belongings, was Ray Eppert, retired board chairman of Burroughs Corp.

Eppert said he found "a small amount" of goods stolen from his Bloomfield Hills home. "There's still a lot of personal things that are missing that can never be replaced."

Eppert said the raid, which police said resulted from a tip, was the "result of some terrific multicompany police teamwork."

Henry Hogan, owner of the Birmingham Eccentric, said he recovered an antique rifle used in the Revolutionary War. The rifle was stolen from his home April 1, he said.

State To Close Trooper Exams

The State Civil Service Commission said today it will close its open examination for State Police Trooper positions effective May 16.

The examination had been on continuous open announcement.

Applications on file by that date will be more than sufficient to provide candidates for the September State Police Training School which will fill vacancies within the limits of the present authorized strength of the State Police, State Personnel Director Franklin K. DeWald said.

He indicated the examination would be reannounced later this year if the current session of the Legislature approved additional State Trooper positions.

President Ends Busy Weekend

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon was back to the White House today after a busy weekend ending with Sunday church and a big fried chicken supper.

The President, who attended the Kentucky Derby Saturday, heard a minister at morning White House services say "Our time is scarred by the presence of warring ideologies."

"You need to have a faith that will guide you, sustain you and direct you . . . that faith is manifest only in Jesus Christ," said Dr. R. H. Edwin Espy of New York and the National Council of Churches. It was the fifth in a series of White House services and it was attended by some 200 people.

Sunday afternoon, the President and Mrs. Nixon, Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., and Nixon's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Eisenhower, went by helicopter to Winchester, Va., for dinner at the home of Virginia Sen. and Mrs. Harry F. Byrd Jr.

Recreation Bonds

Report Out Two Different Plans

LANSING (AP) — The Senate Conservation Committee Wednesday reported out two bills advocating different formulas—one the choice of sportsmen, the other Gov. William Milliken's proposal—for dividing the $100 million in recreation bond funds.

The money-split question is "so controversial," the entire Senate should have a chance to debate the various methods, said Senator George Fitzgerald, D-Grosse Pointe Park.

Sen. Basil Brown, D-Detroit, maintained the Senate committee "shirked our responsibility" by not making its own choice of proposals.

The House Conservation Committee, meanwhile, was reported preparing a substitute bill that would offer a 70-30 split of funds, but could assure that urban areas got a greater chunk than had previously been proposed.

Urban Split
One bill reported from the Senate committee splits the funds on a 30-30-40 basis as Milliken proposed. The bill was sponsored by Sen. Coleman Young, D-Detroit, and Senate Majority Leader Emil Lockwood, R-St. Louis.

Some $30 million would go to counties on a per capita basis, another $30 million to counties over 100,000 population and the remaining $40 million to the State Department of Natural Resources for state projects.

Sen. L. Harvey Lodge, R-Waterford, supported the governor's proposal, saying he believed much of the bond issue money should go to areas surrounding urban centers.

"The people who are there in the long, hot summers—the kids on the streets have no place to go," he said. "They can't drive clear to the North Country."

Promised

The second bill, sponsored by Conservation Committee Chairman Gordon Rockwell, R-Mount Morris, divides the money on a 70-30 basis, with $70 million earmarked for state recreation projects and $30 million for local communities.

"This is the one we campaigned on when we tried to float the bond issue" before the November election, said Sen. Oscar Bouwsma, R-Muskegon, committee vice chairman. "It's what I promised the people," Bouwsma said.

Some legislators and many conservationists contend that former Gov. George Romney campaigned for successful passage of the bond issue with promises that the money would be divided 70-30 with a majority of it going to outstate areas. Milliken proposed the 38-30-40 split after the bond issue passed and was showered with criticism from those who claimed he "broke faith with the people" who voted for the measure.

Boys Admit Stealing Boa

LA PUENTE, Calif. (AP) — The theft of a six-foot boa constrictor was reported to sheriff's officers—by an 18-year-old boy who said he did it for money.

The youth said his conscience bothered him after he and a 15-year-old companion had taken the snake, named Charlie, from its cage Sunday at Bassett High School. They sold it to a pet shop for $10.

Remorseful, the older boy went back Wednesday with the $10, returned Charlie to school and confessed. He got a stern lecture.

Canada Tells U.S. To Halt Pollution

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The Great Lakes will become unfit for human use and devoid of many forms of fish life if the United States does not increase its efforts to halt pollution, a Canadian government official charged Wednesday.

"I certainly think that abatement efforts on the U.S. side of the Great Lakes — particularly Lake Erie — have to be stepped up if the lakes aren't going to deteriorate to the point where they become expendable," said James P. Bruce, Great Lakes division chief of the Department of Energy, Mines and Resources.

He spoke at the Great Lakes Research Conference in Ann Arbor.

"Lake Erie is the key to the problem," Bruce said. "And more expenditures by the United States on pollution abatement is the key to saving Lake Erie."

Traced To U.S.

America discharges a very high percentage of the pollutants flowing daily in Lake Erie, Bruce said. In Lake Ontario, he added, more than half of the nutrients entering the lake from the Niagara River have been traced to American sources.

"I think the situation of Erie is serious enough that a crash-basis program is warranted," he said.

"While the United States feels the Great Lakes is an important resource, Canada feels it is a vital resource," he continued.

"There is a tendency (in America) to ignore the prime resources which are taken for granted and concentrate on areas of water shortage," he added.

Canada recently stepped up its efforts to find ways to clean up Great Lakes water, he said, adding that they also have initiated a lake-wide monitoring program.

Research

He pointed out that U.S. research efforts could possibly be better coordinated. Many agencies are trying to develop ways to halt pollution, he said. "I have the impression that the policies are a little more fragmented here," he said.

Canada has begun construction of a $23 million research center to coordinate efforts of three agencies studying pollution problems, he said.

"We are putting a much larger percentage of our total resources in research into water pollution than the United States," he added.

Syria Enters Israeli Conflict

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — Syria is beginning to shoot at Israel after almost two years of sitting on the sidelines of the Middle East conflict.

But at the same time, in a paradox typical of the ruling Baath party, the government of President Nureddin Atassi is showing increasing interest in a political settlement of the Arab-Israeli war.

Since the six-day war of 1967, Syria has taken pains to sound more extremist than other Arab countries. It repeatedly called for a "war of popular liberation" against Israel but did nothing afterward.

Syria's cease-fire line with Israel along the Golan Heights—bombed Syrian territory anyway.

"Al Fatah quietly began setting up a large operations base on the Syrian side of the cease-fire line. About six weeks ago it pointed out to the government that it was rather shameful that Syria should put curbs on them while other countries such as Jordan were giving them free rein."

The Syrians claim to have shot down four Israeli planes in the February strike. Initially this was doubted, but independent observers have since confirmed that three Israeli planes went down in flames.

what's a funny place for a phone?

That depends a lot on your sense of humor. If making tracks across a clean carpet to get to a telephone leaves your wife a little less than happy, then perhaps there's nothing so funny about an extension telephone in the garage or workshop.

Extension telephones make sense. They save time by letting you use a telephone wherever you are.

Plans Submitted For $200,000 Hospital Project

A major building and remodeling project proposal for the Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital will be submitted to the Michigan Department of Public Health for evaluation, Administrator Carleton Hubbard said this week.

The $200,000 hospital project would involve a new lobby and front entrance, a new x-ray department, new business office area and an entirely new nursing service unit. The nursing service unit would include a remodeled central sterile supply, clean utility room and medication room.

Other plans call for an in-

G. Arntzen Architects of Escanaba worked on project plans, Hubbard said. As soon as approval from the Public Health Department is received bids on the work will be sought.

The project will probably take about six months to complete. Financing will come from the building reserve fund and loans and possible donations.

The hospital is also planning an Open House, in conjunction with the Medical Care Facility, during National Hospital Week, May 11-17.

On Tuesday, May 13, from 2 to 4 p. m. and Saturday, May 17, also from 2 to 4 p. m. hospital auxiliary members will conduct tours and serve coffee and cookies.

Educational Reform Critical: Milliken

Gov. William Milliken told a dinner gathering of more than 350 persons in Manistique Wednesday night that the most critical issue in Michigan today is how to provide a quality education for children throughout the state.

"Our educational system is in many ways inequitable and inadequate and in need of fundamental reform," he said. "In many districts of the state, children are not given benefits that are received by children in other districts."

The fund raising dinner was sponsored by the Schoolcraft County Republican Committee at the St. Francis parish center. Also speaking were Congressman Philip Ruppe and Rep. Charles Varnum.

To Head Commission

Gov. Milliken said he would head a governor's reform commission on education to help formulate a "blueprint for educational reform." The "blueprint" will be presented to a special session of the legislature in October, he reported.

The governor then asked the Republican gathering to support this "major effort."

"The political party," he declared, "that is able to bring about this reform is the political party that deserves and will gain the public support in the years to come."

Gov. Milliken reported he was leaving following the dinner to meet in Washington, D.C. with George Romney, secretary of Housing and Urban Development, and a group of governors and mayors of major cities. They will discuss the current need to find adequate housing for families in low and middle-income groups.

"Breakthrough"

"We can make a breakthrough in housing," the governor said, "if we take some of the mass production techniques of the auto industry and apply them to the construction industry."

The governor also spoke briefly on the student dissent on college and university campuses.

"There must be a sharp line of demarcation between legitimate dissent — free and open criticism — and violence and takeover of public buildings by force. This violence simply will not be tolerated in Michigan."

Rep. Varnum told the Manistique audience that both the Senate and House have passed a supplemental appropriations bill that includes $100,000 for the Manistique harbor improvement project.

"All the bill needs now is the governor's signature," said Varnum, looking at the governor who was seated in front of him. Gov. Milliken smiled and the audience laughed.

Praises Nixon

Ruppe opened the banquet with praise for the Nixon administration.

"I am proud to be a Republican," he said, "for the progress and very wonderful job that President Nixon has done in his first 100 days of office."

Ruppe also noted that 1970 will be a "year of tremendous crisis in Michigan politics." That is the year that Gov. Milliken will be running for his first full term as governor.

"This election will set the tone of Michigan politics for the decade of the 1970's," Ruppe stated.

The master of ceremonies for the dinner was John Moffat, chairman of the Schoolcraft County Republican Committee. Co-chairmen were Mrs. John Moffat and Mrs. George Wood.

Entertainment was provided by the "South Cedar St. Chamber Music Society" and Sister Colleen, who led the audience in singing.

Michigan Tops Indiana Twice

BLOOMINGDALE (AP) — Michigan's Wolverines evened up their Big Ten baseball record at 3-3 Saturday by dumping Indiana twice, 9-4 and 6-5. Steve Forsythe and John Kraft singled to drive in two runs in the opener after Indiana had tied the score. The Hoosiers led 5-3 at the end of six in the nightcap but Michigan collected three in the seventh to win.

Tardy Allen Comes Back; Leads Phils Over Cards

By The Associated Press
Tony Cloninger came back. Roy Face came back. Even Rich Allen came back.

But even though Allen was $1,000 poorer when he came back to the Philadelphia lineup, he wasn't minus any of his hitting prowess.

The controversial slugger, who was fined $1,000 for missing the previous two games without permission, drove in two runs as the Phillies whipped sagging St. Louis 5-2 Sunday.

Cloninger, meanwhile, bounced back in Cincinnati's second game, 12-0 decision over San Diego, pitching a masterful two-hitter just about 24 hours after he failed to get a Padre out in the first inning. The Reds also won the opener 3-2.

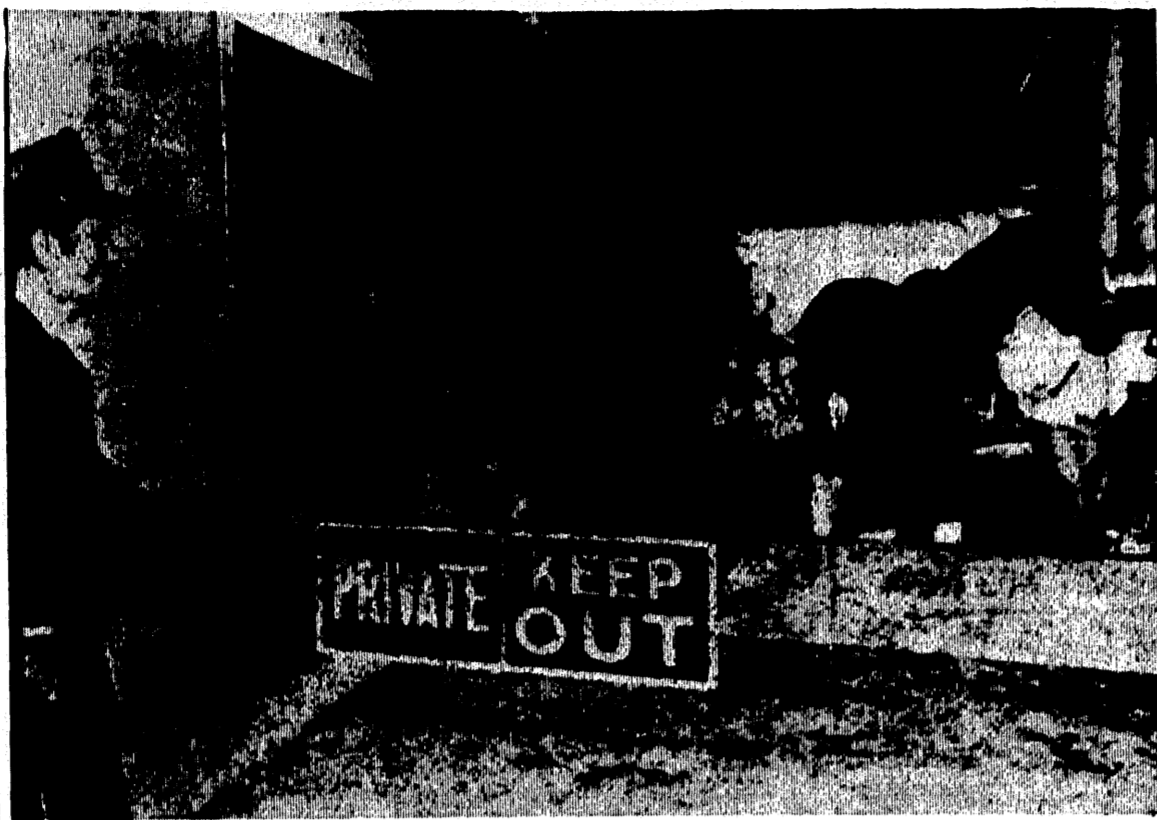

Face, 41-year-old veteran who was out of work last month until Montreal took a chance on him, relieved for the fourth time in the past week and gained his second victory against no defeats in the Expos' 6-4 victory over Pittsburgh. In other National League games, Atlanta downed Los Angeles 4-1, Houston tripped San Francisco 3-1 and the New York Mets took the Chicago Cubs twice by 3-2 scores.

Allen's latest troubles started Friday when he missed two plays from Philadelphia to St. Louis and thus the Phillies' night game with the Cardinals. He didn't make it in time for Saturday's game either, showing up an hour after it started.

However, Manager Dave Bristol came back with the right-hander in the second game of Sunday's doubleheader, and Cloninger responded by holding the Padres hitless after the second inning.

The pitcher also contributed a homer and a single to the Reds' 11-hit attack as he picked up his first victory against four losses. The Reds won the opener behind run-scoring hits by Tommy Helms in his fourth and Johnny Bench in the sixth.

Rookie Cracks Six Hits As Royals Pound Angels

By The Associated Press
Five of a kind will take the pot in most wild poker games, but in nine innings of baseball it's hard to top Bob Oliver's six-card Royal flush.

Oliver, a muscular Kansas City rookie, cracked a home run, a double and four singles in six trips to the plate Sunday as the Royals obliterated the California Angels 15-1.

The 6-foot-2, 215-pound outfielder, who got credit for his sixth hit via a post-game scoring change, became the 20th player in American League history—and the first in seven years—to collect half a dozen in a nine-inning contest.

While the Royals were crushing California with a 19-hit, three-homer barrage, the AL's hottest clubs—Minnesota, Washington and Baltimore—kept rolling in high gear and Oakland pitcher John "Blue Moon" Odum went on an RBI rampage against the Seattle Pilots.

Twins Hot
The Twins edged the Chicago White Sox 4-3 for their eighth consecutive victory; the Senators nipped Cleveland 4-3 for their 10th in 11 starts and the Orioles completed a four-game sweep at New York by passing the Yankees 5-3 and 14-2 in a doubleheader.

Odum drove in six runs with a homer and double, and also beat out an infield hit, powering the Athletics past Seattle 11-7 after the Pilots took the doubleheader opener 6-4.

The Royals battered six California pitchers—and Oliver hit safely against each of them—in the biggest offensive spurge of their brief lifetime. The onslaught backed the four-hit pitching of Roger Nelson, who coasted to his second victory in four decisions.

Not Since 1962
Floyd Robinson, who slammed six hits for the White Sox in 1962, was the last American League player to turn the trick. The feat has been accomplished by 18 National League players since 1900, the last of them Jesus Alou of San Francisco in 1964.

Wilbert Robinson of the 1892 Baltimore Orioles in the National League is the only man ever to stroke seven in a nine-inning game.

Graig Nettles, who played with Oliver at Denver last season before moving up to the Twins, ignited a decisive eighth inning rally against Chicago with a pinch hit homer, tying the game.

Two walks and an error then flatted the bases and Cesar Tovar beat out an infield hit—a rover to third baseman Bill Melton, who started to go to second base and then held the ball as the winning run scored.

The victory, before a record Minnesota regular season crowd of 44,184, was the 17th for the Twins in their last 19 starts. The White Sox have lost six in a row.

Senators Come Back

Frank Howard and Mike Epstein crashed successive homers in the sixth inning, pulling Washington into a 3-3 tie against the Indians, and Ed Brinkman

Tigers Lose Again; Fall 7 Games Back

BOSTON (AP) — Racked by his team's 13th loss, even the general manager of the Detroit Tigers moans, "We just can't do anything right."

Jim Campbell uttered his disheartened words after the Tigers lost 4-2 to the Boston Red Sox in the 11th inning Sunday night. Rico Petrocelli clouted a two-run homer off Tigers reliever Don McMahon, scampering to the plate behind Reggie Smith who had walked. The world champion Tigers fell seven games behind Baltimore in the Eastern Division of the American League.

One bright spot in the hard-fought game was Jim Northrup's prowess at the plate. Returning to the lineup after having been benched for weak hitting, Northrup smacked a triple and two singles, indicating he may have shaken his batting slump.

"That may be all Northrup needs to get going," said Red Sox Manager Dick Williams. "He's too good a hitter to hold down."

The Red Sox tied the contest 2-2 in the ninth when Pat Dobson, who had walked seven batters in the first eight innings, waked Joe Lahoud and Petrocelli with one out.

George Scott lined out, but Dick Schofield batted for pitcher Mike Nagy and singled to center, driving in Lahoud with the tying run.

Nagy had shut out the Tigers until the eighth inning when Northrup's triple gave Detroit its only runs. The blow sent Al Kaline and Norm Cash across the plate.

The Red Sox scored in the first inning on a triple by George Thomas and a sacrifice by Tony Conigliaro.

"Whatever is bothering this team, it isn't complacency,"

Canadiens Trip Blues In Stanley Cup Sweep

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Claude Ruel can get some sleep now. The Montreal Canadiens can sip champagne and enjoy their money.

The St. Louis Blues can console themselves in Florida while Blues' Coach Scotty Bowman mulls over a lesson learned too late.

The Canadiens edged the Blues 2-1, Sunday to sweep the National Hockey League Stanley Cup finals in four games. It was the 16th time the Canadiens took possession.

St. Louis has yet to beat Montreal in 17 games over two seasons.

John Ferguson scored the winning goal in the third period less than four minutes after Ted Harris tied the game 1-1. The Blues took a 1-0 lead, the first time they led in the finals, on Terry Gray's second-period goal.

Ruel indicated winning the Stanley Cup was anticlimactic for him, not because he didn't think much of the Blues.

"It's a personal victory for me," the Canadiens' coach said. "No one knows what I went through all year. I was always worried and I've been having trouble sleeping all year. To finish first was better for me than to win the Stanley Cup."

Bowman had to be content with what he considered a moral victory. The Blues had been clearly outclassed in the first three games, but showed in the last game they could give the Canadiens trouble.

"You know it's too late now, but I'll know how to play them next time," Bowman said.

The Blues leave Wednesday for a one-day vacation at the Florida motel of club owner Sidney Saloman Jr. But it wasn't until Sunday that Bowman or any of the Blues felt like going.

Majestic Prince Tops Derby Field

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — They run the Kentucky Derby in just a fraction more than two minutes, but the fans spend weeks, months and years pondering its outcome and arguing what might have been.

Does Majestic Prince's victory in Saturday's 96th running prove he is the "super horse" he was touted to be?

Would Arts and Letters have beaten the Prince if Bill Shoemaker hadn't been injured? What on earth happened to Top Knight?

If the Derby had been a little longer than its 1 1/4 miles, would the fast closing Dike have colored Majestic Prince?

Trainer Johnny Longden said the Prince wasn't at his peak for the Derby, but "was two to three lengths the best horse in the race," even though he won by only a neck over Arts and Letters.

Longden predicted Majestic Prince "will be a better horse in the Preakness" May 17, but declined to speculate on the possibility of having the first Triple Crown winner since Citation in 1948.

"I just don't like to look that far ahead," he said. Longden said he felt it wouldn't have made any difference had Shoemaker been aboard Arts and Letters instead of Braulio Baeza, but Elliott Burch, Arts and Letters' trainer, wasn't so sure.

"Perhaps there could have been a difference, I don't know," Burch said, noting that Shoemaker had ridden the colt before while Baeza was on board for the first time.

"I'm not taking anything away from Baeza when I say that," Burch went on. "He rode a great race and got everything out of the horse."

Lucien Laurin, trainer of fast finishing Dike, wasn't in the barn area Sunday to comment, but his colt, along with Top Knight and Arts and Letters left Louisville to prepare for the Preakness.

Longden planned to ship Majestic Prince to Baltimore on Monday.

Ray Metcalf, trainer of Top Knight, a disappointing fifth in the Derby, said Majestic Prince would never beat the Florida Derby winner again and offered to bet $20,000 to back it up.

"I'm not a betting man," Longden said when told of the offer, "but I think he can get one if he wants to."

Burch said he still wouldn't plant the title "great" on Majestic Prince and added "he might be a freak horse."

"He's got a long way to go before he can be called great. After all, he has won just one classic. I was afraid of him before the race, though, because I tried to pick holes in him and couldn't find any."

Alumni Funds Sagging With College Disorders

By The Associated Press
Alumni contributions at some major colleges and universities have dropped in the wake of student demonstrations and unrest at a number of schools. Spokesmen at some schools hit by student disorders say fund drives are sagging although the fall-off has not yet hit a critical point. The effect is far from uniform however, as other schools plagued by student unrest report that at least as yet, alumni contributions are continuing at normal levels. Alumni contributions have decreased at the University of Wisconsin, Indiana, Colorado, Rutgers, Duke, Michigan State and the University of California at Berkeley.

Refusals
So far, the drop-off has not been felt at Harvard, Columbia, Yale, North Carolina or the University of Chicago.

Bob Shackleton, director of the Alumni Development Fund at Michigan State, said he has received many letters from alumni refusing to contribute. He said many of the letters of refusal cited the fact that the national convention of Students for a Democratic Society, the group that has led many of the recent campus demonstrations, was held on the MSU campus last summer.

Shackleton said many alumni are also unhappy about MSU's new ability-to-pay, sliding-scale tuition plan and cited that as a reason for not contributing. In all, about 100 fewer people have contributed to the fund this year than last.

However, Shackleton said the letters of refusal do not necessarily indicate a fall-off in contributions caused by alumni unhappiness with events on the campus. "Many of these people were not contributors in the first place and may have been looking for an excuse," he said.

U-M Normal
At the University of Michigan, which has been relatively free from student disorders, alumni contributions are continuing at a normal pace. Robert Forman, director of the U-M Alumni Association said, "Our alumni fund is higher this year than it has ever been. In terms of contributions to the alumni fund, there is no indication that student activism has made any change in the amount of contributions."

But while Michigan schools have not been hit hard, the situation is not as hopeful at other colleges in the Midwest. Robert Rennebohm, executive director of the University of Wisconsin Foundation, said alumni gifts to the school, whose Madison campus has been wracked with a series of disorders, are down 1 per cent this year. The Wisconsin Alumni Association also reports a decline in membership from 39,000 to 37,000 in two years.

"Alumni quit because they feel this is a way they can strike back at the university for tolerating protests and unseemly behavior," said Arlie Mucks, director of the association.

Lion's Owner Wants Action On Sports Stadium

DETROIT (AP) — The owner of the Detroit Lions pro football team has complained about lack of action by Detroit to build a new sports stadium.

William Clay Ford said in a letter to State Sen. Sander Levin, D-Berkley, "It's time now for Detroit's business and political leaders to take some constructive action."

"As you know, a number of (stadium) sites have been proposed, including one by the Detroit riverfront," Ford said in the April 25 letter. "We are told that a stadium at that location will help revitalize Detroit, and this may be true. Still, no property has been acquired nor has anyone come forth with a plan for financing a stadium there. Meanwhile, cities smaller than Detroit have gone ahead, accomplished what we merely debate," Ford said.

Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh unveiled his proposal for a downtown stadium last Feb. 14. It would be located west of Cobo Hall at the Detroit River.

Detroit's Mayor Attacks ABM

PORT HURON (AP) — Detroit Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh has renewed his attacks on the proposed Safeguard antiballistic missile system (ABM), saying threats to U.S. security have "not come from external aggression but rather from internal discontent."

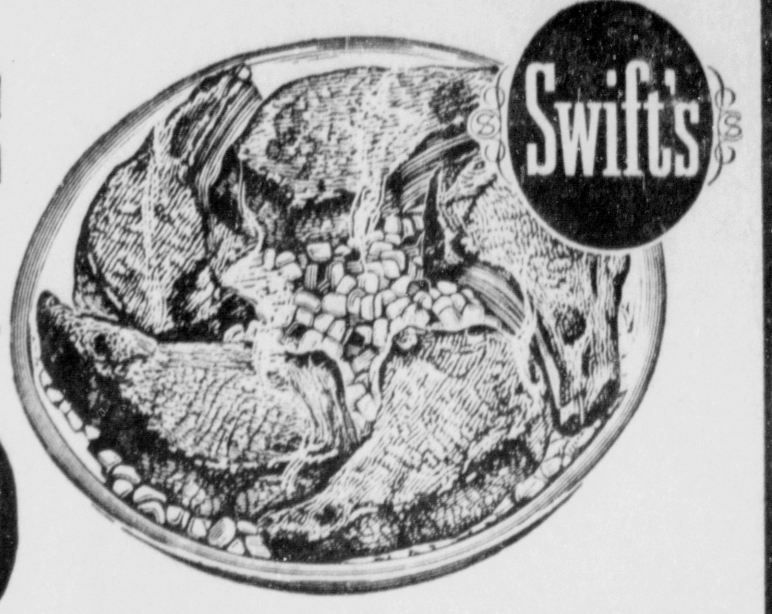

Calling Vietnam "America's example of the futility of arms," Cavanagh said Wednesday night that "even conflicts between one of the superpowers and a smaller nation can no longer be resolved by military force."

He spoke at the Harrington Hotel to a group of Port Huron-area citizens opposed to the antiballistic missile system.

"We cannot afford the $6.6 billion, or the latest estimate of $7.8 billion, for the Safeguard ABM as long as one person is unfed, unclothed or uneducated in this country or, indeed, on this planet," Cavanagh said.

Gophers Reach Halfway Point Leading League

By The Associated Press
Minnesota's Gopher's couldn't reach the halfway mark in the Big Ten baseball race undefeated but the defending champions did manage to carve out a two-game lead with eight games to play.

The high flying Gophers finally suffered their first loss Saturday when they dropped a 3-1 decision to Wisconsin in the second game of a doubleheader after clobbering the Badgers 16-1 in the opener.

Coupled with Purdue's 6-1 victory over Illinois, Minnesota remained two games ahead of both Illinois and Purdue who have 4-2 records compared to Minnesota's sparkling 7-1 record.

Ohio State climbed back into contention by downing Michigan State 2-1 and 7-6 as the Buckeyes boosted their record to 5-3, two games behind Minnesota and into a fourth place tie with Wisconsin.

Michigan, the only other team with less than four losses, defeated Indiana 9-4 and 6-5 to take over sixth place with a 3-3 record and Northwestern finally recorded a Big Ten triumph as the Wildcats defeated Iowa 6-5 after losing the first game of a doubleheader 5-0.

Minnesota could all but clinch the Big Ten race this weekend as the Gophers take on their closest pursuers on their home field.

Minnesota entertains Purdue in a doubleheader Friday and then takes on Illinois in another home twin bill on Saturday.

Ohio State is at Indiana for a single game Friday and Saturday but the rest of the league will be busy with a flock of doubleheaders both days.

Friday's doubleheader schedule finds Illinois at Iowa, Northwestern at Michigan State and Wisconsin at Michigan while the other twin bills Saturday have Northwestern at Michigan, Purdue at Iowa and Wisconsin at Michigan State.

Buckeyes Clip Spartans Twice

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Michigan State was playing .500 ball when the Spartans ran into Ohio State's Buckeyes and got clobbered twice. The Spartans lost to OSU Saturday, 2-1 and 7-6, and now have a 2-4 Big Ten baseball record. The Buckeyes moved up to a 5-3 conference mark.

Hinson Defeats Beard In New Orleans Event

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Folks back in Georgia's Coffee County didn't think Larry Hinson would ever amount to much on the pro golf trail. But look at him today.

The 24-year-old Hinson, on the tour exactly a year, beat spectacled Frank Beard on the third hole of sudden death Sunday to capture the $20,000 first prize in the $100,000 Greater New Orleans Open.

They had finished 72 holes over the lush Lakewood Country Club course with 275s—12 under par.

"Everyone back home just thought I'd never make it because I didn't make good in my studies—a C average going through college—and they said, 'He's not bright and he can't knock the ball far enough and his handicap will probably keep him out,'" said Hinson.

Hinson's handicap is a left arm weakened by a bout with polio when he was five years old. But he has proven he can play with the best.

Hinson, who shot a closing round 67, started the final round five strokes behind Beard and Dave Hill of Jackson, Mich.

Beard, who finished regulation play Sunday with a 72, earned $11,200.

Hill slipped to a 73 and a three way tie for third at 276 with Bobby Mitchell, who had a 67, and Joel Goldstrand, who shot 70. Each won $5,300.

This was Hinson's first tour victory, his previous best was a second place at Hattiesburg.

Miss. The big paycheck here boosted his winnings for the year to slightly over $31,000.

Hinson started playing golf at Douglas, Ga.

"When I first started playing, the instructor told me to turn loose of the club down there at the bottom and I was embarrassed. I'd turn it loose and I'd throw the club every time."

Gesturing with his left hand, he continued, "I didn't have strength enough in this hand to hold it. Now I can take any club I want and turn it loose and pull it right on through."

Hinson habitually squeezes a little rubber ball to strengthen his grip and works out with an 18-pound weight.

"I felt so sorry for Frank because he doesn't deserve to lose a tournament," said Hinson. "I never had any idea at the start of today's round that I'd be the champion."

Greatest Tigers Voting Continues

DETROIT (AP) — Balloting for the Greatest Tiger team continues to the end of this month with seven current players leading or in runner-up spots in the voting.

Two current Tigers lead at their positions. Al Kaline has the most votes so far among Detroit outfielders, slightly ahead of Ty Cobb. Cobb, incidentally, leads Kaline by a wide margin as the Greatest Tiger Ever.

Denny McLain is the leading vote getter among righthanded pitchers.

Present-day Tigers in runner-up spots are Norm Cash at first base, Dick McAuliffe at second, Don Wert at third, Bill Freehan catching, and Mickey Lolich as lefthanded pitcher.

Ballots are submitted by Tiger fans, most of whom use official ballots that appear in scorebooks at Detroit games.

Among the quirks in voting was one person's choice for Ty Cobb at first base. The great outfielder played 18 games during his long career at the spot. A couple of fans voted for Mel Ott and Rabbit Maranville into their all-time Tiger lineup.

Here is the rundown of voting up to now:

- First base—Hank Greenberg 3,618; Norm Cash 1,017.
Second base—Charley Gehringer 3,393; Dick McAuliffe 927.
Third base—George Kell 3,408; Don Wert 510; Pinky Higgins 345.
Shortstop—Harvey Kuehn 1,452; Billy Rogell 1,215; Donie Bush 918.
Outfield—Al Kaline 3,828; Ty Cobb 3,686; Harry Heilmann 2,109; Goose Goslin 906; Sam Crawford 585.
Catcher—Mickey Cochrane 2,847; Bill Freehan 1,479.
Righthanded pitcher—Denny McLain 2,840; Schoolboy Rowe 1,422; Tommy Bridges 930.
Lefthanded pitcher—Hal Newhouser 2,769; Mickey Lolich 1,113.
Greatest Tiger Ever—Ty Cobb 2,556; Al Kaline 624.

System To List Tire Defects

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House commerce subcommittee plans to consider putting a tire-defect reporting system into the auto safety program, its chairman said Wednesday.

Rep. John E. Moss, D-Calif., said industry representatives would be given an opportunity to appear before his unit before any action is taken.

"I think a reporting system for tires is a very essential part of automobile safety," Moss said.

The chairman said it would not be difficult to do because every tire manufactured in this country has a serial number. It would amount to noting this number at the time of a sale and keeping the records, he said.

Moss said the proposal could be patterned after similar requirements for cars in which recalls are provided in the event of certain defects. There are no such requirements for tires now.

Bill To Provide Bond Coverage

LANSING (AP) — A bill to provide bond coverage for state employees and officers has been signed into law by Gov. William Milliken.

The measure permits broad bond coverage rather than the present individual coverage. It is expected to reduce the cost of such bonding.

Also signed by the governor was a bill providing that House of Representatives membership in the Legislative Council will be composed of the House majority leader and six other members selected by the speaker of the House.

The law previously called for the speaker to be a member of the council.

GOLD STENCILLING

PATTERN 298

AN OLD ART that is now popular again is stenciling tin ware and furniture in gold on a black background. Pattern 298, which gives more than a dozen different authentic old stencil designs, an outline of materials needed and clear directions, is 50c. This pattern also is in the Painting Patterns for Home Decorators Packet No. 35 — a tremendous bargain for $1.50.

Javits Sure Of Hunger Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Republican senator who played an important role in reversing the Nixon administration on the politically loaded hunger issue says he is confident President Nixon will supply more money if needed.

The prediction was made by Sen. Jacob K. Javits, ranking GOP member of the special Senate hunger committee, after Chairman George S. McGovern, D-S.D., said Nixon's recommendations are "a step in the right direction, but it's a very limited step."

When it came his turn Wednesday to question secretaries Clifford M. Hardin of the Agriculture Department and Robert H. Finch of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, Javits said the committee and the administration agree on objectives of a hunger program.

"We've got to be sure the bridge isn't built a yard too short," Javits said.

Later, a reporter asked Javits if he thinks the President's bridge is too short.

"I think we have to see," he replied, adding: "I think the disposition of the President will be to supply the yard if we need it."

Cancel Insurance; Tree Fell On Car

WASHINGTON (AP) — Consider the case of Gerald D. Huey, who lost his automobile insurance after a tree fell on his car and a storekeeper accused him of drinking too much.

Huey had other problems: a pair of traffic tickets, one for speeding; and a mixup over a driver's license that expired while he was serving in the Marine Corps in Vietnam.

But Sen. Philip A. Hart D-Mich., said none of them warranted the insurance cancellation decreed by Royal Indemnity Co.

Hart's Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee heard the Huey story Wednesday.

"If you are typical of the people whose insurance is being cancelled," Hart told Huey and his wife, "small wonder that I get an awful lot of mail."

The Huey insurance was in the name of Mrs. Huey, an attractive, 24-year-old secretary. Before their marriage, Huey himself had sought coverage from the firm, and been rejected.

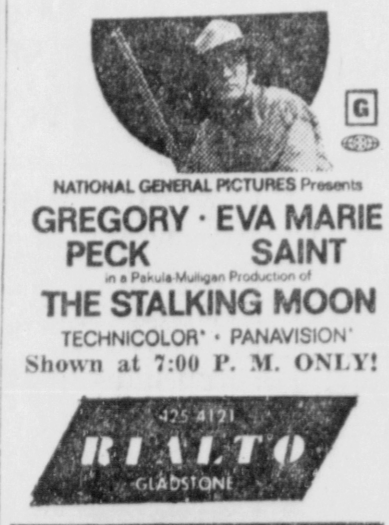

Royal Indemnity dispatched this explanation of the cancellation to the Huey household in Stafford County, Va., on Feb. 19: "The reason your insurance policy is being cancelled is because of unfavorable information we have received concerning personal habits within your household."

Eggs Survive 1,000-Foot Drop

HILLSBORO, Ore. (AP) — Twenty-seven eggs were dropped from a plane flying at 1,000 feet. Nine did not break.

The sky drop was an experiment by sixth graders at Portland's Boise Elementary School. The youngsters designed packages no bigger than a shoe box, which would deliver an egg safely to the ground.

For the flight, Shirley Harris, 12, wrapped her two eggs in a towel and stuffed the box with newspapers. The eggs survived.

MANISTIQUE

THERE MAY HAVE BEEN four-on-the-floor in this vehicle but they were school children and not a stick shift. In 1928 this horse and sleigh was used to transport 12 children to school in the Yalmer area which is about 17 miles from Marquette. Riding the "school bus" were Mrs. Joseph McDonough of Manistique and her cousin Leslie Walstrom of Curtis. The "bus" was driven by a Mrs. Newt McMahon and made a 10 mile round-trip each day to a one room schoolhouse. When the roads were passable the children were transported in a touring car (what's that?).

Berg placed first in the long jump, high jump and the 120-yard high hurdles. Joe Lasnoski of Holy Name handed him his first defeat in the 180-yard low hurdles in yesterday's meet.

Jim Dubord of Holy Name was the only other entrant in yesterday's meet to win more than one event. The speedy Crusader finished first in both the 100 and 220-yard dashes.

Tiant, Bahnsen Suffering Through Miserable Season

By The Associated Press

The year 1968 was the Year of the Blank for major league pitchers but for Luis Tiant and Stan Bahnsen 1969 has started out in blanket-blank fashion.

The winless right-handers, among the top hurlers in the American League a year ago, were shelled again Wednesday night, leaving each with an 0-6 record and wondering where his next win is coming from.

Tiant, who won 21 games last season and led the league with a 1.60 earned run average, yielded six hits and as many runs—including two homers by Harmon Killebrew—as the Cleveland Indians were bombed by Minnesota.

Bahnsen, Rookie of the Year for New York and a 17-game winner, surrendered 10 hits and four runs in five innings as the Yankees lost to California 4-2.

In other games, the Chicago White Sox held off Baltimore 6-4, Boston edged Seattle 5-4, Oakland nipped Washington by the same score and Detroit whipped Kansas City 6-2.

Killebrew's two homers, his sixth and seventh of the season, paced an 11-hit Minnesota attack that saddled the Indians with their 19th loss in 23 games. Winning pitcher Jim Kaat, Tony Oliva and Ted Uhlaender each drove in two runs while Killebrew's blasts accounted for three. Jose Cardenal homered for Cleveland.

Tiant has now pitched 33 2-3 innings and allowed 46 hits and 31 earned runs for a 8.29 ERA.

"I really don't know what is the matter," said Alvin Dark, manager of the Indians. "We know he isn't throwing as hard as he was last year, but we don't know why. He has had a little arm trouble, but it hasn't been that serious."

Jay Johnstone was Bahnsen's nemesis, driving in three runs with a double and scoring the fourth on Aurelio Rodriguez' single. Lou Johnson and Jim Fregosi started two-run uprisings in the third and fifth with singles, setting the stage for Johnstone.

Tom Murphy checked the Yankees on three hits until Bobby Murcer cracked a two-run homer in the eighth. Hoyt Wilhelm finished up as the Yankees suffered their eighth loss in nine games.

Bahnsen shows 42 hits and 23 earned runs in 37 2-3 innings and a 5.50 earned run average.

The White Sox unloaded 11 hits, including an RBI single and two-run triple by Bill Melton and Carlos May's seventh homer, in beating the Orioles for the second consecutive night. Paul Blair connected for the losers.

George Thomas atoned for a costly double misplay by driving in the winning run with a bloop double in the seventh inning as Boston edged Seattle. It was the fifth win in a row for the Red Sox. Thomas committed two errors on the same play that led to two Seattle runs and helped stake the Pilots to a 3-0 lead in the first inning. Rico Petrocelli started Boston's comeback with his eighth homer.

Ted Kubiak raced home with the winning run on Del Unser's throwing error as Oakland rallied for two runs in the eighth inning and nipped Washington. Bert Campaneris singled in the tying run and Kubiak, who was on first, continued around when Unser threw the ball wildly past third. Sal Bando homered for the A's.

Bengals Stop Skid; Defeat Royals, 6-2

DETROIT (AP) — A telegram outside the Tigers dressing room read: "We're keeping the faith—sock it to 'em Tigers."

The fans who sent that message were rewarded Wednesday night, as Detroit ended a four-game losing streak with a 6-2 win over the Kansas City Royals with Jim Price's two run homer and Mickey Stanley's solo blast leading the way.

"Maybe this will give us our confidence back," said third baseman Don Wert hopefully.

Mickey Lolich pitched a masterful game until the eighth. To that point he scattered three singles and struck out seven. But he tired and Manager Mayo Smith walked to the mound and, despite many boos from the 9,000 fans, brought in Pat Dobson to relieve after the Royals rallied for two runs.

The win gave Detroit a 12-14 record and moved the Tigers to fourth in the East Division of the American League six games behind first place Baltimore.

Lolich didn't want to come out, but the move was successful as Dobson retired the last five men.

"You know pitchers," Smith added. "But the fellow's been away too. When you've been out in the Army for two weeks you don't do much throwing."

Lolich recently completed two weeks of duty in the Air National Guard.

"Lolich pitched a real good game against us," said Royals Manager Joe Gordon. "You have to figure you can't give up many runs to him. He's a good pitcher."

Kansas City was behind by the same 6-2 score Tuesday night but collected five runs in the ninth inning to win 7-6. Smith was asked if Wednesday night's 6-2 score going into the late innings had him worried.

"You think I sit around thinking up superstitions," he smiled. "I never even thought about that."

Price's homer, his second in two games, bounced off the facing of the upper deck in left field after Jim Northrup doubled. Stanley's solo shot, his third, hit the upper deck in right and came in the fifth. Both homers were off starter and loser Jim Rooker, 6-1. It was the former Tiger's second major league start.

Kansas City's eighth-inning rally netted two runs when Ed Kirkpatrick was hit by a pitch, Jackie Hernandez singled and Jerry Adair singled them home.

Detroit scored twice in the seventh when left fielder Lou Pinella dropped Al Kaline's fly at the wall for an error, scoring Wert and Dick Tracewski who both walked.

The Tigers first score came with an unearned run in the third on a single by Stanley, a throwing error by Rooker, and a single by Tracewski.

Oakland Nips Indiana To Capture ABA Title

OAKLAND (AP) — "It's the most satisfying victory in my whole life," says Alex Hannum, the only basketball coach to win titles in both the National and American basketball associations.

Hannum's Oakland Oaks defeated the Indiana Pacers 135-131 in overtime Wednesday night to take the ABA playoffs, four games to one.

After the game, the Oaks sent a telegram to the Boston Celtics, NBA champs, asking, "How about a game between the world champions?"

"To take a bunch of guys who were down last year and to come back and win the title has to be the biggest thing that ever happened to me," said Hannum, who won NBA titles with strong teams at Philadelphia in 1967 and St. Louis in 1958.

Oakland finished last in the ABA Western Division last season, losing 64 games for a pro basketball record. This season, former NBA scoring champ Rick Barry helped the Oaks to a fast start, but suffered a knee injury and missed nearly half of the games. Barry didn't play at all in the playoffs.

Indiana, trailing by as much as 12 points in the third period, pulled even at 122-122 with four seconds left as Ron Perry sank two free throws.

Pacers' Coach Bon Leonard

Western Michigan's Gene Ford was drafted by the Baltimore Bullets.

Wednesday's draft began with the third round, the first two rounds having been conducted earlier by telephone. The Detroit Pistons had traded their third round choice to Phoenix and on the fourth round they took Ed Wiermer of Washington State.

Later Piston picks included Steve Mix of Toledo, Larry Jeffries of Trinity (Texas), Steve Vandenberg of Duke, Bob Arnez of Notre Dame, and George Reynolds of Houston.

He told his players to try for a three-point basket from 25 feet out to win the game rather than go for a tie. But the play didn't work.

Three Pacers—Roger Brown, Fred Lewis and Tom Thacker—fouled out in overtime.

"It's always a concern when you get men in foul trouble," Leonard said. "But I had to go with my best players because there is no tomorrow."

Doug Moe and Warren Armstrong led the Oaks in overtime with four points apiece. Armstrong scored 39 for the game and Moe 22.

Lewis led Indiana with 33 and Brown scored 31.

Bucks Select Another Bruin

NEW YORK (AP) — The Milwaukee Bucks of the National Basketball Association may have two-fifths of UCLA's NCAA championship team in their lineup next year.

The Bucks grabbed the Bruins' Ken Heitz, a 6-3½ forward-guard in the fifth round Wednesday as the NBA completed its college player draft.

UCLA teammate Lew Alcindor, the No. 1 pick, was signed for $1.4 million after the NBA skimmed off the cream of the crop in the first two rounds of the 14-round grab bag on April 8.

Two other UCLA players also were chosen—Bill Sweek, a 6-2½ guard, by Phoenix, and Lynn Shackelford, a 6-5 forward, by San Diego, both in the seventh round. Another UCLA star, Lucius Allen, went to Seattle in the original draft.

The Phoenix Suns said they got what they wanted in Floyd and Lloyd Kerr, a pair of flashy 6-3, 207-pound twins from Colorado State. The Suns, an expansion team leading off the third round, plucked Floyd, a forward-guard drafted by the Los Angeles Stars of the American Basketball Association and the Dallas Cowboys of the National Football League, was a member of the All-Star team in the Midwestern NCAA finals. Lloyd, drafted by the Oakland Oaks of the ABA, was picked later in the same round.

Blood Races In Person's Veins

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

We live in shaky times. The world has a million earthquakes a year, but only one out of 10 is strong enough to be felt and only one of a thousand causes substantial damage.

Every 23 seconds a burglary is committed in America. Half of the nation's burglaries take place in small businesses, and the daily loot averages $1.2 million a day.

Art Of Acceptance

If you can afford to travel first class, what other way is there to go? On a recent visit to perform at Caesars Palace in Las Vegas, Richard Burton and Elizabeth Taylor arrived with a battalion of baggage pieces, a personal staff of eight people, four Pekingese dogs, exotic spices and 20 pounds of extra-salty white pistachio nuts.

How big is one of the 20 trillion red blood cells that keep you alive? Well, put side-by-side they would reach 116,000 miles, or nearly halfway to the moon. Spread out, they'd cover four-fifths of an acre, and if you put a cluster of 40 of them together they'd be the size of the period at the end of this sentence.

Incidentally, when a novelist writes of blood racing through his excited heroine's body, he's telling the truth. The blood can course through arteries at a speed of 40 miles an hour.

Quotable notables: "The art of acceptance is the art of making someone who has just done you a small favor wish that he might have done you a greater one."—Russell Lynes.

Littering is more than a nuisance—it's expensive. Every 12 minutes a U.S. home is destroyed by a fire starting in rubbish. The cleaning of debris from our streets costs us $300 million in taxes a year.

Quit Smoking

Have you given up cigarette smoking lately? It is estimated that 1.5 million Americans quit the habit each month. Unfortunately, no figures are available on the number who start again the next day, week or month.

Pertinent: Mrs. Judy O'Reilly described babies as "angels whose wings grow shorter as their legs grow longer."

Mission perilous: Even omitting occasional dog bites, delivering the mail isn't a very safe job. A survey made the surprising discovery that the nation's 750,000 postal employees suffered half of all accidents to federal service personnel although they make up only a fourth of its membership.

Inflationary note: Caesars Palace, one of the luxury hotels at Las Vegas, has raised the top limit on individual dice and blackjack bets from $500 to $1,000 and the limit on baccarat bets from $2,000 to $4,000. And if the dealers know you, you can go even higher.

Money Problems

Worth remembering: "A fat wife and a large barn never did any man any harm."

Big problem of the aged: Money isn't everything but it seems to be more of a worry the older you grow. Government statistics show that three out of 10 Americans 65 and over dwell in poverty, in contrast to only one in nine younger people who do.

Credit Unions Elect Officers

IRON MOUNTAIN — Representatives of credit unions in the Upper Peninsula Chapter elected officials at the annual meeting of 110 delegates and guests at the Dickinson Hotel.

George R. LaChapelle, Iron Mountain, was re-elected chapter director in the Michigan Credit Union League.

Three members of the Executive Committee elected were Ethel Casimir, Spalding, first vice chairman; Eloise Kosbab, 506 S. 10th St., Escanaba, treasurer; and Wesley Kumpula, Marquette, legal and legislative representative.

Members serving continuing terms on the Executive Committee include Paul Duke, Rte. 1, Newberry, director; Richard Meissner, 605 Odgen Ave., Escanaba, alternate director and chapter chairman; Robert Corey, Forest Lake, second vice chairman; Elaine Jensen, 116 S. 2nd St., Escanaba, secretary; Ray Burge, Alpha; Laura Cascioli, Rte. 1, Iron River, and Joyce Borman, Rte. 1, Gladstone, publicity chairman.

The 66 credit unions of the chapter have a combined membership of more than 52,000 with total assets exceeding $35 million.

The Magna Carta was not signed at all at Runnymede. It was "sealed."

LIFE IS HARD — Ohio's Gov. James A. Rhodes (above), whose name was among those mentioned as a possible Republican vice presidential nominee last year, is busy denying a Life Magazine report that he paid more than $100,000 in taxes, penalties and interest to settle unreported tax claims.

Despite that depressing fact, more people are giving up the fight for the big dollar at an earlier age. In recent years more than half the people who have quit work and applied for social security benefits did so before reaching 65.

Science hasn't been able to establish that red-haired girls are more hot-tempered than others. It has found, however, that they are more susceptible to sunburn than blondes who, in turn, are afflicted by the sun's rays more than brunettes.

It was Jonathan Swift who observed, "I must complain that the cards are ill shuffled till I have a good hand."

THE CIRCUS IS COMING and Lou Jacobs, one of the world's most famous clowns, shows how he transforms himself from a genial, bespectacled man into the familiar clown seen on posters for the Greatest Show on Earth. Jacobs, who joined the show in 1925, also invents assorted mechanical contraptions to enhance his act. Two of his inventions have been the motorized bathtub and a mini-car.

Rumors Have Laker Coach With Pistons

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Free Press said today Bill Van Breda Kolff, coach of the Los Angeles Lakers who is feuding with his star, Wilt Chamberlain, is being mentioned as a possible new coach for the Detroit Pistons of the National Basketball Association.

However, any changes depend on whether Paul Seymour decides to step down as Pistons coach. Seymour previously said he may ask for other duties with the Pistons so he can devote more time to his family and his business enterprises in Syracuse, N.Y.

Van Breda Kolff's name was being mentioned during Wednesday's NBA draft as a successor to Seymour.

The Laker coach was criticized by Chamberlain after Los Angeles lost the NBA title game to Boston Monday night.

The Free Press quoted an unidentified NBA veteran as saying he couldn't see "how Van Breda Kolff could remain with the Lakers. If it boils down to Chamberlain or the coach, you know who will stay."

Woman Picked In NBA Draft

UNION, Iowa (AP) — "I was shocked and surprised when they told me about it," but "I still think it's kind of cute," said Denise Long after becoming the first woman in history to be drafted by the National Basketball Association.

The San Francisco Warriors picked her in the 13th round of the NBA draft Wednesday, but league President Walter Kennedy said, "Not allowed."

Denise is a 5-foot-11 high school star from Union-Whitten High School and finished out her prep career this year with a total of 6,249 points in four seasons. She once scored 111 points in one game.

"We were serious," said Frank Mieuli, owner and president of the Warriors.

"We weren't trying to belittle the draft or the caliber of players available in the late rounds. We didn't intend to use her in NBA games. We wanted to use her in a league we have for preliminary games," he said.

"I think I could have played with them. I always practice by boys' rules. But, they're bigger than I am, and stronger, I guess," Denise said.

"I'd probably have trouble keeping my eyes off the boys. And maybe they would have trouble keeping their eyes off me," she said after admitting she "might have accepted the offer."

Community School Graduation May 22

The Gladstone Community School Program, under the direction of Robert Richards, will hold its first graduation ceremony Thursday, May 22. Twenty-five students will receive diplomas after completing requirements for a High School diploma in the Gladstone School System. Richards said "It shows something special in these adults, when they will put forth the time and effort to get a diploma which may have no other value than self satisfaction. These people are to be highly complimented on their achievement."

A total of 80 adults have furthered their education this year in the High School completion program. Anyone in the area who does not have a diploma and is interested should look into the program and call Robert Richards at the High School.

Sucker Runs In Full Swing

Most fishing interest centers around sucker runs which are in full swing in most Delta County streams and just commencing in Lake Superior streams, the Dept. of Natural Resources said today.

Suckers may be taken by spear, dip-net, or smelt net, subject to certain restrictions on certain waters, throughout the month of May. Copies of regulations indicating type of permissible gear and waters are available from DNR offices.

Smelt runs are over in Delta County streams, but some are still being taken in some Lake Superior waters.

Trout interest also is high with the best success and most activity on trout lakes and for spawning rainbow on Lake Superior streams. Some coho are being taken off the new power plant at Marquette and the mouth of the Carp, as well as in the Munising Bay area.

Persons interested in a relative newcomer to the area might try Squaw Lake near Republic for splake. A splake is a cross between a brook trout and a lake trout and are running up to 18 inches and being taken on minnows.

Wildflowers are commencing, and Mayflowers and trailing arbutus should soon be in full bloom.

Northern pike and walleye fishermen are advised that the season does not open until May 15. Bass season opens Memorial Day.

Mental Health Director Staying

LANSING (AP)—Gov. William Milliken Tuesday announced he was "very pleased" to report that Dr. William Anderson will remain as director of the State Department of Mental Health.

Anderson had been reported threatening to quit after State Auditor General Albert Lee issued an audit report critical of the department's operations and spending.

Milliken pointed out at the time that the audit covered a period before Anderson took over as director.

The governor said he talked to Anderson yesterday and reached the agreement that he would continue on the job.

"I'm delighted that he will continue as director," Milliken said. "He's one of the outstanding men in the mental health field in the nation."

Viet Cong Advances 10-Point Peace Plan

Governors Against ABM Sites In Their States

Ask Vietnamese To Settle Their Own Problems

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. Anderson of both states chosen by the Nixon administration as initial sites for antiballistic missile have declared themselves opposed to the controversial Safeguard program.

The two Democrats, first-term Gov. Forrest H. Anderson of Montana and fourth-term Gov. William L. Guy of North Dakota, contend the short-term economic benefits of Safeguard sites in their states wouldn't be worth the long-term problems they could cause.

And they say they don't want their states to become nuclear junkyards.

As the controversy rages in Washington, a possible referendum on the antiballistic missile — ABM — issue is building up through a special congressional election in the normally Republican 2nd District of eastern Montana where one proposed site is located.

Oppose ABM

That site is Malmstrom Air Force Base in Great Falls, Mont. The other proposed site is Grand Forks, N.D., Air Force Base. Both have Minuteman missiles which ABM supporters say would be protected by the Safeguard system.

Democratic nominee John Melcher, a veterinarian from Forsyth, has opposed the ABM in his contest against Republican William S. Mather, a Billings lawyer and state legislator.

They seek the seat surrendered by Republican James F. Battin, now a federal judge.

Amno Dump

"I do not wish to see Montana become the nuclear ammunition dump—and later junkyard—of the United States," Anderson said. "I have yet to find any scientific authority outside the industrial-military complex who can offer assurance the system will operate at all."

Anderson also said "the economic gains from short-term military construction programs frequently bring long-term financial headaches."

"Communities are required to provide additional services and facilities for the families employed on the projects. When the projects are completed, the families often move away and the recently constructed real property is not taxable. The community facilities remain and must be paid for."

Higher Needs

Guy, in a letter last week to Chairman John Stennis, D-Miss., of the Senate Armed Services Committee, said he had heard the arguments that he should not oppose the ABM system because it would be good for this state's economy.

"I wish to state emphatically that there are priority needs such as education, health services and reclamation projects that would have a higher social priority and would be far better for this state's economy than the ABM system," he said.

Guy said the Safeguard promises to "be like other North Dakota military facilities—obsolete before it can be built."

PARIS (AP) — The Viet Cong today advanced a 10-point peace plan calling for establishment of a coalition government and leaving to the Vietnamese people the question of dealing with Vietnam armed forces.

The plan, presented to the 16th session of the Vietnam peace talks by Than Buu Kiem, representative of the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front, combined elements of previous North Vietnamese and front proposals, but added some new provisions.

The idea of a coalition government as well as some other terms of the plan previously had been rejected by the United States and the South Vietnamese government.

Kiem called the proposals a plan to allow the Vietnamese people "to settle their own affairs without foreign interference."

North's Support

It was quickly supported by North Vietnam's Xuan Thuy.

The proposals did not refer specifically to the presence of North Vietnamese forces, but the reference to leaving the question of Vietnam armed forces to the Vietnamese themselves appeared to be intended to cover the North Vietnamese troops.

Kiem made his proposal after the United States told the North Vietnamese and the front that "we must be ready for the unwelcome contingency that your side does not want to negotiate a peaceful settlement."

Kiem's plan called for a provisional coalition government to take over between the establishment of peace and general elections. This government would be made up of representatives of all political trends, including personalities who for political reasons are now living outside Vietnam.

Total Withdrawal

The election would be to choose a constituent assembly. There would then be a coalition government based on the outcome of the election.

Kiem called for the total withdrawal of U.S. forces, arms and war materiel without posing any conditions whatsoever. He also demanded the withdrawal of all non-Vietnamese allied forces and the liquidation of all allied bases.

The proposal seemed in many respects to resemble the "political program of the National Front for Liberation" adopted in August 1967 by a so-called extraordinary congress of the front. That program had four major points, and many subordinate ones. The four major points called for uniting the country while fighting the Americans, building an "independent, peaceful, neutral and prosperous South Vietnam," restoring "normal relations between North and South Vietnam" and proceeding "toward peaceful reunification of the fatherland" and applying "a foreign policy of peace and neutrality."

It was clear from Kiem's speech that North Vietnamese troops would not be considered foreign troops.

Xuan Thuy backed the demand for compensation by the United States for damages done to North Vietnam.

Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge told the session that the forces of North Vietnam and not the United States are intensifying the war.

Intensifying War

Replying to North Vietnamese and Viet Cong allegations that the Nixon administration is stepping up military operations while talking peace, Lodge said: "The responsibility for any intensification of the fighting which has occurred or which may occur in the future must rest with the North Vietnamese and the Viet Cong. If they persist in attacking the South Vietnamese people, their armed forces and the armed forces of

New Terrorist Campaign Is Aimed At Saigon Govt

SAIGON (AP) — The South Vietnamese government announced today a 24-hour cease-fire in observance of the 2,513th birthday of Buddha May 30.

The announcement came as police sources reported the Viet Cong appear to have launched a new terror campaign in Saigon aimed at undermining the government.

A spokesman for President Nguyen Van Thieu said the cease-fire would run from 6 a.m. Saigon time, May 30, until 6 a.m. May 31.

Saigon time is 12 hours ahead of Eastern Daylight time. The announcement was made over nationwide television.

A spokesman for the U.S. mission said: "We were consulted and we are in agreement."

Five Attacks

Five terror attacks were reported between 6 p.m. Wednesday and noon today. Five Vietnamese were killed and 43 Vietnamese and six Americans were wounded in the capital's worst rash of terrorism this year.

In the most sensational attack, two plastic bombs exploded simultaneously in the crowded main room of Saigon's central post office just after 8 a.m. The blasts killed a South Vietnamese army captain and three Vietnamese civilians and wounded 21 Vietnamese civilians.

The bombs, wrapped as packages to be mailed, went off in opposite ends of the cavernous room. The bigger bomb contained about 15 pounds of explosive, the smaller one about two pounds.

Police said the explosive packages were brought into the yellow stucco building by a group of youths who apparently dashed out and escaped on motor scooters.

The other attacks involved the throwing of grenades at U.S. and south Vietnamese military trucks and civilian cars and the plastic bombing of a South Vietnamese navy truck 400 yards from the post office.

Police sources said they had seized Communist documents three days ago in Saigon calling for a terrorist campaign between May 7, the 15th anniversary of the French defeat at Dien Bien Phu, and May 19, the 79th birthday of North Vietnamese President Ho Chi Minh.

Meanwhile, Viet Cong gunners shelled Hue, the old imperial capital 400 miles north of Saigon, for the first time in two months. Military spokesmen said two Vietnamese children and an adult were killed. One Vietnamese civilian and one American civilian were wounded.

Red Rocket

Six 100-pound Russian rockets landed on the city shortly after midnight Wednesday, and two hospitals were hit.

"Damage to the second floor at the provincial hospital was reported heavy," a spokesman said. "A tuberculosis hospital sustained light damage."

The U.S. Command announced that a force of 4,000 American, South Vietnamese and South Korean troops are making an intensive sweep of 40-square-mile Barrier Island, on the coast 20 miles southeast of Da Nang, seeking to root out the Viet Cong who have controlled the island for years.

The U.S. Command also increased the number of casualties in the crash Tuesday of a U.S. Army Chinook helicopter loaded with South Vietnamese infantrymen. A spokesman said 40 men were killed and 43 injured, instead of 34 killed and 35 injured as announced previously.

Lebanese Border Dangerous: Meir

By The Associated Press

Premier Golda Meir says Israeli villages along the "danger border" with Lebanon will be strengthened in case Arab guerrillas win their struggle to use Lebanon as a staging area for attacks on Israel.

"I do not know what will happen in Lebanon, whose hand will be on top—the terrorists or the army," she told labor leaders in Tel Aviv Wednesday. "But the Lebanese border is the new danger border for us."

"We have villages there and we must look after them and see they are properly defended."

The political and military crisis in Lebanon deteriorated further Wednesday when about 2,000 Arab guerrillas besieged the Lebanese village of Hasbaya near the Israeli frontier. The Beirut government charged that the assault was directed by Al Saika—Thunderbolt—an Arab commando organization affiliated with Syria's ruling Baath party. Al Saika denied the charge and called the Lebanese army to join it in an investigation.

The largest of the Palestinian guerrilla organizations, Al Fatah, added to the tension in Lebanon with a charge that Lebanese troops shot five Al Fatah commandos who were en route to Israel on a sabotage mission. Lebanese military officials denied the charge.

Thousands of Palestinians living in refugee camps in Lebanon pay allegiance to Al Fatah, and there was speculation that the guerrilla organization would order them into the streets. Demonstrations by refugees in support of the guerrillas two weeks ago touched off clashes with Lebanese troops which resulted in the death of 18 persons and the resignation of Premier Rashid Karami.

The guerrillas want to use Lebanon as a staging area because it is nearer the Israeli industrial complex at the port of Haifa, but the government has resisted them because it fears Israeli reprisals.

School Aid Bill Reported Out

Stage Set For Hot Parochial Debate

LANSING (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee Wednesday reported out an $844.06 million state school aid bill and set the stage for one of the hottest debates of the legislative session—parochial.

Discussion of the bill could begin Friday, according to House Speaker William Ryan, D-Detroit.

The appropriations committee voted 10-3 for the bill after paring the schools allocation to $844.06 million — $120,000 less than the figure adopted earlier by the Senate.

Ryan, leader of the successful bid to add $100,000 for church and other privately run schools, said refinements must be made in the parochial rider, although no more money is involved.

Additions

"There will be efforts" to add to the bill, Ryan predicted. Appropriations Chairman William Copeland, D-Wyandotte, declined to speculate what effect the bill—some $505,000 below Gov. William Milliken's recommended budget—would have on the state's hardpressed schools. "I'm a finance man, I'm not an educator," Copeland said. "It'll be up to the educators to say how they'll make out."

Copeland resisted efforts by committee members to add to the bill's total cost, but allowed numerous changes in distribution formulas to direct more money to desperate districts, particularly those in Detroit.

The committee at one point voted an additional $1 million for two disbanded Detroit-area school districts, Nankin Mills and the old Sumpter district. Copeland recessed the meeting, lectured key members, and the sum was deleted by a prompt revote.

Bus U.P. Students

Rep. Russell Hellman, D-Dollar Bay, sought to remove a 1½ mile, minimum distance restriction on state transportation funds to help bus Upper Peninsula pupils to schools.

"We still had ice eight feet high in my area last Sunday," Hellman said. "I want you to realize we have to legislate both peninsulas."

The committee gave sympathy to Hellman's plea but no vote for the $17 million he said was needed.

Districts which disband or suffer financial collapse would be taken over by intermediate districts under one amendment, and could borrow funds which would be charged to taxpayers of the old, defunct school district.

Change Formula

The committee also changed total funds available to districts under a so-called "high tax waiver" but raised participation requirements. Under that section of the bill, districts which levy 133 per cent or more of the average state millage may share proportionately in some $13 million.

The Senate voted $12.5 million for that section, but at the old 125 per cent rate. Wealthy districts with high equalized valuation would be eliminated by the House action.

A third basic change simplified the basic membership formula and reduced the top category from a minimum valuation of $14,333 per child to $13,777.

Fortas Cancels Speech Fee

BOSTON (AP) — Supreme Court Justice Abe Fortas has canceled his share of a fee for a speech today at Northeastern University.

Tom Conrad, student chairman of the committee sponsoring Fortas' appearance, said the fee was canceled Monday by the Harry Walker Agency in New York, which booked the speech. Conrad said, "The agency called Monday and said the fee would be only $675, instead of the original $2,000." He said no reason was given.

The student chairman said the agency told him the $675 was to cover the agency's commission and Fortas' travel expenses from Washington to Boston.

Life Magazine in its current issue says that in 1966 Fortas was given a $20,000 fee by the family foundation of Louis Wolfson, and that Fortas returned the money 11 months later.

Wolfson on April 25 began serving a one-year sentence for stock fraud.

Fortas could not be reached for comment on the Northeastern cancellation. However, a spokesman for the justice said in Washington that "he hasn't been accepting fees for speeches for quite some time."

Abe Explanation Or Impeachment

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Robert Taft, R-Ohio, has forecast an impeachment move in the House against Supreme Court Justice Abe Fortas unless Fortas explains a $20,000 fee offered him by the Louis E. Wolfson family foundation.

"It all depends on what happens in the next few days," Taft said, adding that he doesn't now plan to file such proceedings himself but might later depending on developments.

Taft said he and other House members think Fortas should be given an opportunity to make further explanation of the fee.

Value Of Mark Sets Record

LONDON (AP) — The West German mark reached new heights at the opening of European exchange markets today, increasing pressure on the Bonn government to raise the official value of its money.

The deutschmark in bank-to-bank dealings in Paris reached a record level of 125.30 French francs for 100 marks, against Wednesday's close of 125.295. The ceiling level is 125.290.

The pound opened in London at its floor of $2.3825, its lowest level since last November's monetary crisis.

The ceiling and floor levels are the rates at which International Monetary Fund rules require a nation's central bank to buy its currency to stabilize the price.

Atomic Power Plants Can Warm Beaches

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Bathing who complain that the Great Lakes are too cold could swim in warmer water in the future if nuclear power plants heat waters along popular summertime beaches.

The idea of using hot water discharged by nuclear generating stations to warm beach waters was proposed Tuesday by Roman H. Koenings, U.S. Bureau of Outdoor Recreation regional director at Ann Arbor.

"You have to be a relatively hardy individual to swim in several lakes for extended periods—and I'm not just talking about Lake Superior," Koenings told the Great Lakes Research Conference.

"It is possible that the warmer water from atomic power plants could be utilized in improving the water temperature at some beaches," he added.

Conservationists have opposed construction of atomic power plants along Lake Michigan because of possible harm to aquatic life.

"I don't think it would have much of an effect on aquatic

Cuba Hijackings Dwindle Sharply

MIAMI (AP) — Airliner hijackings to Cuba, an almost daily occurrence early in 1969, have dwindled sharply and government officials say they hope the sky piracy is on its last legs—or wings.

The hijackings of a National Airlines passenger plane Monday was the first since April 14, and the first over this country since March 25.

In January alone, 11 planes were hijacked.

The figure dropped to five each in February and March, and to three in April.

"It's possible the fad has died out," J. M. Frazier, head of the Federal Aviation Administration's Miami area office, said Tuesday.

"We know there's been a decline in the hijackings but we don't really know why."

"On April 1st we did issue posters to airlines and tourist counters warning that airline hijacking is a federal crime punishable by death. But whether this has played a part in the decrease is anybody's guess."

The posters, in bold black, red and blue letters, also warn that

Excommunicate Iowa Couple

WASHINGTON, Iowa (AP) — A series of church actions rare in modern times has culminated in the excommunication of Prof. and Mrs. Joseph Baker from the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A.

The action came at a meeting of the denomination's Southeast Iowa Presbytery here Tuesday.

It means the Bakers may not hold church office or receive communion, although they may continue to attend church.

The Bakers were suspended indefinitely from the church Jan. 31, 1968. They were given one year to repent of "disrupting the peace and unity" of the First Presbyterian Church in Iowa City.

The charge was leveled at them after they led a fight to prevent demolition of the 113-year-old church building to make way for a new structure.

The Bakers told church officials they did not repent because they didn't believe they had done anything to be repentant about.

The presbytery disagreed, and Tuesday took the excommunication action which Baker, an English professor at the University of Iowa, says he will appeal to the church's Iowa Synod and to the General Assembly.

That is the same appeal cause he and his wife took—unsuccessfully—after their indefinite suspension.

The old church at the center of the conflict still stands, and a final decision regarding its fate has not been made.

Hydraulic Jack Service Opens

Announcement is made by George Winling of the establishment of a new firm, the Winling Jack Repair, Escanaba Rte. 1, serving and repairing hydraulic jacks in the area.

The service is being extended to auto body shops, service stations, trucking companies, car dealers, farmers and other users of hydraulic jacks. Pick up, delivery, and installation is offered within a 15-mile radius.

Reader-Sorter

DETROIT (AP) — Burroughs Corp. has announced it has developed a new high speed electronic reader-sorter which can read both optipac and magnetic characters simultaneously, at the rate on 1,625 documents per minute.

Detroit News said Whitmer would be named by Gov. Milliken. Whitmer currently is legislative counsel to the governor.

The Commerce Department directorship was opened Tuesday when Herbert DeJonge resigned to accept a civil service appointment as deputy director of the State Department of Administration.

Whitmer, a 1965 graduate of the University of Michigan, served on the staffs of former Gov. George Romney and Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich. He left Griffin's staff in January to work with Milliken.

DeJonge's resignation was announced only hours after a Senate committee issued a report condemning the Commerce Department's handling of the State Liquor Control Commission. The report charged that the effect of absorption of the Liquor Commission into the Comptroller's office was "to hamper, delay and inconvenience liquor control operation."

Teachers Back School Merger

The Powers-Spalding Education Association today expressed support for the three way proposed consolidation between Bark River-Harris, Hermansville, and Powers-Spalding school districts.

"Such a district would mean a more flexible and comprehensive program of instruction that would give greater consideration to specific areas in which depth needs to be added such as vocational education, foreign languages and fine arts.

"An expanded program would mean that students could be more effectively guided into the program providing the greatest benefit. Extra-curricular activities which now suffer in each of the three districts because of inadequate funding and too small a group of students to form an effective and economical working organization would be realized on a greater scale with increased enrollment, more available staff, and increased funding.

The consolidated district would also provide a more equitable student to teacher ratio with a tendency to average the overcrowded and under-crowded classrooms toward the optimum size for a particular class," the association reported.

"The economic and administrative feasibility of such a consolidation has been demonstrated by the Area Study which gives a strong, optimistic argument for three way consolidation. It remains yet for the voters of these three districts to decide the course which provides the best possible educational advantage for their children.

"The Powers-Spalding Education Association supports the consolidation on the basis of providing the highest quality instruction possible for the smallest number of tax dollars," the Association concluded.

A new skirt is the joy of a young girl's desire and even more so if she made it herself. Junior High 8th grade Home Economics classes had style shows during their classes on Wednesday and winners were selected by the 7th grade Home Ec. students of Mrs. Jack Kivela.

Some 118 girls have been learning to put in a zipper, make hems, buttonholes, and make fittings. For most of the girls it was their first attempt at sewing, "for real."

"A start in sewing encourages more wardrobe additions for future activities and as a result of their sewing the girls are also learning to be more intelligent buyers," said Mrs. Harold Tonn, instructor.

Drugs To Help Kick The Habit

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Two drugs show promise of helping heroin addicts kick their habits. One of them works 10 times as well if the addict has a wife or steady girl friend, a group of psychiatrists say.

The drugs are methadone and cyclazocine. Methadone is a narcotic substitute for heroin with none of its bad effects. Cyclazocine, nonnarcotic, blocks the action of heroin.

Methadone works better with one type of addict, cyclazocine is more effective with another type.

Results of experiments with the drugs were reported to the convention of the American Psychiatric Association today by Drs. Richard B. Resnick, Max Fink and Alfred M. Freedman of New York Medical College.

A questionnaire technique indicates which drug would be most helpful in a given case, Resnick said.

Methadone appears better for addicts who feel that heroin reduces their anger, tension and disappointments, and increases their ability to work or study. They have physical or metabolic needs for a drug.

Cyclazocine appears better for addicts who use heroin as a way of getting along better socially, even though they realize that heroin doesn't really help them function.

Fourteen of 31 addicts studied have stayed on cyclazocine successfully for as long as three years, Resnick said. The others dropped out after one week.

Cornell Lions Honor Area Graduates

The 22nd charter year of the Cornell Lions was marked at a meeting at the Cornell Town Hall on Tuesday evening. King Lion Harold Woodard presided at the meeting. Graduates from Escanaba Area High School, Gwinn, Perkins and Holy Name along with the Lion's wives were hosted to an evening meal. The tables were decorated with spring bouquets, tall tapers and graduation favors.

Program chairman Clayton Ford introduced the guest speaker, Charles Folio who stressed the need of furthering one's education. Miss Cindi Vandresse, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Vandresse, showed an exhibit of her comedy drawings. Arthur Chenier was honored for his perfect attendance record in the club for the 22 years the club has been organized.

Graduates included Miss Debbie Scheuren, Linda Terrien, Mary Lou Ring, Jewel Slagstad, Beverly Vermote, Tom Schultz, Ken Lambert, Roger Ring, Bill Jaeger, and Martin Heikinen. Other guests for the evening included Mrs. Charles Folio, Mr. and Mrs. John Ring Jr. and Mr. and Mrs. Orton Degenett.

Ask Blood For Heart Surgery

Blood donors of O Negative type are needed for a heart surgery case, a 10-year-old girl in Antigo, the Red Cross announced today. The bloodmobile will be at the Teamsters building in Escanaba today to 7:30 p. m.

The Red Cross Bloodmobile in its visit to Delta County was at Gladstone on Wednesday and is in Escanaba today and Friday.

In Gladstone at the James T. Jones School on Wednesday a total of 50 units of blood were collected, 12 under the quota of 62. There had been 11 appointments by donors for the day and the remainder were "walk-ins."

Three donors were honored at Gladstone for their support of the blood bank. They are: Mrs. Lorraine Russell, a four-gallon donor pin; Paul Jarvis, three gallons, and Mrs. Elaine Wesolowski, one gallon.

Today and Friday in Escanaba the quota is 110 units each day, and there are 41 appointments for today and 27 for Friday, the Red Cross reports. Those donors having appointments will be assured of being processed at the time they specify.

Walk-in donors are welcomed, however, and the Bloodmobile hours on Friday, closing day of the three-day visit, are 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. at the Teamsters building.

Escanaba Daily Press

A Panax Publication
 Ralph S. Kaziatek, Gen. Mgr. David L. Andrews, Editor

Mr. Upper Peninsula

They came by the hundreds Wednesday night to honor Jean Worth.

Educators, politicians, industrialists, businessmen and others turned out at the Terrace — over 500 strong — to pay tribute to the distinguished career of the retiring editor of the Escanaba Daily Press, the Upper Peninsula's most well-known newspaperman, marking the end of an era in personal journalism that has been as colorful as it has been creative.

Jean Worth came to newspapering literally by accident. His first love was not the printed word but the stage. Born the son of a lumberman in Menominee, he worked briefly as a reporter for the Herald-Leader of that city but soon left for Manhattan in hopes of carving a career in the theater. It was a logical choice for a handsome and articulate young man with a fine sense of the dramatic. He graduated in 1925 from the American Academy of Dramatic Arts in New York City and appeared in bit parts with such stage stars as Pat O'Brien, Josephine Hutchinson and Rota Romilly.

He might still be there if he hadn't been injured in a car accident in Green Bay, Wis., while he was home on vacation. The accident fractured his skull, paralyzed the left side of the face and ruined his dramatic aspirations.

He returned to Michigan and became a reporter for the old Detroit Times. He left the Times in 1930 to come home again to Menominee as city editor of the Herald-Leader. He was named managing editor in 1934 and editor in 1943. In 1955, he moved to Escanaba as editor of the Daily Press, a position he served with 14 years of dedicated and inspired service.

During his newspaper career, Worth has functioned in every conceivable capacity — as a reporter, editor, copyreader, telegraph editor, columnist and even as a photographer. His output has been voluminous, but its quality has not suffered because of that. Frank J. Russell, the Marquette newspaper publisher, once asked Worth why he wrote at such lengths, and Worth replied, not entirely facetiously, that he didn't have time to write short accounts.

Part of the reason he didn't have time was that he was so busy serving a host of worthwhile causes ranging from his church to economic development, from education to agriculture. He gave freely of his time and rare talent to scores of organizations in exchange only for the psychological income he derived from helping his community and the Upper Peninsula.

In addition to being a newspaperman of the first magnitude and a volunteer contributor to the efforts of numerous organizations, Worth is a gifted lecturer who is in great demand as a public speaker. He is a most entertaining raconteur, a regional historian, a pioneer tree farmer and an authority on a wide range of subjects, including forestry, agriculture and education.

Worth also undoubtedly is the foremost authority anywhere on Upper Peninsula affairs. His knowledge of his native land past and present is encyclopedic. If anyone deserves the title "Mr. Upper Peninsula," it is Jean Worth.

It is almost impossible to believe that a man whose accomplishments are as extensive as those suggested above has any leisure time at all. But Worth manages to find time to indulge in oil and water color painting (with such expertise that he has no difficulty finding markets for his canvases), splitting wood at his camp on the Cedar River in Menominee County and reading for enjoyment (he is a rapid and omnivorous reader).

He has yet another ability that deserves to be singled out. It is his ability to laugh — at the world and at himself. His celebrated wit is never far submerged and his absolutely wonderful sense of humor has salvaged many a bleak day. The honors that have come his way so abundantly and deservedly are too numerous to be cataloged here. Impressive as they are, however, they measure only a portion of Jean Worth's genuine contributions to the land and the people around him.

Everyone who knows him knows he will continue to make those contributions even in retirement.

Holocaust

1968 was an ugly year for Americans. Tragedy of spectacular magnitude became a frequent front page occurrence. But a quieter national calamity took its dreadful toll on all the days.

It was "quiet" only because it was not concentrated in a single place at a single time. To the families and friends of 55,300 men, women and children killed in auto accidents, however, it was the ultimate calamity. To the 4,400,000 victims of injury, it was hard core agony. The economic loss, about 13.5 billion, was an appalling waste.

This view of 1968 is contained in the annual booklet of highway accident statistics from Travelers Insurance Companies. Statistics in the booklet were compiled from records of motor vehicle departments throughout the country.

The 1968 highway toll followed a year that saw a leveling off in the number of highway deaths and injuries. In 1967 approximately 53,000 lives were lost in motor vehicle mishaps — 4,200,000 persons were injured.

Why the increase? V — it is because Americans were lulled by the "improvement" of the preceding year?

There are, perhaps, as many reasons as there are people to voice opinions.

Whatever the reasons, the tragedy remains. More than 55,300 persons were killed and 4,400,000 injured.

Mr. Driver, it's up to you to help make 1969 safer.

Can Nixon Avoid 'Image' Politics?

WASHINGTON, D. C.—One of the things I personally like about the Nixon government is its lack of preoccupation with the Madison Avenue, or Marshall McLuhan, concept of "image." This testifies to the Administration's basic honesty. But we live, worse luck, in a world moved by "image," and I wonder how long any government can continue to hide some of its various lights under a bushel and remain effective.

There are the Nixon Administration's relations with the black community, for example. The general public is aware that the controversial Jim Farmer, who lost to another black candidate last autumn in a race for a Brooklyn seat in the U. S. House of Representatives, took a job with Bob Finch's Health, Education, and Welfare Department. Since Farmer had been anti-Nixon, his appointment naturally commanded the headlines. But in the popular mind the appointment of Farmer to an assistant Cabinet job just about exhausts the subject of black participation in the work of the new Republican regime.

A little questioning, however, turns up the fact that at least 10 Negroes in the Nixon government hold positions at the assistant secretary level. So actually the Farmer appointment must be multiplied by 10 to give a correct estimate of black influences at the assistant secretary level of government. In addition, two blacks hold posts on the District of Columbia Council under Negro Mayor Walter Washington.

The attitude of the Nixon entourage is that it is somewhat beneath the government's dignity to stress ethnic politics. It is ability that is supposed to count. No particular credit has been asked for the appointment of Indians to the Indian Claims Commission or the Indian Bureau, or for the presence of Mexican-Americans in important posts in the Small Business Administration and Urban Mass Transportation. But in a world that has gone mad over the ethnic question the fact that Jim Farmer can be multiplied 10 times deserves at least passing mention.

Along with de-escalating the rhetoric, the Nixon Administration has de-escalated the promotion of "image" politics. If it could make this stick without damaging its chances of remaining in office and winning its way in Congress, it would improve the atmosphere of communication in the remaining years of the Twentieth Century. We have had too much of "image" preoccupation with New Frontiers and Great Societies; what we need now is a resurgence of plain, ordinary civilization.

But if the media won't cooperate in the de-escalation of "image" politics, Nixon will have to bow to the realities that govern our increasingly phony world.

A columnist slammed him the other day as being the "old Campaign Nixon" for making a "jawbone" speech about the need for "backbone" among college administrators who are faced with SDS violence. It so happened that Nixon, far from being self-righteous in appealing to the "over-thirty" people about the issue of firmness on the campus, has had several of his speechwriters working to produce something that could be presented on a philosophical level to the "under-thirties."

But the brooding Nixon, who knows that there is no use spending one's time convincing those who are already convinced, doesn't project himself. Someone is going to have to do that little job for him.

U.S. Economy Headed For Longer Weekend

NEW YORK (AP) — The American economy is slowly inching its way toward the three-day weekend.

Indicative of the trend, perhaps, is the passage of legislation fixing certain holidays to fall either on Friday or Monday and the beginning by some companies of an abbreviated form of the long weekend.

Reader's Digest began a four-day week for the month of May for its 2,800 workers. "With the institution of this annual four-day-per-week month, we are once again in the forefront of what I am convinced will eventually be a major trend," said DeWitt Wallace, co-chairman of the magazine located in Pleasantville, N.Y.

McDonald's restaurant chain began last week letting its office employees off at 1 p.m. Fridays until the end of the summer for a quicker start on the weekend. And employees, in the Chicago headquarters and six regional offices around the country, showed up for work dressed in sports clothes—on the orders of McDonald's president, Fred L. Turner.

Long Weekend

"What's the point in giving everyone Friday afternoon off if they have to spend time getting home and changing clothes?" Turner said. "The summer weekend is a fact of American life and our hours are designed to give our employees a long weekend."

But he pointed out, however, office employees will observe 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. hours during the rest of the week to make up for the short Friday schedule.

Eighteen employees of the Bank of New York's fiduciary data control section also are receiving the dividend of a four-day week, although a bank spokesman emphasized they work the normal 35-hour week.

The spokesman explained the experiment began because most of the work in the section does not come into the office until after noon. Previously this resulted in a substantial amount of overtime. Now the employees work from noon to 9:45 p.m. and are scheduled so that the office is manned Monday through Friday.

Ruether Brands Nixon's Stand On Farm Workers

DETROIT (AP)—United Auto Workers Union President Walter P. Ruether Wednesday branded as "shocking and disgraceful" the Nixon administration's announced intention to oppose extension of the National Labor Relations Act to cover farm workers.

"These rights and protections are guaranteed to millions of American workers," Ruether said. "Yet they have been denied to agricultural workers, among the most exploited citizens in our society. There is no moral or economic justification for the position of this administration as set forth yesterday by the secretary of labor."

Labor Secretary Charles Schulze proposed that a separate law, to be administered by a new agency, be passed to cover farm workers. Ruether charged that the proposal was "so filled with exclusions and fish-hooks as to render it meaningless."

City electrical union local whose 10,000 members in the construction field are believed to have the shortest work day in the nation—five hours.

"With the work force growing each year and technological advances replacing more workers, the shorter work week is an economic necessity," says Cleary, who predicts the four-day week will come about in 10 years.

Some experts, however, foresee in 10 to 20 years adoption of a shorter work day or some other form of abbreviated schedule before the three-day weekend.

Phyllis Moerle of the National Association of Manufacturers believes the American worker will have longer vacations, more holidays, earlier retirement and the shorter work day.

Mrs. Moerle, director of the NAM's Institute on Industrial Relations, says "perhaps by the end of the century" the four-day week may be a reality.

The NAM states: "If we are to have a simultaneous increase in leisure and in standard of living, the two together cannot exceed the gain in productivity, which in the past has been at an average rate of about 2 1/2 per cent per year. If we are to have both, both must occur at a very gradual pace."

"Thus it would appear that any abrupt, drastic and widespread reduction of the work week is ruled out."

Opposing Mall At Grand Haven

GRAND HAVEN (AP)—Petitioners with 886 signatures have been presented to the Grand Haven City Council, claiming construction of a downtown mall is not in the best interest of the people.

Some 600 signatures are required to force a vote on the issue.

The petitioners also objected to the city's bonding of $10,000 for its share of the $202,508 estimated cost of the mall, which was to be constructed this year.

Final plans for the mall are being completed by an Ann Arbor landscaping firm.

Opening lead—two of spades. Let's imagine you're East, defending five clubs. You win the lead with the king, declarer dropping the queen, but what should you do next?

If you play without thought and continue with a spade, declarer ruffs, forces out your ace of trumps, and soon after hanks up his contract with 100 honors.

But if you are a reasonably careful player, you stop to try to figure out what everybody has before leading a card at trick two.

It is not difficult to decide that South's queen of spades is a singleton. With 15 high-card points in dummy, 14 in your own hand, and South's overall of two clubs, it seems highly likely that your partner's spade raise was based on four-card trump support and distributional values, rather than high cards.

Once you recognize that a spade continuation is sure to be ruffed, the question arises whether it is better to shift to something else to try to get the three tricks you need to beat the contract. Obviously your ace of trumps is good for a second trick, but where is the third one coming from?

If West has a trump trick, you can afford to stand pat because the contract will eventually go down by force. But if West lacks a trump trick, he is bound to have the king of hearts for his raise, and you should therefore return a heart at trick two (preferably the queen, since partners have been known to fail to put up the king in this type of situation).

As it happens, the heart return kills the contract and there is nothing declarer can do about it. But notice that even if West had not held the king of hearts, your play would have done no harm, because declarer would then have had enough tricks for game against any defense.

Probe Insurance Cancellations

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Grand Rapids city officials have been asked to investigate what action it could take to curtail the rash of home insurance cancellations in the inner city.

Urban League Director Paul Phillips made the request at a City Commission meeting.

"It's going to increase tension and make it difficult to rehabilitate the inner city if people can't get insurance," Phillips warned.

He said he plans to ask for state assistance if the city is unable to help.

Harry Dorenbusch of Grand Rapids also testified before the commissioners that his latest premium check was returned Tuesday because his property was located in a "restricted area"—and he had been insured by the company for 18 years.

Ex-Wife Warns Girl Of Marriage Trials

Dear Ann Landers: I am addressing this letter to that 24-year-old lunatic who thinks she is in love with my husband.

Dear Miss Starry Eyes: He thinks he is in love with you, too, dear. And from his description of you, you deserve each other. Just to prove I'm not bitter, I'm going to give you a few tips. Ellsworth will make a wonderful husband for some strong, healthy woman who knows how to mow a lawn, cut the hedges, shovel the snow and remove storm windows. Also, it would be ever so nice if you enjoy taking little boys fishing, because he doesn't. And I do hope you have financial resources of your own because Ellsworth believes women are too dumb to handle money. You'll have to beg for every penny and produce receipts — and the figures better come out even.

If you really want him for your very own I'll happily send him over. But please don't say I didn't warn you. Honey, I wish his first wife had warned me. — Montreal, Quebec

Dear Ann Landers: May a young gynecologist say a word to the woman who signed herself "Nebraska" and described her brother-in-law as a sexpot who went into O. B. and Gyn. because he liked to "fool around with women"?

"Fooling around with women" is not limited to the medical profession or to any particular specialty. Women abound. In fact, more than 50 per cent of the world's population are women. One need not

Downtown To Fight Post Office Change

By CLINT DUNATHAN
The Escanaba Post Office and its proposed relocation was the major topic of conversation between Congressman Philip Ruppe, the downtown business interests, and City Councilmen at a luncheon meeting with Ruppe at the Sherman Hotel Wednesday noon.

U-M Alumni Club Elects Andrews New President

Dave Andrews, editor of the Escanaba Daily Press, was elected president of the Delta County University of Michigan Alumni Club at a luncheon meeting Wednesday at the Sherman Hotel.

Attorney Thomas Butch of Gladstone was elected vice president and Charles Folio, U-M extension service director, was elected secretary-treasurer.

John Romstad and Arol Beck of Escanaba were elected to the Board of Directors of the club. Student governors elected were James Tonn of Escanaba, a senior in dentistry, and Joan Rinehart, who will enter engineering school as a junior this fall.

Andrews succeeds Dr. Richard Rinehart, president of Bay de Noc Community College, as club president.

Guests at the luncheon included Dr. William Stegath, alumni association field representative; Cleland Wyllie, director of media relations; E. J. Soop, director, cultural affairs, U-M extension service. The club also welcomed as guests students home after close of the spring semester and high school seniors from Escanaba and Gladstone who plan to enroll at Michigan this fall.

The Post Office Department has approved and purchased a site for a new post office, to be located at 25th St. and 1st Ave. N., which is some 19 blocks west of the present location.

Plan Petitions
The relocation skips right over the downtown business district and comes down adjacent to the site where Red Owl is to develop the first big shopping center in the Escanaba area.

Downtown business interests, concerned and frustrated in their efforts to anchor the commercial district, have been unable to come up with a downtown site that would meet the Post Office Department's criteria on site cost and convenience.

But the effort will continue and the circulation of a petition under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce Civic Affairs Committee headed by Henry H. Dubbelde, asking the Post Office Department to keep Escanaba's post office in the downtown area, will be the next step.

The petition plus a statement of reasons why the Escanaba post office should not be moved to the city's fringe area to the west will be taken to Washington by a delegation, it was indicated.

Make It Strong
Congressman Ruppe promised to give the delegation and the community his help with the Post Office Department but said there is no assurance that the Department site decision will be reversed.

Walter Lewke, manager, Escanaba Chamber of Commerce, opened the meeting and introduced Ruppe. Without waiting for the post office question, Ruppe advised the group that if it wants the site reconsidered it should prepare "a statement of reasons" in opposition to the proposed new site.

"Make the strongest presentation you can," he advised. Petitions supporting the need for a centrally-located postal facility, plus a delegation to Washington would help, he said.

Ruppe said that meanwhile he will make immediate inquiries of the Postal Department and "if the door is still ajar on the question I will let you know." He will also determine what if any federal funds are available for urban renewal and will advise the local Chamber of Commerce.

VFW District Officers Are Chosen At Meet

Harry F. Johnson of Menominee was elected commander and Eleanor DeSautel of Manistique was named Auxiliary president at the spring convention of the 14th District Post and Auxiliary, Veterans of Foreign Wars, held at Menominee May 3 and 4.

Officers from the Escanaba Post are: George Cholger, junior vice commander and poppy chairman; John Anzalone, adjutant; Ernest Briere, judge advocate and employment chairman; Wilfred Doucette, trustee and historian; C. C. Newell, assistant department chief of staff; Mark DeGrand, membership chairman; Lucille Cholger, secretary; and Jean Yanitsky, Betty Anzalone, Mary St. Jacques, and Pearl Dupont, flag bearers.

Registration of delegates and memorial services were held Saturday at the Riverside Cemetery veteran's plot followed by a social in the evening.

A school of instruction was held Sunday morning at the Menominee High School gym followed by a luncheon at Fr. Geynet Hall. Election of officers and business meetings were held in the afternoon.

Attending from Escanaba were Commander Hilding Skoglund, Ernest Briere, and Auxiliary President Lorraine Briere, Mr. and Mrs. George Cholger, Mr. and Mrs. John Anzalone, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Thibodeau, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Ducheny, Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Doucette, Mr. and Mrs. Henry LeVesque, Mark DeGrand, C. C. Newell and the Mesdames Jean Yanitsky, Pearl Dupont and Mary St. Jacques.

Mrs. Henry LeVesque was awarded the floral centerpiece.

Award Damages In Cedarville Boat Collision

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Compensatory damages totaling more than $2.4 million have been awarded by federal court to seven surviving crewmen and to relatives of dead crewmen of the S. S. Cedarville of Rogers City.

The award Wednesday by U.S. District Court at Cleveland came on the fourth anniversary of the ship's sinking in the Straits of Mackinac after a collision with the Norwegian freighter Topdalsfjord. Ten of the 32 Cedarville crewmen were killed.

Largest award by the court was $425,084 to Alice Lamp of Rogers City, widow of the limestone carrier's chief engineer.

The decision on compensatory awards was made by two commissioners appointed by U. S. District Judge James C. Connell.

U.S. Steel Corp., owner of the Cedarville, and Norwegian American Lines, owner of the Topdalsfjord, were given 13 days to reply to the court's order that they pay the damages.

Other relatives of dead crewmen awarded compensatory damages Wednesday were Mrs. Charles Cook, Petersburg, $194,491; Mrs. Arthur Fuhrman, Rogers City, $338,095; Mrs. Stanley Haske, Rogers City, $308,702; and Marion B. Jones, Rogers City, $149,414.

Surviving crewmen, all of Rogers City, who were awarded compensatory damages for injuries were Jerome F. Kierzek, $88,860; Stanley P. Mulka, $92,740; Raphael Przybyla, $196,288; Ronald G. Piechan, $82,160; Billy R. Holley, $251,976; and Michael J. Idalski, $89,420.

Servicemen And Families Aided By Red Cross

Ten servicemen and one civilian consulted the Delta Red Cross office but were not counted as cases in April, and in addition 26 servicemen were helped in various ways such as request for emergency leave, extension of leave, health and welfare reports on the serviceman or his family and family counseling. One serviceman also received financial assistance to the nearest military installation.

Last month 45 persons received first aid training. They were issued certificates from the Delta County office upon completion of their training. Thirty-nine pints of blood were used at St. Francis Hospital last month and 9 pints were replaced for Delta County patients to other hospitals.

Truman Celebrates His 85th Birthday

This is Harry S. Truman, 85 years old today.

Once he presided over the world's mightiest nation. Now his world is usually bounded by the short walks an arthritic old man can take from the century-old white frame home in Independence, Mo., where he has lived since he left Washington 18 years ago.

Once his every action made waves. Now, on the back stoop of history, he is watched mostly by Bess, the grade school sweetheart he married 50 years ago next month.

Once his words were flashed around the world. Now he gives no interviews, makes no speeches. What there is to be learned about him has to come from intimate friends.

Avid Reader
In the quiet of that big house at Truman Road and Delaware, separated from the world by his feebleness and a big iron fence, he is busy with the avocation of a lifetime, the pursuit of knowledge. He reads or is read to from four books at a time, skipping restlessly like a hungry diner from one tidbit to the next.

Five years ago, Truman's 80th birthday was celebrated with a round of parties in Kansas City, Washington and New York. He returned home exhausted and Mrs. Truman put her foot down. He began to appear less and less at public functions.

In 1967 he asked Henry Talge, an industrialist who had thrown huge birthday luncheons for him since 1953 to cut them out "because I need to conserve my energy."

Talge said "you can't do too much for this man" and continued to stage the luncheons with guests raising their glasses in salute to an empty chair. Ministers of six faiths were on the program for today's luncheon.

Was Early Riser
Age has altered many of the Truman hallmarks. Famed as an early-morning riser, Truman sleeps now until after 7 a.m.—late for him. Part of this, friends say, is because of the medications he takes for the arthritis in his right hip, for the intestinal ailments that sometimes plague him, for the dizziness he often suffers.

He used to say his brisk morning walks kept him fit and he hoped it would prevent arthritis from crippling him as it did his sister. But a few years ago, because of the dizzy spells, he had to abandon the walks.

He was never a big eater, and the lack of exercise shrunk his appetite further. His weight, friends say, is about 125 pounds—50 pounds under his presidential weight.

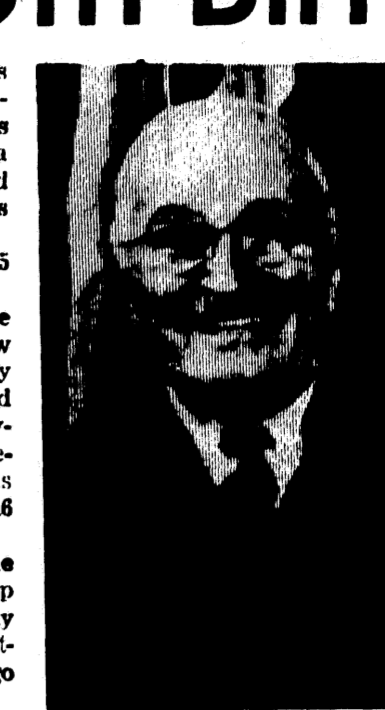

Takes Walks
During the winter he began walking again—first around the block, then several blocks—with his long-time bodyguard Mike Westwood. A close friend said he has not seen Truman look better in years than he does right now—after three weeks in the Florida sun. The walks are almost routine again, but not as far, as brisk or as early.

Three mornings a week he dictates letters to Rose Conway, his secretary from White House days. guests raising their glasses in salute to an empty chair. Ministers of six faiths were on the program for today's luncheon.

Age has altered many of the Truman hallmarks. Famed as an early-morning riser, Truman sleeps now until after 7 a.m.—late for him. Part of this, friends say, is because of the medications he takes for the arthritis in his right hip, for the intestinal ailments that sometimes plague him, for the dizziness he often suffers.

He used to say his brisk morning walks kept him fit and he hoped it would prevent arthritis from crippling him as it did his sister. But a few years ago, because of the dizzy spells, he had to abandon the walks.

He was never a big eater, and the lack of exercise shrunk his appetite further. His weight, friends say, is about 125 pounds—50 pounds under his presidential weight.

Community Pays Tribute To Retiring Jean Worth

BY DAVE ANDREWS

One of the most prestigious groups of people ever gathered in Escanaba Wednesday night gave a standing tribute to the retiring editor of the Escanaba Daily Press.

More than 550 persons jammed into the Terrace in a testimonial dinner for Jean Worth, who completed over 40 years in active newspaper work and 14 years as Daily Press editor Saturday.

Awards and tributes came from all walks of society throughout the Great Lakes states.

Speakers included Philip E. Ruppe of Houghton, U. S. Congressman; Frank Kelley of Lansing, state attorney general; Henry Harnischfeger of Milwaukee, president of Harnischfeger Corp.; Robert Arnold, Chillicothe, Ohio, vice president of Mead Corp.; Dr. Claude Bosworth of Marquette, vice president, student service, Northern Michigan University and John P. McGoff, East Lansing, president of Panax Corp. Michigan Gov. William G. Milliken also made a brief appearance at the dinner to offer his best wishes before flying to Manistique for a Republican dinner program.

"I'm overwhelmed, of course," Worth said in a broken voice. "This is unbelievable. I thank you all very much."

"Tremendous Force" Ruppe, who was introduced by W. H. (Waba) Treloar of Marquette, former publisher of the Escanaba Daily Press, the Marquette Mining Journal and the Iron Mountain News who served as toastmaster, praised Worth as "one of the tremendous, driving forces in the Upper Peninsula."

"He's been the editorial conscience of the U. P.," he added. "The greatness of Jean Worth is that he's developed the spirit of the Upper Peninsula."

Harnischfeger, who brought his corporation into Escanaba in 1948, said that while a person doesn't always agree with what Worth says and does "you respect him and that is the greatest tribute you can give."

Kelley called Worth a "great practitioner of his profession."

Arnold, who praised Worth's efforts over the years in interpreting the forest products industries in the Upper Peninsula, announced that Worth has been asked to serve as a consultant in communications and public relations for Mead Corp.

"He isn't finishing a career," Arnold said, "but instead is starting an exciting new one."

The honorary degree of "universal professor of education for the Upper Peninsula" was conferred on Worth by Dr. Bosworth.

McGoff said that Worth would begin a "new role" with Panax Corp., serving as a consultant and feature writer for the corporation's 14 Michigan newspapers.

Awards were presented by Lakes Superior State College, the U. S. Dept. of Commerce, Northern Hardwood and Pine Manufacturers Association, the Upper Peninsula Committee on Area Progress (UPCAP), American Timber Homes, Inc., and the Friends of Jean Worth Committee.

Dozens of telegrams and letters from well-wishers were received and a full color portrait of Worth taken by Lee's Studio of Escanaba was unveiled. A television video tape of the entire program was made by American Cablevision and will be presented to the Worth family.

Resolutions of commendation were received from the Michigan Legislature, the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce, the Upper Midwest Research and Development Council, the Escanaba City Council, Northern Michigan University, Michigan Technological University, the Escanaba Area public schools, the Department of Natural Resources and Operation Action U. P.

Faculty Position
Dr. Richard Rinehart, president of Bay de Noc Community College, announced that Harnischfeger Corp. and the woods industries of the area "have endowed a Jean Worth Chair in Communications" at the community college "as a community service to make it possible for Jean Worth to be able to continue to offer his services to the large community."

Frank Bourke, chairman of the Friends of Jean Worth

Committee which arranged the testimonial, said the event was a complete sellout and many last-minute requests couldn't be filled. The committee includes Claude Tobin, Harold Vanlerberghe, Howard Fontaine and Treloar.

A special section published by the Daily Press in tribute to its retiring editor was distributed to the crowd near the close of the program.

Treloar set the tone of the evening with his humorous commentary on Jean Worth's life and career.

Worth, who celebrated his 65th birthday Monday, started in the newspaper business in the 1920s with the Menominee Herald-Leader. He later worked for the Detroit Times before returning to Menominee, where he was named editor in 1943.

He came to the Daily Press as editor in April, 1955.

During his distinguished career, he has been honored by numerous organizations for journalistic excellence.

He plans to continue residence with his wife, the former Margaret St. Peter of Menominee, in Escanaba.

President On Long Weekend

KEY BISCAYNE (AP) — President Nixon is spending a long weekend at his bayside home, where aides said he was busy himself mainly with domestic problems.

The President was accompanied to Florida Wednesday night by Dr. Henry A. Kissinger, his special assistant for national security affairs. But press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler suggested that the foreign policy adviser simply came along to get some sun, too.

The only announced event of the weekend is a Saturday meeting of Nixon and some of his advisers on domestic policy.

Mrs. Nixon did not accompany her husband. She stayed behind on this Mother's Day weekend because daughter Tricia will be hosted at a masked ball at the White House Saturday night.

No major announcements were expected during the presidential stay.

their free world allies, then those attacks will be repulsed." Lodge said captured documents show more attacks are being planned. He cited one document which called for "greater victories at a faster tempo."

Rare Appearance
Seated in the conference room was Le Duc Tho, member of the North Vietnamese Politburo, who has just returned to Paris after three months of consultations in Hanoi and visits to Peking and Moscow. It was one of Tho's rare personal appearances inside the meeting room.

Lodge made no reference to private talks. Neither did the South Vietnamese representative, Nguyen Xuan Phong, who spoke next.

Lodge pointed out that Secretary of State William P. Rogers had stated that the only alternative to early progress in the peace talks is not an indefinite extension of the present U.S. role. He warned the North Vietnamese and the Viet Cong not to count on a unilateral U.S. troop withdrawal unless, as Rogers said, there was a reduction in the fighting and progress in the Paris talks.

Hanoi's Decision
"Whether peace comes more gradually or more rapidly to Vietnam is, thus, a decision for Hanoi," Lodge said.

Phong, speaking in the absence of Pham Dang Lam who is in Saigon for consultations, also dealt with the other side's charges that the United States is intensifying the war.

Friends may call at the Kell-Tondin Chapel in Spalding after 4 p. m. Friday. The parish Rosary will be recited at 8 p. m.

'End Of Beginning' Nixon Informs GOP

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon, presiding over $2.7 million worth of Republican rejoicing, has declared his administration is at "the end of the beginning" in dealing with war, crime and inflation.

"I think the American people will begin to see the results of that progress," he told a $1,000-a-plate GOP fund raising dinner Wednesday night.

Nixon said "naturally and understandably" some people have been critical of the pace of his administration during its first 100 days.

The President said he deliberately sought "not to make the kind of record that looks very good in the headlines tomorrow" but is found wanting in the history books.

"We want a record of solid achievement," he said.

He said it would have been easy to promise withdrawal of American forces from Vietnam

or an end to inflation but that kind of pledge could not immediately have been fulfilled. "We're never going to promise something we can't produce," he said.

Paraphrasing Winston Churchill, Nixon said that even after three months in office he cannot say the new administration is at the beginning of the end in dealing with national problems.

"But I can say that we have reached the point that it's the end of the beginning," he said.

He said he spent the first 100 days developing plans and programs to reach that point. And he told the Republicans who paid $1,000 to dine on filet mignon that a year from now "this administration will have made the progress that you wanted."

The dinner was billed as a salute to the President, and Rep. Gerald R. Ford of Michigan, the House Republican leader, said it was the biggest and most successful in history.

Republican officials said the dinner in a hotel ballroom was expected to produce between $2.5 and $2.6 million after expenses. The proceeds will be divided evenly among the Republican House campaign committee, Senate campaign committee and national committee after unpaid expenses of the Nixon transition period are covered.

Stocks Higher On Peace Hope

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market continued higher in fairly active trading early this afternoon, with brokers reporting renewed hopes of progress in the Vietnam peace talks giving it some of its buoyancy.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 3.17 at 962.77.

Gains led losses by better than 150 issues.

Brokers said the market apparently was stimulated by the news of the 10-point peace plan put forth at the Vietnam peace talks in Paris by the Viet Cong. The 10-point plan calls for establishment of a coalition government and leaving to the Vietnamese people the question of dealing with Vietnam armed forces.

They said this seemed to encourage investors and helped the market to offset the consolidation phase that set in Wednesday, after the market's recent sharp advance. The Dow slipped 2.46 Wednesday to post its first loss of the week.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 5.5 at 340.2, with industrials up 1.5, rails off 1, and utilities up 1.

Agency To Start Day Care Center In Escanaba

The Menominee - Delta - Schoolcraft Community Action Agency Executive Board has approved plans for a Day Care Center, it was announced by Edwin E. Wuehle, chairman.

Purpose of the Center, according to Wuehle, is to give mothers on ADC, who could be employed if they had someone to look after their preschool children, the opportunity to seek work.

The Center will be located in the Catherine Bonifas Civic Center and will provide a Head Start type program for children ages four and five years old from 7:30 a. m. to 5:30 p. m., Monday through Friday.

Director Ray LaPorte was authorized to apply to OEO for funds to get the Center started. The Michigan Department of Social Services will participate in the program by reimbursing the Community Action Agency at the rate of $4 per child per day when the program is in operation.

Jim Bruce, Head Start director, will direct the program.

Painesdale Draft Dodger Sentenced

KALAMAZOO (AP) — U.S. Dist. Judge W. Wallace Kent Wednesday sentenced Paul T. Chopp, 18, of Painesdale, to five years in federal prison for draft evasion. Chopp pleaded guilty April 18 to willfully failing to report for armed forces induction in Houghton last Aug. 6.

Budget OK'd For Head Start

The Menominee - Delta - Schoolcraft Community Action Agency Executive Board has approved a $164,558 budget submitted by Jim Bruce, Head Start director, for the 1969-70 Full Year Head Start Program.

In line with Nixon's administration policy, summer Head Start programs in 1970 will be de-emphasized and part of the funds will be allocated to full year programs. Submission of the program to the office of economic opportunity was approved by the Board.

CAA Director Ray LaPorte informed the Board that preliminary approval had been received from O.E.O. for $4,000 to assist the North Menominee Council Sheltered Work Shop committee to start a program for handicapped persons.

The Board also approved a request for O.E.O. for an additional $10,000, to be used in the tri-county dental program.

LaPorte notified the Board that $12,000 had been allocated to the Agency for Planning Development Grants. It was decided to explore the possibility of using these funds in a rural community development program, which would assist rural governmental units in using available resources to the best advantage and assisting officials in applying for funds for various public work projects.

Vocational education for secondary, post secondary and student drop outs was discussed at some length. The committee passed a resolution requesting UPACAP to conduct a feasibility study in the three county area to determine vocational education needs and develop coordination with the intermediate school districts to relieve existing deficiencies.

LaPorte advised the group that the Community Action Agency's offices would be moving to the Civic Center May 16.

Flood Waters Wash Out Town

JAMESTOWN, Colo. (AP) — Churning flood waters five feet deep rolled through parts of this isolated mountain town today after four days of snow and rain sent rivers and streams out of their banks.

The Boulder County sheriff's office said a new access road was being constructed to the town of 300 and an emergency party had reached the community despite washed-out roads and bridges. Among those stranded were two pregnant women, due to give birth shortly, the sheriff's office said.

Flood waters rolled down the main street Wednesday, carrying away eight houses and the town cafe. There were no major injuries reported. Crews late Wednesday night dynamited debris-clogged spillways in an attempt to relieve pressure on dams which were holding swollen reservoirs above the village. Officials feared the flooding would be worse if the debris broke loose under water pressure.

To the southwest, authorities searched for a youth feared drowned in Boulder Creek. A sheriff's deputy said witnesses spotted a youth on a rubber inner tube riding the swirling waters but failed to see him emerge on the other side of a bridge.

Colorado Senate Raps Protesters

DENVER (AP) — The Colorado State Senate, stung by demonstrators' brief seizure of its rostrum, reacted quickly with antiriot, antidisturbance legislation.

Using roundabout parliamentary maneuvering Wednesday, the Senate—just a few hours after the incident—approved measures providing fines of up to $500 and jail sentences of up to a year for conviction of trying to take over a public building.

The 14 young demonstrators—including three clergymen and a nun—elbowed their way through a side door of the Senate chamber, took over the rostrum and held it until carried out, limp, by police.

They were protesting the legislature's failure to act on 22 pieces of legislation dealing with farm labor, welfare, law enforcement, consumer protection and school aid for the underprivileged.

Some members of the group, all Mexican-American or Anglo-American, had participated in earlier marches and fasting in support of the same social legislation.

Gov. Mark Hogan recessed the Senate when the protesters headed for the platform. Most of the 33 members left the floor.

The demonstrators were booked on disturbances charges on complaints signed by Hogan and Sen. William L. Armstrong, the majority leader.

Dear Heloise:

As a wax manufacturer, may we suggest how housewives can do a bit of testing on their own floors when changing from one brand of wax to the next?

Any wax or finish should dry to a smooth, even surface with no ridges or markings.

When spreading liquid waxes, the liquid should not go beyond the path of the applicator and should not dry in spots nor shrink while drying.

After allowing one hour for a wax to dry, the wax or finish should be "back-free" to gloss paper laid upon the floor surface and should pull off with no sticking.

If water has no effect on the dry film of wax... it should be rated excellent.

Repeated applications of some types of wax on the floor might result in "BUILD-UP". This is called aging. If this happens, the wax must be entirely removed so as to prevent color change.

Hope this helps your homemakers.

Dear Heloise:

My baby's favorite toy is a plastic lemon juice container. When I have used up the juice, I remove the spout with a knife, rinse the container and let it dry. Then stick a few pieces of macaroni inside.

I smear some good dependable glue around the edge of the plug, reinsert it and baby has a nice new rattle.

It rolls, makes noise and is practically indestructible.

 Hilda

Dear Heloise:

My husband wears white, oxford cloth shirts and I always hated to discard one when the collar and cuffs wore out. Now I make shirts for myself out of his old ones.

I cut off part of the sleeves and then inserted elastic so they would make push-up sleeves.

Then I ripped off the collar, leaving the neck band which looked like a mandarin collar. I sewed extra-wide rickrack over all the stitched parts on the neck, shoulders, and down the front. Used a color to match the slacks I wear it with and it's darling.

My newest one is the best yet. I dyed one shirt olive green to match a pair of my capri pants. At the same time I dyed some narrow white lace so it would match, and sewed four rows down the front and edged the neck and sleeves with it. Now I have a good looking "sissy" shirt... perfect for evenings at home.

Of course they button the wrong way for girls... but who cares!

 Elizabeth Robinson

Dear Heloise:

To keep my girdle from scratching and sticking... I powder it with cornstarch before putting it on.

 Mary

Dear Heloise:

Most people think it's difficult to clean out pots after cooking oatmeal, mashed potatoes, eggs or cheese.

But it really isn't. Not if you soak the pots and casseroles in COLD water. Then all it takes is a swish with a nylon net dish cloth, and they are clean as can be with little effort.

Recreation Bonds

Report Out Two Different Plans

LANSING (AP) — The Senate Conservation Committee Wednesday reported out two bills advocating different formulas — one the choice of sportsmen, the other Gov. William Milliken's proposal — for dividing the $100 million in recreation bond funds.

The money-split question is "so controversial," the entire Senate should have a chance to debate the various methods, said Senator George Fitzgerald, D-Grosse Pointe Park.

Sen. Basil Brown, D-Detroit, maintained the Senate committee "shirked our responsibility" by not making its own choice of proposals.

The House Conservation Committee, meanwhile, was reported preparing a substitute bill that would offer a 70-30 split of funds, but could assure that urban areas got a greater chunk than had previously been proposed.

Urban Split
One bill reported from the Senate committee splits the funds on a 30-30-40 basis as Milliken proposed. The bill was sponsored by Sen. Coleman Young, D-Detroit, and Senate Majority Leader Emil Lockwood, R-St. Louis.

Some $30 million would go to counties on a per capita basis, another $30 million to counties over 100,000 population and the remaining $40 million to the State Department of Natural Resources for state projects.

Sen. L. Harvey Lodge, R-Waterford, supported the governor's proposal, saying he believed much of the bond issue money should go to areas surrounding urban centers.

"The people who are there in the long, hot summers—the kids on the streets have no place to go," he said. "They can't drive clear to the North Country."

Promised
The second bill, sponsored by Conservation Committee Chairman Gordon Rockwell, R-Mount Morris, divides the money on a 70-30 basis, with $70 million earmarked for state recreation projects and $30 million for local communities.

"This is the one we campaigned on when we tried to float the bond issue" before the November election, said Sen. Oscar Bouwsma, R-Muskegon, committee vice chairman. "It's what I promised the people," Bouwsma said.

Some legislators and many conservationists contend that former Gov. George Romney campaigned for successful passage of the bond issue with promises that the money would be divided 70-30 with a majority of it going to outstate areas.

Milliken proposed the 38-30-40 split after the bond issue passed and was showered with criticism from those who claimed he "broke faith with the people" who voted for the measure.

Boys Admit Stealing Boa
LA PUENTE, Calif. (AP) — The theft of a six-foot boa constrictor was reported to sheriff's officers—by an 18-year-old boy who said he did it for money.

The youth said his conscience bothered him after he and a 15-year-old companion had taken the snake, named Charlie, from its cage Sunday at Bassett High School. They sold it to a pet shop for $10.

Remorseful, the older boy went back Wednesday with the $10, returned Charlie to school and confessed. He got a stern lecture.

Canada Tells U.S. To Halt Pollution

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The more expenditures by the United States on pollution abatement is the key to saving Lake Erie.

Traced To U.S.
America discharges a very high percentage of the pollutants flowing daily in Lake Erie, Bruce said. In Lake Ontario, he added, more than half of the nutrients entering the lake from the Niagara River have been traced to American sources.

"I certainly think that abatement efforts on the U.S. side of the Great Lakes — particularly Lake Erie — have to be stepped up if the lakes aren't going to deteriorate to the point where they become expendable," said James P. Bruce, Great Lakes division chief of the Department of Energy, Mines and Resources.

He spoke at the Great Lakes Research Conference in Ann Arbor.

"Lake Erie is the key to the problem," Bruce said. "And more expenditures by the United States on pollution abatement is the key to saving Lake Erie."

resources which are taken for granted and concentrate on areas of water shortage," he added.

Canada recently stepped up its efforts to find ways to clean up Great Lakes water, he said, adding that they also have initiated a lake-wide monitoring program.

Research
He pointed out that U.S. research efforts could possibly be better coordinated. Many agencies are trying to develop ways to halt pollution, he said. "I have the impression that the policies are a little more fragmented here," he said.

Canada has begun construction of a $23 million research center to coordinate efforts of three agencies studying pollution problems, he said.

"We are putting a much larger percentage of our total resources in research into water pollution than the United States," he added.

Plans Submitted For $200,000 Hospital Project

A major building and remodeling project proposal for the Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital will be submitted to the Michigan Department of Public Health for evaluation, Administrator Carleton Hubbard said this week.

The $200,000 hospital project would involve a new lobby and front entrance, a new x-ray department, new business office area and an entirely new nursing service unit. The nursing service unit would include a remodeled central sterile supply, clean utility room and medication room.

Other plans call for an intercom system to allow each patient to speak directly to the nursing station plus new patient-room lighting.

G. Arntzen Architects of Escanaba worked on project plans, Hubbard said. As soon as approval from the Public Health Department is received bids on the work will be sought.

The project will probably take about six months to complete. Financing will come from the building reserve fund and loans and possible donations.

The hospital is also planning an Open House, in conjunction with the Medical Care Facility, during National Hospital Week, May 11-17.

On Tuesday, May 13, from 2 to 4 p. m. and Saturday, May 17, also from 2 to 4 p. m. hospital auxiliary members will conduct tours and serve coffee and cookies.

The 53-bed hospital employs 83 persons while the 40-bed medical care facility employs 37 employees.

The official Soviet news agency Tass reported today that the Soviet Council of Ministers submitted the treaty to the Presidium of the Supreme Soviet—parliament—for ratification. It said that the Presidium passed the treaty on to the foreign affairs commissions of the two houses of Parliament.

The final decision, Tass reported, will be made by the Supreme Soviet, which is expected to hold its next session in June. Parliamentary approval of government recommendations is usually a matter for course here.

The non-proliferation treaty is intended to prevent nations without nuclear weapons from acquiring them.

Educational Reform Critical: Milliken

Gov. William Milliken told a dinner gathering of more than 350 persons in Manistique Wednesday night that the most critical issue in Michigan today is how to provide a quality education for children throughout the state.

"Our educational system is in many ways inequitable and inadequate and in need of fundamental reform," he said. "In many districts of the state, children are not given benefits that are received by children in other districts."

The fund raising dinner was sponsored by the Schoolcraft County Republican Committee at the St. Francis parish center. Also speaking were Congressman Philip Ruppe and Rep. Charles Varnum.

To Head Commission

Gov. Milliken said he would head a governor's reform commission on education to help formulate a "blueprint for educational reform." The "blueprint" will be presented to a special session of the legislature in October, he reported.

The governor then asked the Republican gathering to support this "major effort."

"The political party," he declared, "that is able to bring about this reform is the political party that deserves and will gain the public support in the years to come."

Gov. Milliken reported he was leaving following the dinner to meet in Washington, D.C. with George Romney, secretary of Housing and Urban Development, and a group of governors and mayors of major cities. They will discuss the current need to find adequate housing for families in low and middle-income groups.

"Breakthrough"

"We can make a breakthrough in housing," the governor said, "if we take some of the mass production techniques of the auto industry and apply them to the construction industry."

The governor also spoke briefly on the student dissent on college and university campuses.

"There must be a sharp line of demarcation between legitimate dissent — free and open criticism — and violence and takeover of public buildings by force. This violence simply will not be tolerated in Michigan."

Rep. Varnum told the Manistique audience that both the Senate and House have passed a supplemental appropriations bill that includes $100,000 for the Manistique harbor improvement project.

"All the bill needs now is the governor's signature," said Varnum, looking at the governor who was seated in front of him. Gov. Milliken smiled and the audience laughed.

Praises Nixon

Ruppe opened the banquet with praise for the Nixon administration.

"I am proud to be a Republican," he said, "for the progress and very wonderful job that President Nixon has done in his first 100 days in office."

Ruppe also noted that 1970 will be a "year of tremendous crisis in Michigan politics." That is the year that Gov. Milliken will be running for his first full term as governor.

"This election will set the tone of Michigan politics for the decade of the 1970's," Ruppe stated.

The master of ceremonies for the dinner was John Moffat, chairman of the Schoolcraft County Republican Committee. Co-chairmen were Mrs. John Moffat and Mrs. George Wood.

Entertainment was provided by the "South Cedar St. Chamber Music Society" and Sister Colleen, who led the audience in singing.

Alumni Funds Sagging With College Disorders

By The Associated Press
Alumni contributions at some major colleges and universities have dropped in the wake of student demonstrations and unrest at a number of schools. Spokesmen at some schools hit by student disorders say fund drives are sagging although the fall-off has not yet hit a critical point. The effect is far from uniform however, as other schools plagued by student unrest report that at least as yet, alumni contributions are continuing at normal levels. Alumni contributions have decreased at the University of Wisconsin, Indiana, Colorado, Rutgers, Duke, Michigan State and the University of California at Berkeley.

Refusal
So far, the drop-off has not been felt at Harvard, Columbia, Yale, North Carolina or the University of Chicago.

Bob Shackleton, director of the Alumni Development Fund at Michigan State, said he has received many letters from alumni refusing to contribute.

He said many of the letters of refusal cited the fact that the national convention of Students for a Democratic Society, the group that has led many of the recent campus demonstrations, was held on the MSU campus last summer.

Shackleton said many alumni are also unhappy about MSU's new ability-to-pay, sliding-scale tuition plan and cited that as a reason for not contributing. In all, about 100 fewer people have contributed to the fund this year than last.

However, Shackleton said the letters of refusal do not necessarily indicate a fall-off in contributions caused by alumni unhappiness with events on the campus. "Many of these people were not contributors in the first place and may have been looking for an excuse," he said.

U-M Normal
At the University of Michigan, which has been relatively free from student disorders, alumni contributions are continuing at a normal pace. Robert Forman, director of the U-M Alumni Association said, "Our alumni fund is higher this year than it has ever been. In terms of contributions to the alumni fund, there is no indication that student activism has made any change in the amount of contributions."

But while Michigan schools have not been hit hard, the situation is not as hopeful at other colleges in the Midwest. Robert Rennebohm, executive director of the University of Wisconsin Foundation, said alumni gifts to the school, whose Madison campus has been wracked with a series of disorders, are down 1 per cent this year. The Wisconsin Alumni Association also reports a decline in membership from 39,000 to 37,000 in two years.

"Alumni quit because they feel this is a way they can strike back at the university for tolerating protests and unseemly behavior," said Arlie Mucks, director of the association.

Lion's Owner Wants Action On Sports Stadium

DETROIT (AP) — The owner of the Detroit Lions pro football team has complained about lack of action by Detroit to build a new sports stadium.

William Clay Ford said in a letter to State Sen. Sander Levin, D-Berkley, "It's time now for Detroit's business and political leaders to take some constructive action."

"As you know, a number of (stadium) sites have been proposed, including one by the Detroit riverfront," Ford said in the April 25 letter. "We are told that a stadium at that location will help revitalize Detroit, and this may be true. Still, no property has been acquired nor has anyone come forth with a plan for financing a stadium there."

"Meanwhile, cities smaller than Detroit have gone ahead, accomplished what we merely debate," Ford said.

Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh unveiled his proposal for a downtown stadium last Feb. 14. It would be located west of Cobo Hall at the Detroit River.

Detroit's Mayor Attacks ABM

PORT HURON (AP) — Detroit Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh has renewed his attacks on the proposed Safeguard antiballistic missile system (ABM), saying threats to U.S. security have "not come from external aggression but rather from internal discontent."

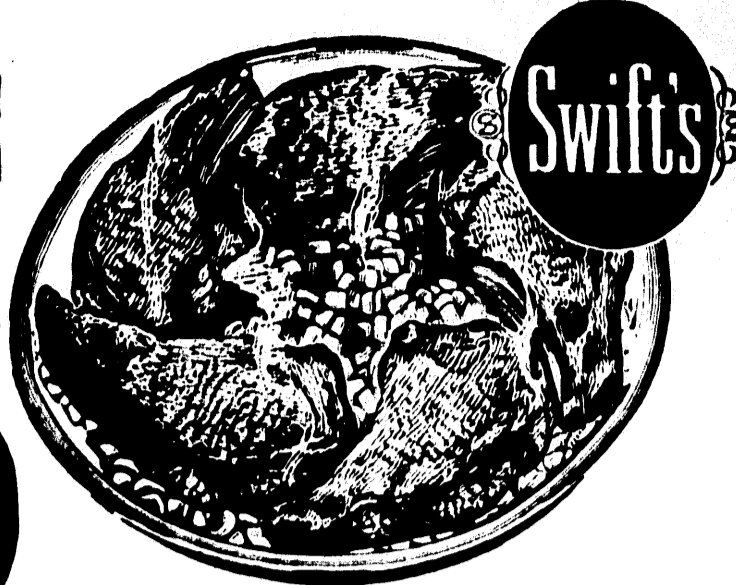

Calling Vietnam "America's example of the futility of arms," Cavanagh said Wednesday night that "even conflicts between one of the superpowers and a smaller nation can no longer be resolved by military force."

He spoke at the Harrington Hotel to a group of Port Huron-area citizens opposed to the antiballistic missile system.

"We cannot afford the $6.6 billion, or the latest estimate of $7.8 billion, for the Safeguard ABM as long as one person is unfed, unclothed or uneducated in this country or, indeed, on this planet," Cavanagh said.

System To List Tire Defects

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House commerce subcommittee plans to consider putting a tire-defect reporting system into the auto safety program, its chairman said Wednesday.

Rep. John E. Moss, D-Calif., said industry representatives would be given an opportunity to appear before his unit before any action is taken.

"I think a reporting system for tires is a very essential part of automobile safety," Moss said.

The chairman said it would not be difficult to do because every tire manufactured in this country has a serial number. It would amount to noting this number at the time of a sale and keeping the records, he said.

Moss said the proposal could be patterned after similar requirements for cars in which recalls are provided in the event of certain defects. There are no such requirements for tires now.

Bill To Provide Bond Coverage

LANSING (AP) — A bill to provide bond coverage for state employees and officers has been signed into law by Gov. William Milliken.

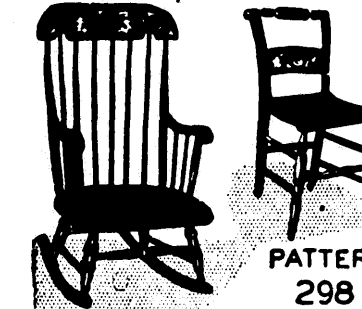

The measure permits broad bond coverage rather than the present individual coverage. It is expected to reduce the cost of such bonding.

Also signed by the governor was a bill providing that House of Representatives membership in the Legislative Council will be composed of the House majority leader and six other members selected by the speaker of the House.

The law previously called for the speaker to be a member of the council.

Javits Sure Of Hunger Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Republican senator who played an important role in reversing the Nixon administration on the politically loaded hunger issue says he is confident President Nixon will supply more money if needed.

The prediction was made by Sen. Jacob K. Javits, ranking GOP member of the special Senate hunger committee, after Chairman George S. McGovern, D-S.D., said Nixon's recommendations are "a step in the right direction, but it's a very limited step."

When it came his turn Wednesday to question secretaries Clifford M. Hardin of the Agriculture Department and Robert H. Finch of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, Javits said the committee and the administration agree on objectives of a hunger program.

"We've got to be sure the bridge isn't built a yard too short," Javits said.

Later, a reporter asked Javits if he thinks the President's bridge is too short.

"I think we have to see," he replied, adding: "I think the disposition of the President will be to supply the yard if we need it."

Cancel Insurance; Tree Fell On Car

WASHINGTON (AP) — Consider the case of Gerald D. Huey, who lost his automobile insurance after a tree fell on his car and a storekeeper accused him of drinking too much.

Huey had other problems: a pair of traffic tickets, one for speeding, and a mixup over a driver's license that expired while he was serving in the Marine Corps in Vietnam.

But Sen. Philip A. Hart D-Mich., said none of them warranted the insurance cancellation decreed by Royal Indemnity Co.

Hart's Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee heard the Huey story Wednesday.

"If you are typical of the people whose insurance is being cancelled," Hart told Huey and his wife, "small wonder that I get an awful lot of mail."

The Huey insurance was in the name of Mrs. Huey, an attractive, 24-year-old secretary. Before their marriage, Huey himself had sought coverage from the firm, and been rejected.

Royal Indemnity dispatched this explanation of the cancellation to the Huey household in Stafford County, Va., on Feb. 19: "The reason your insurance policy is being cancelled is because of unfavorable information we have received concerning personal habits within your household."

The information came from Thomas Taylor, a Retail Credit Bureau investigator in Fredericksburg, Va., who testified he filed a report relaying a merchant's assertion that Huey drank excessively.

The accident: a tree fell on Huey's car and caused $397.39 worth of damage. One traffic violation was for driving with an expired inspection sticker, the other for traveling 56 miles an hour in a 40-mile zone.

"You are not a man without a record," Hart told Huey. "It happens to be a very distinguished record."

A company spokesman was asked whether his firm would insure Huey if he applied now. "I don't know," he told the subcommittee. "I would have to think about it."

Eggs Survive 1,000-Foot Drop

HILLSBORO, Ore. (AP) — Twenty-seven eggs were dropped from a plane flying at 1,000 feet. Nine did not break.

The sky drop was an experiment by sixth graders at Portland's Boise Elementary School. The youngsters designed packages no bigger than a shoe box, which would deliver an egg safely to the ground.

For the flight, Shirley Harris, 12, wrapped her two eggs in a towel and stuffed the box with newspapers. The eggs survived.

Eskymo Harriers Take Triangular

IRON MOUNTAIN—Escanaba's Iron Mountain Harriers won the first of a three-game home stand against Minnesota. Dean Chance was the Twins probable. The Tigers were idling today.

The three schools will compete with Menominee, Kingsford and West Iron County in the annual conference meet this Saturday afternoon, also at the Iron Mountain Athletic Field.

The Eskymos only picked up five first places in the meet, but racked up enough seconds and thirds to score 56 1/2 points. Holy Name, whose competitors broke five school records, finished in second place with 50 points and Iron Mountain placed third with 41 1/2.

Big Bay Wins Six Team Meet

EBEN — The Big Bay de Noc Black Bears emerged victorious in a track meet held yesterday afternoon involving six teams.

Big Bay finished with 73 points to easily outdistance second place Eben, which had 55 1/2 points. Perkins placed third with 41 1/2 points followed by Rock with 22. Champion with 13 and Trenary with 12.

Paul McNutt of Perkins and Bill Hartman of Big Bay were the only double winners in yesterday's meet. McNutt captured top honors in both hurdle events and Hartman finished first in the pole vault and the 220-yard dash.

Big Bay scored seven first place finishes in the meet and Perkins had four.

The results:

The versatile Escanaba senior was stopped for the first time this season from winning four events, but he did manage to come up with three victories. Berg placed first in the long jump, high jump and the 120-yard high hurdles. Joe Lasnoski of Holy Name handed him his first defeat in the 180-yard low hurdles in yesterday's meet.

Jim Dubord of Holy Name was the only other entrant in yesterday's meet to win more than one event. The speedy Crusader finished first in both the 100 and 220-yard dashes.

The five school records eclipsed by Holy Name runners in yesterday's meet were set by Lasnoski in the low hurdles with a time of 20.8 seconds; Noel Gannon in the mile with a time of 4:50.3; Bob McGinn in the 880-yard dash with a time of 2:06.8 and the 880 relay team of Tom Ness, Dubord, Tom Creten and Lasnoski with a time of 1:35.3. Tiant, Bahnsen Suffering Through Miserable Season

By The Associated Press

The year 1968 was the Year of the Blank for major league pitchers but for Luis Tiant and Stan Bahnsen 1969 has started out in blanketed fashion.

The winless right-handers, among the top hurlers in the American League a year ago, were shelved again Wednesday night, leaving each with an 0-6 record and wondering where his next win is coming from.

Tiant, who won 21 games last season and led the league with a 1.60 earned run average, yielded six hits and as many runs—including two homers by Harmon Killebrew—as the Cleveland Indians were bombed by Minnesota 10-3.

Bahnsen, Rookie of the Year for New York and a 17-game winner, surrendered 10 hits and four runs in five innings as the Yankees lost to California 4-2.

In other games, the Chicago White Sox held off Baltimore 6-4, Boston edged Seattle 5-4, Oakland nipped Washington by the same score and Detroit whipped Kansas City 6-2.

Killebrew's two homers, his sixth and seventh of the season, paced an 11-hit Minnesota attack that saddled the Indians with their 19th loss in 23 games. Winning pitcher Jim Kaat, Tony Oliva and Ted Uhlaender each drove in two runs while Killebrew's blasts accounted for three. Jose Cardenal homered for Cleveland.

Tiant has now pitched 33 2-3 innings and allowed 46 hits and 31 earned runs for a 8.29 ERA. "I really don't know what is the matter," said Alvin Dark, manager of the Indians. "We know he isn't throwing as hard as he was last year, but we don't know why. He has had a little arm trouble, but it hasn't been that serious."

Jay Johnstone was Bahnsen's nemesis, driving in three runs with a double and scoring the fourth on Aurelio Rodriguez' single. Lou Johnson and Jim Fregosi started two-run uprisings in the third and fifth with singles, setting the stage for Johnstone.

Tom Murphy checked the Yankees on three hits until Bobby Murcer cracked a two-run homer in the eighth. Hoyt Wilhelm finished up as the Yankees suffered their eighth loss in nine games.

Bahnsen shows 42 hits and 23 earned runs in 37 2-3 innings and a 5.50 earned run average.

The White Sox unloaded 11 hits, including an RBI single and two-run triple by Bill Melton and Carlos May's seventh homer, in beating the Orioles for the second consecutive night. Paul Blair connected for the losers.

George Thomas atoned for a costly double misplay by driving in the winning run with a bloop double in the seventh inning as Boston edged Seattle. It was the fifth win in a row for the Red Sox. Thomas committed two errors on the same play that led to two Seattle runs and helped stake the Pilots to a 3-0 lead in the first inning. Rico Petrocelli started Boston's comeback with his eighth homer.

Ted Kubiak raced home with the winning run on Del Unser's throwing error as Oakland rallied for two runs in the eighth inning and nipped Washington. Bert Campaneris singled in the tying run and Kubiak, who was on first, continued around when Unser threw the ball wildly past third. Sal Bando homered for the A's.

Bengals Stop Skid; Defeat Royals, 6-2

DETROIT (AP) — A telegram from the Tigers dressing room read: "We're keeping the faith—sock it to 'em Tigers."

The fans who sent that message were rewarded Wednesday night, as Detroit ended a four-game losing streak with a 6-2 win over the Kansas City Royals with Jim Price's two run homer and Mickey Stanley's solo blast leading the way.

"Maybe this will give us our confidence back," said third baseman Don Wert hopefully. Mickey Lolich pitched a masterful game into the eighth. To that point he scattered three singles and struck out seven. But he tired and Manager Mayo Smith walked to the mound and, despite many boos from the 9,000 fans, brought in Pat Dobson to relieve after the Royals rallied for two runs.

The win gave Detroit a 12-4 record and moved the Tigers to fourth in the East Division of the American League six games behind first place Baltimore.

Lolich didn't want to come out, but the move was successful as Dobson retired the last five men.

"You know pitchers," Smith added. "But the fellow's been away too. When you've been out in the Army for two weeks you don't do much throwing."

Lolich recently completed two weeks of duty in the Air National Guard.

"Lolich pitched a real good game against us," said Royals Manager Joe Gordon. "You have to figure you can't give up many runs to him. He's a good pitcher."

Kansas City was behind by the same 6-2 score Tuesday night but collected five runs in the ninth inning to win 7-6. Smith was asked if Wednesday night's 6-2 score going into the late innings had him worried.

"You think I sit around thinking up superstitions," he smiled. "I never even thought about that."

Price's homer, his second in two games, bounced off the facing of the upper deck in left field after Jim Northrup doubled. Stanley's solo shot, his third, hit the upper deck in right and came in the fifth. Both homers were off starter and loser Jim Rooker, 0-1. It was the former Tiger's second major league start.

Kansas City's eighth-inning rally netted two runs when Ed Kirkpatrick was hit by a pitch, Jackie Hernandez singled and Jerry Adair singled them home.

Detroit scored twice in the seventh when left fielder Lou Piniella dropped Al Kaline's fly at the wall for an error, scoring Wert and Dick Tracewski who both walked.

The Tigers first score came with an unearned run in the third on a single by Stanley, a throwing error by Rooker, and a single by Tracewski.

Earl Wilson (1-3), out since last Friday when he pulled a thigh muscle against Boston, is scheduled to pitch Friday in the first game of a three-game home stand against Minnesota. Dean Chance was the Twins probable. The Tigers were idling today.

Rumors Have Laker Coach With Pistons

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Free Press said today Bill van Breda Kolff, coach of the Los Angeles Lakers who is feuding with his star, Wilt Chamberlain, is being mentioned as a possible new coach for the Detroit Pistons of the National Basketball Association.

However, any changes depend on whether Paul Seymour decides to step down as Pistons coach. Seymour previously said he may ask for other duties with the Pistons so he can devote more time to his family and his business enterprises in Syracuse, N.Y.

Van Breda Kolff's name was being mentioned during Wednesday's NBA draft as a successor to Seymour.

The Laker coach was criticized by Chamberlain after Los Angeles lost the NBA title game to Boston Monday night.

The Free Press quoted an unidentified NBA veteran as saying he couldn't see "how Van Breda Kolff could remain with the Lakers. If it boils down to Chamberlain or the coach, you know who will stay."

Woman Picked In NBA Draft

UNION, Iowa (AP) — "I was shocked and surprised when they told me about it," but "I still think it's kind of cute," said Denise Long after becoming the first woman in history to be drafted by the National Basketball Association.

The San Francisco Warriors picked her in the 13th round of the NBA draft Wednesday, but league President Walter Kennedy said, "Not allowed."

Denise is a 5-foot-11 high school star from Union-Whitten High School and finished out her prep career this year with a total of 6,249 points in four seasons. She once scored 111 points in one game.

"We were serious," said Frank Mieuli, owner and president of the Warriors.

"We weren't trying to belittle the draft or the caliber of players available in the late rounds. We didn't intend to use her in NBA games. We wanted to use her in a league we have for preliminary games," he said.

"I think I could have played with them. I always practice by boys' rules. But, they're bigger than I am, and stronger, I guess," Denise said.

"I'd probably have trouble keeping my eyes off the boys. And maybe they would have trouble keeping their eyes off me," she said after admitting she "might have accepted the offer."

Tiger Tales
Second baseman Dick McAuliffe missed his second straight game with Detroit Wednesday night as the Tigers broke their four-game losing streak with a 6-2 win over Kansas City. McAuliffe has been laid up with strep throat and manager Mayo Smith said he didn't know if McAuliffe would be ready for Friday's game against Minnesota. A week ago McAuliffe was out of action for a while with a virus. "That might have lowered his resistance some," Smith said. Dick Tracewski filled in for Mac Wednesday and knocked in a run with a single in the third inning. He also walked and scored in the seventh.

Atomic Power Plants Can Warm Beaches

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Bathing who complain that the Great Lakes are too cold could swim in warmer water in the future if nuclear power plants heat waters along popular summertime beaches.

The idea of using hot water discharged by nuclear generating stations to warm beach waters was proposed Tuesday by Roman H. Koenigs, U.S. Bureau of Outdoor Recreation regional director at Ann Arbor.

"You have to be a relatively hardy individual to swim in several lakes for extended periods—and I'm not just talking about Lake Superior," Koenigs told the Great Lakes Research Conference.

"It is possible that the warm water from atomic power plants could be utilized in improving the water temperature at some beaches," he added.

Opposed

Conservationists have opposed construction of atomic power plants along Lake Michigan because of possible harm to aquatic life.

"I don't think it would have much of an effect on aquatic life in the Great Lakes," Carr said.

"Many rivers flowing into the lakes in the spring are 15 degrees warmer than the lakes," Swimmers favor temperature in the high 70's, Carr said, adding that water temperatures along Lake Michigan beaches sometimes hit 80 degrees during extremely hot summers.

Temperatures of inshore waters will peak at 70 degrees in Lake Superior and between 70-75 degrees in Lake Ontario during prolonged heat waves, he added.

Wait Until July

"I think it's a good idea, especially along the North Shore of Lake Ontario," added J. P. Valentine of Winnipeg, Man. "I was raised along Lake Ontario, and you have to wait until July 1 to go swimming—and then you still freeze."

Valentine, a member of the Fish Research Board of Canada, discounted possible detrimental effects of higher water temperatures.

"All the heat does is take you down about five degrees latitude," he said.

He added, "Protected bays should be sought out and acquired for this purpose."

Six nuclear generating stations have been built or proposed for construction on Lake Michigan, Koenigs said.

Heat Loss

Atomic power plants use lake water for cooling purposes before returning it to the lake at higher temperatures ranging from 15 to 20 degrees Fahrenheit, said John F. Carr, a member of the U.S. Bureau of Commercial Fisheries at Ann Arbor.

In theory, waters could be warmed by discharging heated water along beaches, Koenigs suggested. He did not elaborate.

Carr doubted whether this method could be used to warm large masses of water.

"I don't think you're going to change the temperature over a large area," he said. "Most of the heat loss is to the atmosphere and not to the lake."

"All the bathers would be crowded into a pretty small area because the heat dissipates rapidly," he said.

Excommunicate Iowa Couple

WASHINGTON, Iowa (AP) — A series of church actions rare in modern times has culminated in the excommunication of Prof. and Mrs. Joseph Baker from the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A.

The action came at a meeting of the denomination's Southeast Iowa Presbytery here Tuesday. It means the Bakers may not hold church office or receive communion, although they may continue to attend church.

The Bakers were suspended indefinitely from the church Jan. 31, 1968. They were given one year to repent of "disrupting the peace and unity" of the First Presbyterian Church in Iowa City.

The charge was leveled at them after they led a fight to prevent demolition of the 113-year-old church building to make way for a new structure.

The Bakers told church officials they did not repent because they didn't believe they had done anything to be repentant about.

The presbytery disagreed, and Tuesday took the excommunication action which Baker, an English professor at the University of Iowa, says he will appeal to the church's Iowa Synod and to the General Assembly.

That is the same appeal cause he and his wife took—unsuccessfully—after their indefinite suspension.

Records Show Senior Citizens Better Drivers

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's senior citizens have a better driving record than any other age group in the state, reports Secretary of State James Hare.

Hare said women rate above men as safe drivers both in the older groups and all other age brackets.

The safety information was compiled as a check of more than one million driver records over a two-year period.

It showed that less than 10 per cent of the drivers 65 or older had been convicted of a motor law violation during that time.

"On the other hand," Hare said, "36 per cent of the drivers in the 20 to 25-year age bracket had been convicted at least once."

Declines After 30

The survey by the driver and vehicle services division showed the age group with the next highest percentage of convictions was the 25 to 30-year bracket with 30 per cent.

Court Upholds Obscenity Law

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A three-judge federal court, upholding the 1968 obscenity law, says anyone can stop obscene matter from being mailed to them.

"To require a commercial enterprise to strike a name from a mailing list seems little burden to impose," declared U.S. Dist. Court Judge Manuel Real and Martin H. Carr. A separate, concurring opinion was written by U.S. Circuit Court Judge Shirley M. Husstedler.

The special court ruled Wednesday on a suit brought by Daniel Rowen of the American Book Service and 14 others claiming the law violated rights of free speech and press.

The law states the recipient of obscene mail may notify the post office which, under threat of a court order, will instruct the sender to strike the party's name from the mailing list.

Whitmer New Commerce Head

LANSING (AP) — Richard Whitmer, a 29-year-old lawyer, reportedly was to be named today as director of the State Commerce Department at an annual salary of $25,000.

The Detroit Free Press and

Detroit News said Whitmer would be named by Gov. Milliken. Whitmer currently is legislative counsel to the governor.

The Commerce Department directorship was opened Tuesday when Herbert DeJonge resigned to accept a civil service appointment as deputy director of the State Department of Administration.

Whitmer, a 1965 graduate of the University of Michigan, served on the staffs of former Gov. George Romney and Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich. He left Griffin's staff in January to work with Milliken.

DeJonge's resignation was announced only hours after a Senate committee issued a report condemning the Commerce Department's handling of the State Liquor Control Commission. The report charged that the effect of absorption of the Liquor Commission into the Comptroller's office was "to hamper, delay and inconvenience liquor control operation."
